NOW THAT Ex-Gov. Al Smith, of New York, has stated his position in Presidential Campaign the friends of Gov. Albert C. Ritchie think the Governor's chances to secure the nomination are greatly enbanced. Mr. Smith says in substance, he is not a candidate but if the convention sees fit to nominate him he will accept the nomination and make the run.

W. C. DEFEATS OLD RIVAL

NOSES OUT ST. JOHNS IN SECOND HALF OF A THRILLING CONTEST

Washington College basketball team, scored their second state victory, last Saturday night, when they took the team representing St. Johns College of Annapolis into camp, to the tune of 25-23.

From the opening whistle to the end of the first half, St. Johns held the upper hand. On the offensive they registered eleven points and on the defensive, they held Washington one lone point. Washington did not score a field goal in the first half.

Both teams were playing very well on the defense. Sanford who played guard for St. Johns, scored four field goals but they were all long shots. Corozza was the Washington man guarding Sanford. Near the end of the first half, Coach Kibler yanked both Giriatis and Corozza and substituted Johnson and Ward.

Washington time after time brought the ball down the floor, only to lose it before geting a shot at the basket. They were unable to get through the St. Johns defense for short shots and semed loath to try long shots.

When the final whistle blew for the first half, Washington came off the floor with the score 11 to 1 against them.

The fans as usual congregated in the Coache's office to talk the game over. Amid the smoke of cigarettes, cigar and pipe, the opinion was general that our boys did not stand a chance.

When the Washington team trotted on the floor the second half, they had instructions to shoot long shots and follow them up. Corozza and Giriatis were returned to the line-up.

From the tap-off at the beginning of the second half, Washington seemed to have taken on new life. They were showing the old fight and before long Capt. Robinson polled a long shot, the first field goal scored by Washington. Shortly afterwards Corozza scored with another long shot, St. Johns called time out. With play resumed, Fitzgerald made a foul, his one and only chance. Captain Robinson came through with another long one. Again Corozza followed him with another field goal. Then St. Johns made a foul, their first score of the second half. St. Johns called time out. Their lead had been cut down to two points, the score being St Johns 12, Washington 10.

With play resumed again St. Johns scored a goal by the sleeper method. They added to this by making a foul. Corozza retaliated with a foul and Sanford of St. Johns missed his one and only try from the foul line.

The game went on fast and furious The St. Johns team could not keep possession of the ball, fumbling and throwing it out of bounds on many occassions. Capt. Robinson tried a long one and missed but Huey followed the shot up and made a basket. Corozza added to the score with another foul. Huey made a pretty cut for the basket and had an easy shot but was fouled, being knocked to the floor. It was with a feeling of relief that Washington fans saw him get up unhurt. Huey scored the foul. Shortly after this St. Johns made another foul. Then Sanford, who had been playing a star game for St. Johns in the first half, making four field goals, scored his lone goal of the second half. Corozza then made his third basket of the game and shortly followed with number four; both of them being long shots. St. Johns had a chance to shoot a foul and the crowd booed and razzed the St. Johns player so much, that the referee was forced to call another foul. St. Johns made the foul.

The referee reminded the people that St. Johns was the guest invited to Chestertown and deserved to be treated as such. A small applause greeted his speech.

With play resumed Capt. Robinson put through another long one and put Washington into the lead 21 to 19. Huey followed shortly after with a short shot under the basket making the score Washington 23, St. Johns 19. At this point St. Johns called time out. Five minutes remained to play.

After the rest, St. Johns came back strong working the ball up the floor and scoring. Following that they made a goal, shot from the middle of the floor, tying the count 23 all. Coach Kibler then substituted Johnson for Giriatis. Corozza the star of the second half made his fifth goal which was the deciding one of the game.

There was still a little time left and St. Johns tried their best to use it to advantage. They got the ball at the top-off but Corozza recovered it and dribled fast down the floor but lost it to St. Johns. St. Johns worked it up the floor and had three good shots at the basket, all of which came close but none close enough. Washington got possession again but lost the ball to St. Johns without getting a shot. St. Johns was in possession of the ball when the game ended.

Washington had staged a great comeback and defeated their old rival of years ago This was St. Johns first state game and they had lost. For Washington it was their second victory in the state contest.

Capain Robinson scored the first basket for his team and started the rally that was to mean victory. In all he scored three baskets. His opponent Mac Cartee of St. Johns, usually a high scorer did not make a basket during the contest

Corozza played against Sanford. In the first half Corozza was all wet, allowing his opponent to score four baskets, without tallying himself. The second half however was a different story. He scored five baskets and held his opponent to one. Corozza it was that scored the winning basket.

Fitzgerald at center let his opponent get the best of him by making a basket, while he was unable to talley to from the court, but Fitz did some good hard fighting all during the contest, which helped Washington toward victory.

Giriatis failed to score.

Huey played a good game, being robbed of several opportunities to score by being fouled when he had chances right at the basket. He was fouled five times and made two of his foul shots and registering four points from the court.

Ronald Colman

—in—

"The Unholy Garden"

—with—

Fay Wray

Estelle Taylor

Strange indeed was the spell of the "Unholy Garden." Here from all over the world came adventurers who preyed on their fellow-men. And here too, flocked those glamorous beauties to prey on these adventurers. What a setting for Ronald Colman's new picture, and what a story—different, bristling with action—by the authors of "Front Page."

Added: Comedy, Sportlight, Cartoon.

WEDNESDAY - THURSDAY FEBRUARY 17 and 18

"Ladies Of The Big House"

—with—

Sylvia Sidney

Gene Raymond

Worldly wise at twenty—this girl has the beauty that lures men, she knows life in the raw, yet uses all her bitter lessons about men in a daring break to save the ONE MAN, her lover. "American Tragedy" revealed Sylvia Sidney as one of the year's biggest dramatic finds; in "Ladies Of The Big House" she tops her best performance as a girl whose emotional fire and spitfire courage beat a tragic turn of events.

Added: Hollywood Snapshot, Cartoon "Any Rags," Comedy "Easy To Get".

FRIDAY and SATURDAY FEBRUARY 19 and 20

ZANE GREY'S

"The Rainbow Trail"

—with—

George O'Brien

He'll ride into your heart—in this colorful thrill packed drama of men who fight hard—live hard and love hard. Great supporting cast includes Roscoe (Stutter) Ates, James Kirkwood, Minna Gombell. RAINBOW TRAIL gives you Romance, Comedy and thrilling drama of the Old West.

Added: Comedy "Gland Parade," Cartoon "Mother Goose Melodies," Souvenir Reel, Rudy Vallee and Band in "Musical Justice."

Sponsored by the U. S. Government

"Different from all other celebrations of its kind is the Bicentennial Celebration of the birth of George Washington. Sponsored by the United States Government and promoted by an especially appointed Commission of which the President is Chief, it will open on February 22, continue until Thanksgiving with particular local and national programs, taking advantage of all holidays, anniversaries, or other days which may be associated with the life of this great statesman.

"This is carrying a celebration to the people themselves and becomes in reality a crusade for better citizenship. It reveals Washington in the completeness and versalility of his talents. As the exponent of a well-lived life George Washington has no suprior in our history. Essentially a man of the out-of-doors, he maintained an active interest and participation in the social, religious and cultural life, as well as developing himself into a military genius and supreme statesman.

"Significant of his interest in field and stream is the Tree Planting Campaign which is a part of the Bicentennial. Local communities, through the co-operation of patriotic and fraternal societies, are planting rows of trees along the highway, or by-way, as a memoral to this great and good man.

"Churches are co-operating, for George Washington was an ardent devotee of religion. Every crisis found him turning to Divine Providence, not merely for help and guidance, but likewise in gratitude for benefits, blessings and protection. Exceptionally broadminded as to sectarian views, he attended church services wherever he happened to be.

"Through the agency of radio, schools and churches; fraternal, patriotic, educational and social clubs, the Bicentennial Commission hopes that every citizen of the United States will participate in the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Father of Our Country, and reveal in a new light the true value of the glorious legends about the character of such a man."
