CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it ... the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Chamber Board Meets December 9

Clothing Being Donated To Group

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce will be held at headquarters on Court Street Wednesday evening, December 9th, at 7:45.

In response to the Chamber's call for donations of clothing, packages are beginning to come in. It is hoped that there will be some contributions of cash so Christmas baskets made be made up and distributed as was done last year for while there is not likely to be as much need for food in the county as last year, owing to much better crops, a certain Christmas spirit of cheer will undoubtedly be lacking if we are unable to supply some homes at that time.

The need for warm clothing is expected to be more acute than formerly. Childrens shoes in wearable condition are in great demand.

PLAN TREAT FOR KIDDIES DECEMBER 12

C. E. Noland Heads Committee

Conlyn E. Noland, chairman of the committee of the Chestertown Mercantile Section for the annual Christmas Treat which is sponsored by members of the Association and other business interests in Chestertown, reports all arrangements completed for the great day which is set for December 12th.

Santa has approved the schedule and will be on hand to distribute gifts and oranges to the children of Kent and Queen Anne Counties and states that he has a mighty fine collection of presents for the youngsters this year as he and his good wife, Mrs. Santa, have been extra busy all season in order to make up for the topsy turvey way the every-day world is running at present. On December 12 he expects to make all Kent and Queen Anne forget they ever heard the word "depression." Everything will be gay and lively and the program will extend throughout the day until farm chores call the county folk home.

The Treasure Hunt, which has been a feature for the past two years, will be more intriguing than ever and the prize-winners will have to sharpen their wits to the nth degree. A. S. Turner, Jr., is chairman of that part of the program and he will engulf the youngsters in an intricate chase for the hidden booty.

Mr. Noland announces also that the surprise feature which will be staged about the middle of the afternoon will be amusing for the grown-ups as well as the children. The local merchants are contributing liberally to make the day a great success.

At the same time the merchants are planning special Christmas displays and prices for the 12th. Fresh up-to-the-minute goods will be placed at the disposal of Christmas shoppers and after taking the children around to see just what they want in their stocking on Christmas morning, a place will be provided for mothers to deposit the children where they shall be carefully attended so the parents may do their shopping away from the sharp eyes and ears of the recipients of the gifts on Christmas morning.

While the annual Christmas Treat is of long standing here in Chestertown it is expected that the one this year will outshine all previous years both in the type of gifts distributed and in the novelty feature.

Invitations are being sent to all schools. The date was set for Saturday to make it a real Children's occasion and a gala day.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Myrtle Vansant and Hilda Perry are the proud owners of small bronze and blue typewriting pins. These pins are quite attractive, especially as they have a perfect miniature typewriter in their centers. Myrtle won hers as a result of typing forty-four correct words a minute and Hilda came in a close second with a record of forty-three words.

Tuesday afternoon five short bells announced a fire drill. Those on the bottom floor were quickly taken out of the building but to the students on the second floor, it was another thing to consider. It was necessary for them to use the tunnel fire-escape. And it was rather an amusing sight (to the spectators) to watch one pupil after another come flying through that huge opening.

The Senior girls were given an entertaining talk about Hood College by Miss Marjorie Stoughton, representative of Hood.

The orchestra practiced again Monday afternoon. A drum has been added to the other musical instruments. Robert Wright is the little boy who bangs.

The Silver Tea, the most important function that has happened in a long, long time, is to be given this Saturday afternoon. Invitations have been sent out to every parent. If by any unknown reason of delay you have not received an invitation, don't let that keep you away. Remember the purpose of this tea is for the various parents to become acquainted. Try not to miss it. You won't be sorry.
