THE APPOINTMENT BY Senator S. Scot Beck, Chairman, of a committee from each election district of Kent county to work for the advancement of a Natonal Victory Campaign for the Democratic party is timely and progressive. The business depression through which we are passing has caused wide-spread dissatisfaction throughout the nation with the present national administration and has greatly encouraged the Democrats in the coming campaign this fall. The list of the committees will be found on page one of this paper.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The Natonal W. C. T. U. has made the following announcement:

"The Woman's Christian Temperance Union answered the membership boast of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform when it displayed to President Hoover on December 7 last, signatures of more than a million young men and women pledged to total abstinence and support of the Eighteenth amendment. The signers were of the high school and college age; most of them were older than sixteen years; and the work of enrollment was done by the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U.

"Emphasis is placed on the fact that it was an enrolment; the young men and women who signed "Youth's Roll Call" are not necessarily members of the W. C. T. U., but they constitute an army of young Americans with the same ideals as the women of the W. C. T. U.

"The so-called membership of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform is also an enrolment, with a figure somewhere near 340,000, less than a third of the number of prohibition supporters gathered by the young folks of the W. C. T. U., representing every State, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands.

"Membership in the W. C. T. U. a bona fide organization, is not a mere enrolment; it is actual membership. Dues are paid, requirements met and work is done. Members are not merely added up as signatures are obtained. If the W. C. T. U. utilized the same methods of counting as the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform the white ribboners could justly claim a great many. The W. C. T. U. has added a thousand actual members a week for four years past; and in 1931 established 787 new local unions."

"The American Medical Association has not asked either for a repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, nor the legalization of intoxicating beer," the National W. C. T. U. holds. In a statement on this subject it says:

"While opposed to the section of the Volstead act limiting prescriptions for whisky that may be issued by a doctor, the association has never changed its adverse attitude toward alcohol as expressed in resolutions in 1917, as follows:

" 'Whereas, we believe that the use of alcohol as a beverage is deterimental to the human economy, and

"Whereas, its use in therapeutics, as a tonic, as a stimulant or a food, has no scientific basis; therefore be it

'Resolved, that the use of alcohol as a therapeutic agent should be discouraged.'

"Ten years after the American Medical Association adopted these resolutions medical opinion seemed even stronger against alcohol as a medicine, and Dr. Arthur D. Bevan, of Chicago, then head of the association, addressing the annual Congress of the Council on Medical Education declared that 'ninety-nine prescriptions writen for a pint of whisky are bootleging prescriptions, and are a disgrace to the great medical profession.' "

C. OF C. ELECTS DIRECTOR

At the annual meeting of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening of this week, the following directors were elected:

H. M. Baker, Dr. H. B. Simmons, G. Ellsworth Leary, Wroth Stavely and Fred G Usilton.

Dr. Titsworth gave a very interesting report of the activities of the Chamber during the past year.

1931 HEALTH RECORD

REPORTED STATE DEATH AND BIRTH RECORD 1931

Half of the deaths in the counties of Maryland, last year, occurred in the two most widely separated age groups the youngest and the oldest. A report prepared by Dr. John Collinson, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health, shows that 21, 775 deaths were reported during the year, 10,272 in the counties and 11,503 in Baltimore City. There were 29,087 births, of which 14,670 occurred in the counties.

Of the 16,272 deaths in the counties, 1,867 were among babies under a year and 4,016 among adults of 65 years or over. Of the deaths among babies less than a month old. One-fifth of the total deaths at all ages occurred among persons from 25 to 44, and 357 from one to four years old. The smallest number in any age group was 272, the number in the group from 5 to 14 years old.

Of the total deaths in the State, diseases of the heart had leading place, with 4,151 deaths of which 1,931 occurred in the counties. Diseases of the kidneys with 2,302 deaths, of which 1,171 occurred in the counties, had second place. Pneumonia came next with 2,089 deaths of which 735 occurred in the counties; cancer had fourth place with 1,845 deaths, 758 in the counties; cerebral hemorrhage with 1,798 deaths, 925 in the counties, was fifth, and tuberculosis with 1,583 deaths, 799 in the counties, had sixth place. There were 482 deaths from automobile accidents in comparison with 445 in 1930. Of the 482, 258 occurred in the counties.

Over one-fourth of the deaths of babies in the counties, 341 out of 1,267 were due to digestive diseases. Pneumonia, bronchitis and other respiratory diseases, with 220 deaths had second place in the deaths among babies.

There were 66,551 cases of comcunicable diseases reported during the year in comparison with 32,321 in 1930, with 26,330 of the 1931 total occurring in the counties, the increase being largely due to measles and influenza. Of the former, 20,663 cases were reported in the State, 5,591 occurring in the counties. There were 9,326 cases of influenza, of which 4,629 were reported from the counties.

August, with 2,093 cases of sickness reported, with 849 occurring in the counties, was the most favorable month so far as sickness was concerned. January, with 9,544 cases of sickness reported from all parts of the State, had the least favorable record.

INTRODUCES RELIEF MEASURES

T. ALAN GOLDSBOROUGH WOULD STABILIZE PRICE LEVEL

Representative T. Alan Goldsborough (Dem., Md.), member of the Banking and Currency Committee, has introduced an emergency relief measure, which, he said, if it should become law, would help resumpton of business and result in furnishing employment to millions.

Mr. Goldsborough said the purpose of his bill was explained in a letter addressed today to each member of the Federal Reserve Board, which would be required to administer the act should it become a law.

The letter follows:

"I am introducing today in the House of Representatives a bill 'to provide for increasing and stabliizing the price level of commodities and for other purposes,' a copy of which bill I am inclosing herewith.

"As you will see, the general purpose of the bill is to raise the price level and then to stabilize it.

Seen As Aid To Board

"I am profoundly convinced of the necessity of a rise in the price level before the debts of the country can be liquidated, and business resumed in a normal manner; I also very much hope that a legislative direction to the Federal Reserve Board to use all its powers to raise the price level would be of real assistance to the board in resisting deflationary influences.

"Section 2 of the bill undertakes to correct what would seem to be an unnecessary limitation in the matter of the collateral security required for the issuance of Federal Reserve notes.

"Section 3 of the bill, making all kinds of commercial paper eligible for purchase, discount of rediscount for the period of one year, will, it is hoped, be of assistance to the Federal Reserve System in carrying out the general purposes of the bill.

Offers Cooperation

"I am certain you will understand that I am introducing this proposed legislation in a spirit of earnest cooperation, with a full appreciation of the wisdom and patriotic endeavor of the Federal Reserve Board and the management of the Federal Reserv banks and with the earnest desire that by using this or some other bill as a basis for Congressional deliberation and with the advice and assistance of your great body, the Congress may be promptly enabled to pass legislation the operation of which (together with the operation of the Farm Land Bank measure, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation measure and other proposed legislation) will result in the speedy deliverence of the suffering millions of the republic from the greatest economic calamity in its history."

Mr. Goldsborough expressed the belief that the Banking and Currency Committee would consider his measure at an early date.

ROOSTS RAIDED IN MASSEY

Chicken thieves made a raid in Massey Saturday night and carried away 43 chickens after visiting three roosts.

The roosts of Mr. S. J. Johnson, former president of the Board of County Commissioners lost 25 of his 27 chickens. The two chickens that were left were roosting high in a tree and were too difficult to catch.

Miss Gertrude Newnam lost nine chickens and Mr. William Darrell lost nine.

The thieves cut wire fences in order to get to the chickens without being seen.
