KENT MUTUAL IN NEW HOME

PUBLIC LIBRARY OCCUPIES SECOND FLOOR

The Kent Mutual Life Insurance Company moved into their new quarters this week and now has one of the most handsomely equipped offices in Chestertown.

The new home is the site of the old building of the Chestertown Bank of Maryland which has been entirely rebuilt along the line of old Engish architecture. Mr. Walter Pippin was the building contractor and Mr. John Kline was the heating contractor.

Library Upstairs

The Chestertown Public Library has rented the front part of the second floor of the building and moved into the new quarters on Wednesday of this week. The back part of the second floor is the Kent Mutual Insurance Company's directors room.

(COMMUNICATED)

Dec. 10. 1931.

To The Transcript:

Recently a city dweller, who comes here summers, visited her summer place this fall and was horrified to find her lovely little holly tree had had several branches broken off. Bitter sweet berries had also been taken in spite of a fence around the place and a "No Trespassing," sign posted.

Do town people realize, that when they stop to pick winter bouquets or Christmas decorations, that it would be courtesy at least, to ask permission of the owners.

Farmers and others who own land in the country are generously inclined but they do not like to have their pet holly, Christmas rees or anything else t[illegible] their property on even th[illegible] joining the road without an "if you please."

What would a town citizen think if a country person came and picked their roses? Yet a holly tree takes years longer to grow than a rose bush and is more valuable.

MUSKRAT SEASON JANUARY 1

FIFTY PER CENT [illegible]ATCH PREDICTE[illegible]

Section 59 of Article 9 [illegible]blic Code of General Laws of Mary[illegible] provides t to be unlawful for any pe[illegible] to hunt any muskrat within the St[illegible] of Maryland, or have the meat or pelts in possession if trapped, caught or killed between the 15th day of March and the 1st day of January following in each and every year, both dates inclusive, whether same are trapped caught or killed within the State of Maryland or any other state territory or country; provided, however, that this shall not prohibit the possession of skins of such animals for business purpose when dried and cured.

We receive inquiries each season relative to the legality of shipments of muskrat pelts and meat to this market for sale from states which open the season for the taking of muskrats prior to January 1st. The Act which I have quoted above is very necessary for the protection of the muskrat in our own state and positively prohibits possession or sale of the meat in the State of Maryland during the closed period, namely: March 16th to December 31st, inclusive.

Due to the extreme drought which has prevailed throughout our State 1929 and 1930, we estimate that there will not be over 50 per cent. of the normal catch of these animals during the coming hunting season, January 1st to March 15th and it is very essential that we protect this great fur animal in every manner possible and we earnestly request the co-operation of the public in assisting us in the enforcement of the laws for their protection.

ASSAULT CASE REMOVED

TO BE TRIED DURING DECEMBER COURT SESSION AT ELKTON

ADES BRINGS HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS

The case of State vs. George Davis for criminal assault, set for trial at a special session of the Circuit Court for Kent County on Monday of this week proved to be merely legal formality as the defense attorneys, immediately after Court convened, asked for a removal of the case from Kent county which was granted by the court.

The Constitution of Maryand makes it mandatory for the court to grant a removal, when the accused makes application on the ground that he does not believe a fair trial possible.

Due to the illness of Judge Lewin W. Wickes, Judge Thomas J. Keating sat alone on the bench and set the case for trial during the December term of Court at Elkton which convenes next Monday. This change of venue assures the trial of the case within the next two weeks, and the exact date will be set when the docket is called on Monday.

It is generally the custom of this court in such cases to hold the trial privately so as to relieve the witnesses the embarrassment of testifying before a crowded court room. It is the belief that this case wil be so treated This would mean that if the defense asks for a Court trial the only persons present will be the court, attorneys, witnesses and the accused. If a jury trial is asked for the twelve jurymen will also be present.

The attorneys in the case will be Messrs. S. R. Colins and Senator S. Scott Beck for the State and R. H. Rogers and J. H. C. Legg for the defense.

Davis is still confined in the Baltimore city jail where he was taken shortly after he was captured in Wilmington.

ADES BRINGS HABEAS CORPUS PROCEEDINGS

Bernard Ades whose activity in the Yule Lee case in Worcester County has brought vigorous protest from the citizens from all parts of the Shore, has bought Habeas Copus proceedings in the Baltimore City Court and the hearing on these proceedings were held yesterday afternoon after going to press. Ades, up to the present time, has not been able to see Davis as the Warden of the Baltimore City jail is acting under the rejuest of States Attorney S. R. Collins that no one be allowed to see Davis except those who are legally involved in the case. State Attorney Colins with the assistance of the Attorney General's office and also defense attorneys Rogers and Legg were in Baltimore yesterday at the hearing as to whether Habeas Corpus proceedings would be ordered by the Court.

Ades, up the present time has no legal standing in the case but claims that he has received a letter from Davis asking him to act as the defense council. The letter which Ades claims to have received reads as follows:

"Will you please come to see me at once. I wrote you before but they didn't send the letter out. I want you to take my case please, sir. And come to see me as soon as you can. They gave me a state lawyer, and I don't want him."

It is understood that jail officials have no record of a letter which Ades received from Davis.

A letter was received by the Clerk of the Court, Robert A. Shallcoss from Ades on Thursday of this week entering his appearance in the case.

The penalty of the crime for which Davis is charged includes death, life imprisonment or from 3 to 20 years in the Maryland Penitentiary. Sheriff Vickers stated recently that he has a signed confession from Davis.

The Curbstone Diplomat

By
WILLIAM S. COLLINS,

Mr. H. L. Mencken that highly educated writer has turned his guns loose on the Eastern Shore again. As he has kept quiet on this subject for such a long while, it was hoped he had gotten still more highly educated, but álas, it was a mistake.

He is very unreasonable in calling the Shore editors "clowns," who use bad grammar. We cannot help being only clowns. There can be only one "Prince of Clowns" and we will, have to wait Mr. H. L's death for that office to be vacated. Give us a chance H. L.

Now this idea of calling our liquor rot-gut is going to make somebody mad. You ought to try some of it once. It might even surprise your cultured taste. Baltimore politicians think it lovely.

And our police are not competent. Well they are different from the Baltimore police. You are right. It is a fact. Our police do what they are supposed to and all they expect is a thank you. I see what you mean. Baltimore police want you to cover their palm for all favors rendered. Very competent in getting extra spending change.

You speak of flea-bitten Virginia. Did you go down there and have a flea bite you. Come over to the Eastern Shore and give us of your "Kultur", and we will let you try a mosquito.

H. L. was it not you that mentioned bringing the Maryland State Police Force down the Shore? Do that thing for us. We would like to see what more than one of them looks like. Don't come until after Spring, as we are very busy, calling on Delaware State Police to catch our criminals for us.

I think we should be more up-to-date and bring our murders and ravishes of women to Baltimore where they belong and turn them loose. You have such wise judges.

Mr. Mencken has had hard luck though. He has spent about half his life raving against marriage. Then he was caught by a lady and so all his work on the subject has gone to naught. As the lady caught him I expect to see Salisbury catch him before long. He will buy a house and make his home there.

Did you notice in Mr. Mencken's article that he was always careful to say "lower Eastern Shore." Well, it is just a rumor, but it is said, "that Mrs. Mencken is somehow connected with Talbot County."

DISGRACE

The attitude taken by the Baltimore Sun toward the Eastern Shore is nothing short of "Disgrace."

Nothing more can be expected of the other Baltimore papers as they are owned and dictated to by agencies outside the state. They are here to make money and merely act as a link in a large chain of papers.

The Sun however has been regarded as Maryland's own newspaper. A paper, that Marylanders have depended on to sound our praises forth throughout the nation.

Now, its news and editorial columns, have broadcast to the world, by insinuations that the Eastern Shore of Maryland, is without courts that can give a fair trial and the citizens are a lawless mob, unintelligent, and incapable of judging right from wrong without the aid of the Baltimore courts.

The Sun has upheld a lawyer which represents a doubtful organization and whose every move is to tear down the sacred traditions of the Eastern Shore. What does Mr. Ades care about justice? What he stands for was demonstrated in Baltimore this week by the Communists.

The Sun upheld this demonstration although it caused more disorder than the demonstration held in Chestertown last week. The one was for doing away with segregation laws and overthrow of the government, while the other was for the protection of American womanhood.

The Sun by its endorsement of every move that Ades had made and thus enraging the citizens of the Eastern Shore who yearned for justice, was directly responsible for what took place at Salisbury. This opinion has been given by almost every paper on the Eastern Shore and seems to be the opinion of most every one of its citizens.

The Sun will probably laugh at this statement when I say "They owe the Eastern Shore an apology." It might seem funny and yet it might not seem so funny should some of the business people of Baltimore wise up.

Governor Ritchie, about every radical group in the country and many misinformed preachers are calling on you to investigate the lynching at Salisbury. which is unnecessary, as it was merely the carrying out of justice.

How about an investigation of Mr. Ades and his organization. Mr. Ades I understand has money of his own to finance himself in these cases. Whether he uses his own or not is a question.

Who is financing these communistic organizations? Investigate their purpose and also the courts that are giving them consideration.

Another little investigation should be about the wholesale stealing that exists here on the Eastern Shore. The counties here elect sheriffs to keep order. This has been a very satisfactory plan, but now they have a situation in stealing they are unable to deal with. How about the State having a trained man investigate these cases. The State interferes with the trial of our criminals so we think we are entitled to assistance in the catching of them.

A police station at the Chesapeake City bridge would protect the only roadway that leads off the Eastern Shore. With this bridge guarded, the only other way, that trucks, loaded with loot, could escape, would be through Delaware. If Delaware would cooperate in guarding its three bridges thieves would be in a tough spot. To get loot off the Del-Mar-Va peninsula, thieves would be forced to use waterways which would be very inconvient.

George Davis, has cost Kent County so far, $60.00 for trips by Sheriff in locating and arresting, $69.00 for jurors salaries, which does not include their milage fee, $24.00 for baliffs. These expenses are all that were obtainable at this writing. Next week an effort will be made to get more of them and if possible the total cost of the affair will be published in this column. It is estimated by some who are in a position to judge, that the total cost will be several thousand. At present all that has been done is capture and indict the prisoner. The above expenses are trivial, taking into consideration the expenses in Delaware, Easton and Baltimore.

The Baltimore Federation of Labor, intends to investigate the wage scale in Salisbury. It would seem that they had their hands full in Baltimore. Plenty of people in Baltimore work the whole week for less than ten dollars. Ask me to prove this? Unemployment cannot ever keep this organization's business confined to Baltimore.

From the Morning Sun of December 10th.

"A resolution urging Governor Ritchie to 'suspend his campaign for President of the United States' and return to Maryland 'long enough to carry out his constitutional duty' was adopted by the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland at a meeting Wednesday at the Southern Hotel."

It is a wonder that this organization did not demand the immediate release of Lee and Davis. Trouble has been expected from this source, about our Eastern Shore cases.

It might be a good idea for this group to lay off because it might be bad politics for them over this way.

To The Baltimore Evening Sun

On Tuesday, December 2nd, you saw fit to publish part of an article that appeared in this column on November 28th. Thank you for thinking it worth while. I appreciate the fact that space is much more valuable in a city newspaper than it is in the little eight-page county weeklies, but in cutting down the article you changed somewhat, the sense of it. If you have space, how about copying the rest or all of it?

I betcha another roast from Mencken is coming in about a week. The Sun lined itself up for it last night.

DEPRESSION'S CURE

The following depression cure comes to us from Mr. Powell. ,president of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association:

My attention was called recently to a rather nomely incident, occurring when five little newsboys gathered at a newspaper office to purchase the daily supply of papers which they sold. Only one of the group had more money than was demanded for his quota. He received five cents change. Immediately a second boy reminded him that he owed him a nickel and he promptly paid the obligation. A third reminded the second of the same fact and again he promptly paid. Then a fourth reminded the third with the same result. In turn the fifth boy reminded the fourth that he owned him five cents, and was paid with the result that the prompt payment was made of these debts and five separate instances of indebtedness were cleared op.

If this practice were followed without exception in our business world how could depression exist?
