HOSPITAL DEFICIT INCREASING

FREE PATIENTS HANDICAP EASTON INSTITUTION

Emergency Hospital is feeling the much abused "depression." Its report for December, made to the Directors this week, show 28 pay patients, 29 part-pay patients and 58 absolutely free patients. This means 177 pay hospital days, 387 part pay days and 1346 free days. The receipts were $4,377.96, which was not enough by $6,000 to pay its bills.

Donatons for December were five turkeys from Mrs. Speer, potatoes from Mrs. Hawkins, gallon of honey from A. H. Johnson, of Centreville; gallon of oysters from A. B. Harris and turnips from R. C. Redman, of Centreville.

The Hospital authorities are deeply concerned about the income of the institution. The increasing number of free patents is such that a deficit cannot be avoided, and from present prospects it will gradually increase.

J. D. McVEAN ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

Mr. J. D. McVean, county agent for Kent county, was the principal, speaker at the regular meeting of the Chestertown Rotary Club on Monday evening of this week.

He pointed out that a more economic development of our present crops, the raising of which our farmers are experienced will probably bring about a solution of our present agricultural difficulties quicker than the introduction of a new crop that would have to compete with experineced growers from other sections.

He also pointed out what the Extension Service is doing and endeavoring to do.

At the next Monday night meeting a thrift meeting will be held and six members of the club will give short talks.

NAMED COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

FRED S. RUSSELL TO HEAD NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Mr. Fred S. Russell has been named national chairman of the publicity and attendance committee for the national convention of rural mail carriers to be held in Baltimore in August. Mr. Russell was in Washington this week at a conference between the various committee chairmen and the natonal board of control.

Mr. Russell was sent to California last August by the Baltimore Association of Commerce for the purpose of using his influence to bring the convention to Baltimore in which he succeeded.

ADVOCATES JURORS ASSOCIATION

Mr. J. Millard Tawes, Clerk of the Circuit Court for Somerset county, would form an organization to be known as the Somerset County Jurors' Association. The group would be composed of the forty-eight members of the jury drawn to serve at the April and September terms of the Court the members of the bar and the three judges of the First Judicial Circuit.

Mr. Tawes feels that the jurors drawn from every district in the county are frequently unacquainted with each other as well as with the Judges and lawyers and that it would do a great deal of good if they came to know each other right at the outset of each session. With this in view, Mr. Tawes would have a banquet for the organization on the first day of each court session.

The sponsor of the movement would like to have t completad when the April term of court convenes and has generously ofered to bear all expenses incident thereto. Recently Mr. Tawes inaugurated a plan where-by the clerks of the courts of the State plan to organize into a permanent association. Their first meeting is scheduled for next week in Baltimore.

NOW AND THEN

THE FAIREST THINGS

The fairest things are those that silent come;
You may not hear the first approach of morn,
And though you listen as the golden sunr
Of hours fade into dusk, no sound is born.
When the stars dance on high no bugles blow;
The footsteps of the flowers fall silently,
As softly come the blossoms of the snow;
And clouds float by in pale tranquility.
No voices herald moonlight on a lake;
The silvery dew is still; these gifts are given
As quietly as Christ, who for our sake
Was sent to us, the greatest gift of heaven.
Tenderly now, as in the yesterday,
He leads earth-weary children in His way.

By ELISABETH SCOLLARD.

Does Chestertown appreciate Washington College? Of course it does. But in spite of the fact that the colleges adds weight and importance to the town, the town itself has an individuality of its own. So when a friend, a devotee of the college said that it would not even be known were it not for the college, we wondered if such is the case. Chestertown possesses an armory, a country club, a Rotary Club, An Amercan Legion and an up to date Fire Company besides all the antique houses and memories of the past. So what the old town needs is some one to boost it and show what a really fine place it is.

Last year at the Commencement at the College we were introduced to the business manager of the New York Times, who did not have many feet of height to his credit but we were told that he should be measured from his chin up. We were all duly unpressed, and since then have been measuring men in the same way.. Certainly the little men achieve very often more than the tall ones. Do you not notice it? LaFollette is by far the shortest man in the Senate, yet there is no place in that great chamber whether in gallery, or the remotest corner, where his voice is not heard.

Headliners

"Adolf Hitler
Becomes no littler.
Shrinking! Nein,
That isn't his line.

Newton D. Baker
Declines to be
Any great acher
For the Presidency.

No bed of roses is Senator Moses's."

A small boy had watched a telephone repairman climb a pole, connect a test set, and try to obtain with the testboard. There was some trouble obtaining the connection. The youngster listened a few minutes, and rushed into the house exclaiming: "Mama, come out here quick. There is a man up a telephone pole talking to Heaven."

"What makes you think he is talking to Heaven?"

" 'Cause he holered 'Hello; hello; hello; good lord, what's the matter up there; can't any one hear?' "—Forbes Magazine.

A COMPLAINT

I am twenty-five cents.
I am not on speaking terms with the butcher;
I am too small to buy a quart of ice cream;
I am not large enough to purchase a box of candy;
I am too small to buy a ticket to a movie;
I am hardly fit for atop—but believe me,
When I go to church on Sunday I am considered some money!

The Washington bicentennial is in the minds of all the Citizen of the United States. We are reading again of the lives of the men who helped to form this great Republic, and seen, as it were, through the mist of years, none of their faults are seen, only their virtue and patriotism.

And when thinking of our heroes, the sweet women of colonial times come before us, lovely Martha Washington, wise and prudent, Abigail Adams and Dolly Madison. They flit before us in our minds eye, dressed in their old time dresses, engaged in the stately dance of the minuet or tending their gardens and ordering their household well.

Would it not be well for us of these tmes to study their ways, their thrift, and their charm, and order our ways accordingly.

This question was asked the other day. "If you, knowing yourself as you do were another person would you choose yourself as a boon companion?

WHEN THE PAPER DOESN'T COME

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right.
He finds a lot of fault, he does, persusin' t all night.
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read,
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.
He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out,
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout,
He says they make the paper for the women folks alone,
He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan;
He says of information it doesn't have a crumb—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through,
He doesn't miss an item or a want ad —this is true.
He says they don't know what we want, the durn newspaper guys.
I'm going to take a day sometime an' go an' put 'em wise;
Sometimes it seems as though they must be blind and deaf and dumb;
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

TO MOVE PANEL WORK

BALTIMORE MUSEUM TO GET GREATE ROOM PANELING NEXT WEEK

Mrs. Dr. Charles W. Whaland, who has been in charge of the Catlin house on the corner of Front and Cannon streets, announced this week that the sale of the panel work in the Greate Room has been completed and the purchasers, the Baltimore Museum of Art, will remove same during the month of February.

The purchasers will remove practically everything in the room except the brick fire place and the ceiling. The sale includes all panelwork which means the four walls and the front of the fire place, the floor, doors, windows, shutters and marbel work around the fire place.

While the panel work in other rooms in the front part of the house is similiar to the Greate Room, they do not include the carving over the fire place which experts say belong in a museum. The carving represents the peace treaty between William Penn and the Indians with beautiful carving down each side.

This room has attracted attention in all parts of the country and visitors from many states are continually asking permission to view it before it is removed.

This property, now owned by Mr. Harry Catlin, of New York, has been put n excellent condition and is a typical example of the beautiful architecture of the early period of this country. Historical records fail to reveal who built it but the general belief is that it was built about 1663 by the English Government as a home for the officials of the Custom House which stands nearby. It is also the belief that there was an underground passage between this house and the custom house.

The much talked of panel work which decorates every room except one in the front part of the house, the arched hallways, the beautiful mahogany double stairway and many other examples of architectual beauty show that whoever built it did not let expense interfer with the best that could be had in those times. The huge chimneys that furnish flues for the fireplaces that are found in every room and the large sunken kitchen with its tremendous open fireplace that still contains the tremendous cooking irons, pictures that which we read in history books and leaves one to imagine the gala days of that period.

This home is refered to in the early histories of Maryalnd as "The Abbey," but is better known to local residents as the old Pearce house.

The property was in recent years sold by the late Mrs. Minnie Ringgold to Mr. Catlin and when it was repaired by Mr. and Mrs. Catlin nothing was done to mar its colonial architecture. Double ceilings between the first and second floors make it sound proof. There are no nails in the house, all the woodwork being put together with wooden pegs.

There is a secret passage way in one of the large chimneys, separate from the chimney which contains brick steps enabling one to go from the cellar and first floor to the roof.

This house is a monument of the early history of Chestertown and although the panel work in the Greate room s to be removed there is plenty of beauty left to make it a show place.

The price paid for the panel work in the Greate room is reported to be $16,000.

LATE NEWS

The panneling in the Catlin House is being moved out this Friday afternoon. The work is being done by Baltimore workman

ACTIVE FIREMEN ELECT

B. R. BARTLEY RE-NAMED CAPTAIN

The annual election of officials of the active firemen of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company was held at the fire house on Friday evening of last week. The chief is elected at the annual meeting of the fire company, including, active and associate membrs, but the captain and lieutenants are eelcted by the active firemen.

Chief Herman Blackway, who was elected chief at the meeting on Monday night of last week, presided at the meeting Friday night and the following officers elected:

Captain—B. R. Bartley.
1st Lieutenant—R. H. Collins, Jr.
2nd Lieutenant Senior—Joseph W. Lewis.
2nd Lieutenant Junior— Howard Pennington.
Chief Engineer—George Pennington.
Secretary—J. H. Thompson.
Treasurer—Harvey Blyman.

Chief Blackway appointed J. H. Thompson at statistician.

All the men as stated above were re-elected, having served in the various capacities last year.

To Stage Play

The active firemen's organization will stage the muscal comedy, "Sixty Miles An Hour" on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 2nd and 3rd under the direction of the Ingram Producing Company. The proceeds from this show will go to the active men's fund.

ERICSSON BOAT KILLS GEESE

FOUR FLY INTO BOAT IN ELK RIVER

The John Cadwalader, of the Ericsson Line, while on its trip to Philadelphia Friday night of last week, ran up on a large flock of wild geese in the Elk river. As the geese got up, four of them flew into the boat and were killed, one goose crashed through the panel work of one of the state rooms and fell into the room. The other three were killed when they hit the pilot house.

On the farm of Mr. Carpenter in Cecil coutny on the Chestertown-Elkton road, thousands of wild geese have been feeding in the wheat fields and hundreds of bushels of corn have been placed in the fields for them to feed on.

One of the agents of the Biological survey estimated that there were ten thousand geese in the wheat field on ths farm one day this week.

Large flocks of wild geese have been feeding in the wheat felds in Kent county recently.

UNCLE SAM LOANED HIS BATTLESHIPS

AT THE NEW LYCEUM THEATRE

The United States Navy co-operated with RKO Pathe in the making of "Suicide Fleet," the spectacular naval picture whch shows at the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday, January 29 and 30.

Uncle Sam loaned vessels and personnel while the film unit was on sea location off the coast of Sam Diego. Battle scenes were filmed within a radius of from twenty to seventy miles at sea from that port.

Approximately $55,000,000 worth of equipment was used in the filming of this mammoth production. Sea action of the picture was photographed from the docks of ships, the cockpits of arplanes and diving bells beneath the surface of the ocean.

"Suicide Fleet," is a story of the Navy's part in the World War that reaches its climax in a sea battle in which three submarines, an entire division of six destroyers and a 1600 ton sailing vessel participate. The sailing ship, Bohemia, is sunk by shell fire from the submarines. In another batle sequence the clipper Indiana, sister ship to the Bohemia, is burned and dynamited.

The film was directed by Albert Rogell. Lew Lipton wrote the screen play, basing it upon a story by Commander Herbert A. Jones, U. S. N., F. McGrew Willis is credited with the dialogue.

Bill Boyd, Robert Armstrong, James Gleason, Ginger Rogers and Harry Bannister head the imposing cast which includes several thousand bluejackets.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made of the marriage on December 26th of Miss V. Louise Prettyman, daugher of A. Raymond Prettyman, of Galena, Md., to Mr. Randolph Langlois, mining engineer, of Colorado.

The wedding took place in Long Beach California, where the bride has been staying with her grandmother, Mrs. B. F. Merchant. They are now at home in Golden, Colorado.

MAY CHANGE REGATTA DATE

Efforts are being made by officials of the Chester Rver Yacht and Country Club to change the date of the annual regata from August 19th and 20th to July 29th and 30th.

The reason for considering the change of dates is due to adverse weather condtions that have interferred with the regattas during the latter part of August for the past two years. These new dates would schedule the local regatta two weeks before the regatta of the Miles River Yacht Club at St. Michaels.

ENTERTAINS AT BIRTHDAY PARTS

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Groves entertained at a birthday dinner on Sunday, January 17th, given in honor of their daughter, Elsie, and Mrs. Clarence Roe, sister of Mrs. Groves, the birthdays of the feted guests arriving on the same day.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roe, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Crew and daughter, of Betterton; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clifft, Mr. and Mrs. B. Clarence Roe, and Mrs. James Rice, of Sharon Hill, Pa.

A very enjoyable time was had by all."

MARYLAND FREE OF BEETLE

Maryland, Massachusetts and Virginia have been realesed by the Department of Agriculture from their classification of restricted areas under th Japanese beetle quarantine regulations.

Modifications in the regulations were announced by Secretary Hyde generally infested and lghtly infested generally infested and lghtly infested areas was discontinued.

The secretary said reports indicated that the released sections were aparently free from infestation and it was not believed that they again would be invaded.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

As a part of its naton-wide celebration of the twelfth anniversary of the Eighteenth Amendment, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has started the enrollment of at least 5,000,0000 Americans opposed to drink, the national union announces. Pledges are being distributed to the public through the 10,000 local W. C. T. U. organizatons.

The pledges read:

"I hereby declare my purpose to abstain from alcoholic liquor as a beverage."

The Kent County Union is planning a "Special Drive" for signers of this pledge next week.

C. OF C. LOSES DIRECTOR

With the passing of Harry C. Willis, of Fairlee, the Kent County Chamber of Commerce suffers the loss of one of its directors. Mr. Willis was unanimously elected a director for a term of two years at the annual meeting and election of the Chamber last February. He became a member of the organzation in April, 1929, and has always taken an active interest and part in the work of the body. Mr. Willis was particularly active in the campaign for better roads which resulted in Kent gaining 51 miles of slag in one year.

The directors and executive secretary of the Chamber attended the last rites in a body.

At the annual meeting to be held on January 28 a director will be elected to fill Mr. Willis's unexpired term.

The directorate and the entire membership of the Chamber mourn the loss of a very valuable member.

DISCUSS SASSAFRAS—WARWICK ROAD

The Commissioners of Kent county and the Commissioners of Cecil County apeared before the State Roads Commission in Baltimore on Wednesday of this week with reference to the connecting link in the Sassafras—Warwick road.

At the present time Kent county 16 ft. concrete road runs within 100 yards of the Cecil county border and on the Cecil side there is approximately 1 1-2 miles of road to be built.

The Kent County Commissioners are interented in the construction of a bridge across Kennedy Mill stream which they are endeavoring to get the State Roads Commission to build.

The connecting of the Sassafras—Warwick road will materially shorten the distance from all parts of Kent county to Warwick and all points north.

CONSIDERING SLAG BIDS

At the suggestion of Mr. Gilbert Taylor, the Commissioners of Kent County are considering asking for bids to furnish an estimated quantity of slag needed on the county roads during the year 1932.

The buying of slag in large quantities will probably bring about a much lower price than the present practice of buyng in small quautities.

SAYS YOU!

"He says that he is in close touch with the heads of many organizations."

"Yes, he's a barber."

HARRY C. WILLIS DEAD

Prominent Retired Farmer Dies In Wilmington Hospital

After a severe illness of four weeks death came on Saturday to claim Harry C. Willis at the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, where he had been removed December 26th for observation.

Born August 2, 1864 in Talbot county, the son of the late Thomas J. and Mary Chaplain Willis his early boyhood was spent near Oxford, Maryland. The family later moved to Kent where the deceased married in 1894 to Hallie A. Usilton, daughter of the late Lewin and Harriet Usilton.

They began farming near Fairlee and until four years ago he was actively engaed in this pursuit. It was this interest in the farmers' welfare that caused him to work so actively in behalf of good roads and he was proud that Kent County is an example of highway achievement.

Ever an ardent Democrat he served his party in the House of Delegates 1908-10, and later was appointed to the Bureau of Immigration.

He was a former member of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College and at the time of his death a trustee of the Almshouse, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Delmarva Association and the Farm Bureau. He was also actively interested in the Fairlee Canning Association.

A man of highest ideals and integrity, a public spirited citizen, a loving indulgent husband and father, a loyal friend and brother. Harry C. Willis has left a wonderful heritage of memories. No one ever called in vain upon him for help but he answered willingly, lavishly. He kept the faith. He loved his neighbor as himself and gave his life for others.

Besides his widow the deceased leaves the following children: Mrs. Norwood Voss, of Wilmington; Mrs. Herbert Morrison and Mrs. Standley Richardson, of Baltimore; Miss Janette Willis, of he U. S. Naval Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y., and a son, Chaplain Willis, of Fairlee.

Funeral services were held at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Usilton, of Fairlee, Tuesday, January 19th at 12 noon. Rev. Lee Marker assisted by Rev. John White conducted the services. C. L. Dodd had charge of funeral arrangements. Interment was in Chester cemetery. The following bearers officated. Messrs. Thomas Massey, Earle Nicholson, William Wilmer, Scott Beck, Philip Wilmer and Dr. Paul E. Titsworth.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET BALL

BOYS BASKETBALL TEAM

The Chestertown High School's boys basket ball team is having its troubles this year. At present it is without a coach and two of its main cogs are sitting on the side lines for the rest of the season because of marks.

Friday night they will try to get into the win column by downing Easton, their old rival, who is coached by two Washington College grads, marks Rayne and Thomas Fleming of the classes of '30, and '31 respectively. Last Tuesday the local quints dropped their opening game to Dover 38-13 in a very loosely played contest.

Against Easton the Chestertown boys will probably line up with Wright and Reinhart as forwards, Thornton at center and Kreeger and Harris at the guard positions. McMohan, the diminative sharpshoot of the team, will see action if he does start. Valliant, a promising first year man and Hopkins will very likely get into the game before the final whistle.

Easton will probably have a very good team. They lost to the College Freshman team 24-12 early in the season, but they should show a lot of improvement since their opening game. Which ever team wins this game will probably be well up in the shore championship later in the season.

Girls Basketball Team

Friday night the Chestertown High School Girls' basketball team, coached by Miss Katherine Gessford, will open its season against the Easton girls team, that is coached by a former Washington College and Chestertown High School star, Miss Edith Rees.

After several weeks try outs a team, that should be hard to stop, has been chosen. The forwards are Viola Ford and Emily Sutton. Mary Tucht is playing the top position and Deborah Brown is her team mate, at side center. The guards are Miriam Ford and Gertrude Leaverton. Two of these girls saw regular action last year and should make the nuclus of a well balanced team. The reserve material is very strong and several of these girls are of varsty calbre. The reserves are: Elizabeth Westcott and Anna Bland, forwards, Margaret and Katherine Anthony, guards, Priscila Granger at sde center, and M. Redmond at center. This team is managed by Carolyn Jewell.
