DEPUTY SHERIFF HELD UP

REPORTS ASSAULTERS ROBBED HIM

THREW AUTO OVER BOARD

Deputy Sheriff Pinder, reported a hair raising experience Wednesday morning at 2 a. m. when he arrived at the jail soaking wet.

According to Pinder's report of the accident he was driving down the Morgnec road and as he approached the Morgan Creek bridge he saw two red lights. He stopped his car and got out to see what the trouble was; two men walked up to him, struck him in the face and robbed him of $37. They then ran the Pontiac coupe in which he was riding through the railing of the bridge into 12 ft. of water and threw him in after it. Not being able to swim he caught hold of a piling and climbed back up on the bridge and started to walk home when he came upon a couple parked along the road who brought him to Chestertown. He was bleeding about the mouth from the blow of his assailants.

When questioned as to the identity of his assailants he said he would not be able to identify them and he did not know who brought him to town.

The automobile was hoisted out of the water Wednesday morning by Eliason Motors and found to be not badly damaged. The car was insured and will be reconditioned under a theft policy.

NOW AND THEN

Ships Sail Back

From the Kansas City Times

When I was small I heard folks say
"Oh, maybe my ship will come in some day,"
And I dreamed of a ship of treasures free
That might sail over the ocean to me;
For my childish fancy—alas and alack,
We sail our own ships and they sail back,
They may travel time's sea for only a day,
Or may circle around by a long, strange way,
But they always return by some path or route
With a cargo for us—like we send out.
Ruth Y. Shaw.

Washington's Birthday was a gala day in Washington. Everywhere the flags were flying. The different embassies had their countries' flags wafted to the breeze. Old Glory was seen everywhere. The flag that Washington planned. Drake has graphically described it:

When Freedom from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the air;
She toer the azure robe from night,
And set the stars of glory there.
She mingled with its gorgeous dyes,
The milky baldrics of the skies,
And striped its pure celestial white
With streakings of the morning light.

Is your boy noisy and disorderly? Wait until he is alseep and think of him then.

A BOY AIN'T BAD
By Mary V. Young

When he bursts indoors,
And tears things up,
A boy ain't bad,
He's just a "pup."

When he goes outdoors,
With a noisy bolt,
A boy ain't bad,
He's just a "colt."

When he sasses back,
With words that bite,
A boy ain't bad,
He thinks he's "right."

But, when at night,
Ma tucks him in,
And sees his broad and loving grin,
Her mother-heart most bursts with joy!
Her boy ain't bad—he's just a boy!

MARATHON ROUTE DECIDED

26 MILE RACE FROM CAMBRIDGE TO SALISBURY

For the first time in the history of tryouts in the United States for the Olympic marathon team one trial will not be held in or within the vicinity of a large city.

This was made known last night when James T. Ireland, chairman of the long-distance and marathon committees of the South Atlantic Association, selected the route from Cambridge to Salisbury.

The distance between Cambridge and Salisbury, which is right through the heart of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, is 31 miles, according to figures furnished by the Automobile Club of Maryland. The marathon route is 26 miles 385 yards.

When it was made known that the race was to end at Salisbury, many of the Eastern Shore towns in that vicinity bid for the start but Cambridge was selected. It is estimated that there may be as many as 200 contestants in the race.

All routes on the Eastern Shore are first class for marathon tryouts. It is that part of Maryland known for its level and good highways.

In picking the Cambridge-Salisbury route, Ireland will bring together the largest population possible on the peninsula. Statistics compiled by the last census show that Salisbury had a population of 10,997, while the figures given for Cambridge was 8,544.

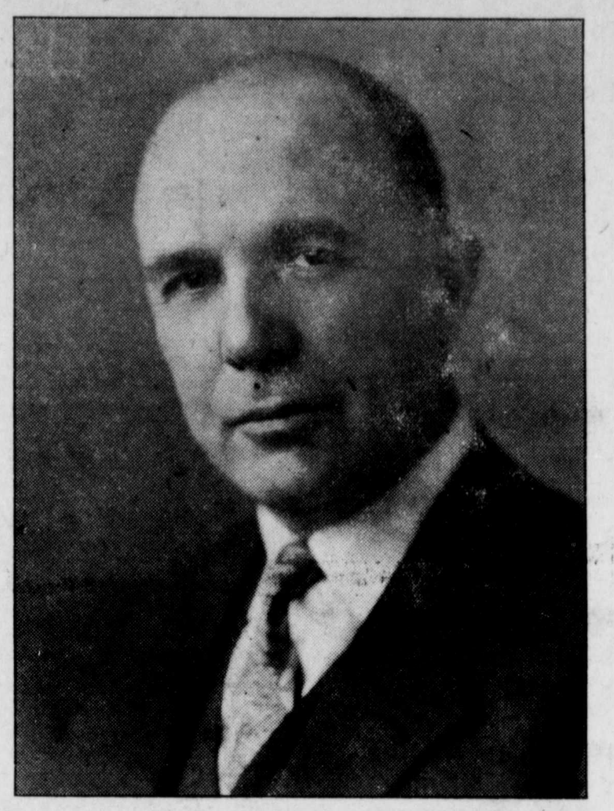

The Cambridge-Salisbury marathon will attract many of the chief officers of the Amateur Athletic Union, Governor Ritchie, who is a delegate-at-large of the South Atlantic Association; Governmental heads of Maryland and Baltimore, and possibly the Federal Government also may be represented.

This Eastern Shore tryout will not start at Cambridge, but between Cambridge and Linkwood, which is eight miles away. Then the route will take the runners through Salem, Vienna and Mardela Springs, which is eleven miles from Salisbury.

TO DISCUSS MOSQUITO MENACE

PLAN TO RED PENINSULA OF PESTS

With keen interest expressed by officials of the United States Department of Health and the State Health Departments in Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, in the plan of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association to take definite action toward extermination of the mosquitoes throughout the Peninsula, Mr. Stewart K. Powell, President of the Association, has fixed Monday, March 28th, as the date for a public meeting to consider action in this matter.

Because of the serious effect on business at various Del-Mar-Va resorts during the last season as well as the discomfort suffered by residents throughout the entire Peninsula due to the unusually large number of mosquitoes, conditions caused formal action to be taken with the Del-Mar-Va Association heading a movement to work out some plan where mosquite extermination may be brought about.

In placing the matter before National and State officials immediate assurance was received that they would give cooperation in every manner possible to a plan or a program to eliminate the mosquito pest. The various State Entomologists and other authorities interested in this work and acquainted with the procedure followed in other sections volunteered their aid and advice and based upon this Prseident Powell has arranged for a public meeting which will be held in Salisbury on the date mentioned.

In addition to having Government and State officials representing Del-Mar-Va interests, the Association anticipates the attendance of 1 or 2 nationally known authorities who have carried out work of this nature in other sections. It is probable that a definite plan of procedure will be adopted and that with cooperation from each of the counties and communities on the Peninsula every section will be included in the plan of relief.

WASHINGTON LOSES TO ST. JOHNS

GUARDING BY HUEY AND ROBINSON ONLY MERITED WORK SHOWN BY WASHINGTON

Washington College basket ball team suffered a bad defeat at the hands of St. Johns college of Annapolis, on Tuesday night of this week, the final score of the contest being 34-14.

This was a return game, St. Johns having lost to Washington earlier in the season 25-23. In this game St. Johns had Washington 11-1 at half time but Washington came back in the second half and nosed out St. Johns 25-23. At the time most fans agreed that St. Johns had a better team.

At Annapolis on Tuesday night, Washington was able to score first, when Johnson made a field goal. St. Johns however soon had the lead and was not menaced throughout the entire contest. Washington was unable to stage the fight that has been its success in the battles on the home floor lately.

Capt. Johnson and Huey, who are the custanding players on the Washington team, did good work in holding the two St. Johns forwards to one point, during the whole contest.

Even Johnson and Huey were unable to get but one field goal a piece.

St. Johns scoring was done mainly by long shots. On these the player had plenty of time to get set and make a very deliberate shot.

BUYS UP-RIVER FARM

Mr. William H. H. Hargest, of Freeland, Baltimore, County, Maryland, purchased of Mr. William G. Blackiston his riverside farm, on the Queen Anne's side of the upper Chester River containing 65.2 acres, improved with 5-room dwelling, outbuildings including a storage potato house and three acre orchard of apples. The shoreline is about half a mile, taking in some 12 acres of Muskrat marsh. The waters here afford excellent fishing, crabbing; these sea-foods are plentiful and easily caught—a leading feature that induced this gentleman to locate with us, as he had traveled the entire western shore and part of the Eastern. The deal was consummated by Mr. L. C. Treherne, bonded agent for Strout, at Chestertown, Maryland.

ARREST BOOTLEG GANG

41 MEN INDICTED IN EASTERN SHORE RING

Bonds totaling $12,500 were posted yesterday for the appearance of five out of forty-one men indicted by the Federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to smuggle liquor into the United States and to violate the prohibition laws. The liquor, it is charged, was smuggled on the Eastern Shore.

Those who gave bond were Hall N. Miles, $2,500; Paul Marshall, $2,500; Williard Elliott, $1,500; James D. Lee, $2,000, and Capt. Howard Gambrill, $4,000.

Miles, Marshall and Elliott were arrested early yesterday near Salisbury along with Alonzo L. Murrell, former Sheriff of Somerset county; Joe Segrist, Charles C. Hill and William Max Malchow. The last four went to jail in default of bond. All were brought to Baltimore by Weldon Ward, Deputy United States Marshal at Salisbury.

Lee and Gambrill, according to Milton H. Talkin, Assistant United States District Attorney, were arrested at Atlantic City. They gave bail there for their appearance in Baltimore when summoned.

Others named in the indictment were: George Gordon, Philadelphia; Robert Turpin, John Sutter, Jr., William Harris, Robert Elliott, John Elliott, Randolph C. Holland, Cecil Marschall, Arlen Marshall, Capt. Smith Hand, James Elliott, Gardner Harris, Ben Harris, Jack Walliper, William Ludinger, Harry Lewis, Ted Doe, Charlie Doe, Frant T. Stowmna, H. Bennett Stowman, Capt. Harry Sutton, Frank Hilton, John Roche, Will Doe, So Doe, Uncle Jerry Doe and "Uncle A" Hobb.

The names of four other men indicted were not revealed.

Frant T. Stowman and H. Bennett Stowman are said by Mr. Talkin to be proprietors of a marine railway at Port Norris, N. J.

The indictment charges that the conspiracy ran from September 1, 1930, to the date of the indictment, which was returned last Wednesday.

It also alleges that on December 21, 1930, James Elliott and Holland unloaded a cargo of liquor from the boat Violet at Miles wharf on Colburn's creek on the Eastern Shore; and that on January 5, 1931, Harris, Robert Elliott, John Elliott, Willard Elliott, Holland and the three Marshalls unloaded 1,000 bags of liquor from the boat Hammit L. Robbins at Malchow's wharf, on the Wicomico river.

The second count in the indictment charges all those named with transportation of 1,500 gallons of liquor.

BASE BALL LEAGUE ORGANIZED

CHESAPEAKE BAY LEAGUE PREPARES FOR SEASON

NO HIRED PLAYERS ALLOWED

Officials of the various clubs in the Chesapeake Bay League were called together Thursday evening by the league president, Mr. J. T. Kibler, for the purpose of discussing plans for the coming year.

Four of the clubs were represented, Rock Hall, Church Hall, Cecilton and Millington, there being no representation from Kennedyville and Galena.

During the season this year there will be no salary paid to any of the players. Each club is entiled to twenty players and there is no limit to the territory from which clubs may draw, the only restriction being that the players shall not be organized professional ball players.

Formal application for places in the league were made by Sudlersville and Barkley but no definite action was taken until it can be determined whether Kennedyville and Galena will play ball this year.

The officers for last year were re-elected as follows:

President, J. T. Kibler; Treasurer, Norman Wallen; Secretary, James Quinn.

Another meeting has been called for Thursday, March 10th, at which time schedules, etc., will be arranged.

FARM BUILDINGS BURN

FIRE DESTROYS OUTBUILDINGS ON HERBERT FORD FARM

Fire, which is reported to have started from a match thrown down after lighting a cigarette, destroyed the barn and cow stable on the farm of Mr. Herbert Ford, near Davis Hill, on Thursday afternoon of this week.

The loss also included the pound sheds, fodder, hay and cow peas, all of which was a complete loss. There was on live stock destroyed.

Repairs on the cow stable had recently been completed to provide for the large heard of cattle. Included in the loss was the stable equipment including cow staunchins, etc. Mr. Ford was away from home when the fire started and when he returned the buildings were down.

Two Fire Companies Called

The Millington Fire Company and the Chestertown Fire Company responded to the call, the former arriving on the scene first and succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading to a nearby corn crib and other outbuildings. Due to lack of a sufficient supply of water the firemen were unable o extinguish the burning hay which was dangerous for several hours after the buildings were down.

Partly Covered By Insurance

The destroyed buildings and hay were partly covered by insurance, there being $1800 on the cow and horse stable, about $100 on the hay and the other damage was covered by a small amount of insurance.

The insurance was carried by the Kent Mutual and Baltimore county Mutual Fire Insurance companies.
