WELLFARE GROUP INVESTIGATING

FIFTY NEEDY FAMILIES FOUND IN KENT

Believe it not, the Investigating Committee of the Welfare Association in Kent has found fifty needy families. Few people in Kent could believe that fifty of our families needed food.

Kent County Red Cross To Aid In Relief

The forty million bushels of wheat given to the American Red Cross by the United States Congress has been the subject of considerable study and planning, so that it might be made into four and distributed to the thirty six hundred chapters in the country. Plans are now formulated to care for the milling and transportation of the flour through the cooperation of the National Milling Association. The flour is to be distributed to families receiving relief through the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Mr. Howard Turner, County Chairman of the Red Cross announced today that all organizations now administering relief may notify him of the number of families being cared for at the present time. So far as it is possible the Red Cross will cooperate in supplying the needs for flour. No direct appeals from individuals not representing a relief organization or group will be recognized.

1000 GALLON STILL FOUND

WAS LOCATED ON A BRANCH OF THE SASSAFRAS RIVER

TRUCK AND A NEW CHEVROLET CAR CONFISCATED

A 1000 gallon still and 5000 gallons of mash, the two valued at $3,000.00 was seized by Sheriff John T. Vickers and his deputies Sunday morning on the Robert Cochran farm, on the Sassafras River, about 3 miles from Georgetown. Sheriff Vickers was guarding the cross roads at Galena on the lookout for the bank robbers who held up the Trapp bank in Talbot county, when a suspicious looking truck made its appearance; the truck was overtaken and upon investigations was found to contain a quantity of liquor. The stopping of the truck lead to the discovery of the still and the arrest of Oscar Williams, 20, Baltimore, the driver of the auto truck; Maurice Sowers, 21, Buy Bowers, 22, and Alexander Maker, Negro, all of North East, Md.

The still was dynamited by I. R. Windsor, deputy prohibition officer for the Eastern Shore. The still had been installed there about a week before.

The liquor gotten from the truck—250 gallons— was confiscated, brought to the Kent county jail and later poured into the sewer at the jail and passing into Chester River. Had this been generally known at the time there would probably been a large "Gathering at the River." The truck carrying the liquor and a new Chevrolet Coup found at the still were confiscated and sent to Salisbury where they will be sold according to Federal regulations.

Sheriff John T. Vickers was assisted in the raid by his son, Bartus, and deputies Ellsworth Whaland, John N. Bennett, Jr., and E. Scott Thompson. State Policeman Wade Smith also took part in the raid.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, Joseph Clifton Everett, who passed away April 4th, 1930.

He bid no one a last farewell,
He said goodby to none,
Before we knew he had gone,
His heart had ceased to beat,
His cheery smiles and kindly ways
Are pleasure to recall;
He had a smile for everyone,
And died beloved by all.

Sweetly he rests while others sigh,
With grief and cares oppressed;
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear
He did his best to scatter cheer,
Day after day, year after year;
He knew the value of a smile;
Knew it always well worthwhile.

Thoughts of him come drifting back,
We cannot forget him,
We loved him too dearly;
For his memory to fade from us like
a dream,
Our lips do not speak when our heart mourns sincere
For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.

Sweet memories will linger forever;
Time cannot change them tis true,
Years that may come cannot sever
Our loving remembrance of him.
Some day we all hope to meet him,
Some day we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

Lovingly, Father, Mother, Sisters.

NOW AND THEN

Emily Dickinson lived and died unrecognized, but after her death there were found many of her poems worthy to be ranked among th classics. The following is an exquisite description of the day.

A DAY
Emily Dickinson

I'll tell you how the sun rose—
A ribbon at a time.
The steeples swam in amethyst,
The news like squirrels ran.

The hills untied their bonents,
The bobolinks begun,
Then I said softly to myself:
"That must have been the sun!"

But how he set I know not—
There seemed a purple stile
Which little yellow bys and girls
Were climbing all the while.

Till when they reached the other side,
A dominie in gray
Put gently up the evening bars,
And led the flock away.

Why is it that the Scotchman is ever the subjects of jokes. Is it because he never knows how to see one at-his expense?

Here is one of a minister who did not approve of mixed drinks.

No Non-Essentials.

Housewife (to visiting cleric)—Will ye hae a cup o' tea?

Clergyman—Nae tea.

Housewife—A cup o' coffee?

Clergyman—Nae coffee.

Housewife—Will you hae a glass o' milk?

Clergyman—Nae milk.

Housewife—Will you hae a whisky an' soda?

Clergyman—Nae soda!

Only yesterday a number of people were talking of the difficulty of sending books and magazines to hospitals mission stations and isolated places where they are welcomed with such eagerness. Just now a letter is being published from far off India; from a man cut off from all literary enjoyment It is written to the Delmarva Association. And we hear that postage is to be advanced. It is certainly a touching appeal. Can anyone find a way?

The Merry-Go-Round

The tax collector's outstretched hand
You from your coin will sever,
And it will hurt to beat the band—
The bill's as high as ever;
For cities, States, the nation, too,
Spent while the dough was flowing;
Now with the tide at ebb, they rue
The fact that bills are owing.
So "Mr. Citizen," they say,
"You'll have to grin and bear it;
Should you have money left, we may
Again ask you to share it."

Augustus W. Rogers.

Lost letters, how many they are! How many heart aches are caused by letters not being delivered and others with wrong addreses which never find their destination. The Dead Letter office is full of them. And then very often, letters are not mailed.

Said the wife to her husband accusingly,
"In looking through your pockets today,
I found a letter in a woman's hand."
He replied "I don't know what you say.
"No woman has written to me that I know,"
But his wife replied "Oh, Nay.
But it is the letter I gave to you
To mail for me yesterday.

DEATHS

John Allen, 85, died at the home of his niece, Miss Mollie Allen, Millington, Friday morning of apoplexy. Funeral services were held on Sunday at 2 p. m. from the home of his son, Jacob F. Allen, Chestertown, where the deceased had made his home for the past nine years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ira T. Leager, Baltimore, and two sons, Jacob and Woddie Allen, Chestertown; two brothers, Joseph and Jacob, one sister, Mrs. Mary Shahan and seven grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, pastor of the Christ M. P. Church, and the funeral arrangements were in charge of C. L. Dodd.

The bearers were: John W. Barnes, Clarence Wilson, Horace Reed, James Allen, Rufus Collins and Theodore Wood.

WHAT A HINT!

He: "I've never seen much dreamy eyes."

She: "You've never stayed so late before."

HOPE TO REDUCE TAX RATE

From the best information obtainable, it is believed there will be a reduction in the tax rate this year from that of 1931. The County Commissioners are making every effort possible to keep down the county expenses, and thus far they have done so, and by so doing, it is natural to suppose that a satisfactory rate can be made.

THE WOMANLESS WEDDING

TO BE GIVEN AT THE OLD LYCEUM THEATRE

A varied selection of musical numbers will be one of the outstanding features of "The Womanless Wedding," the play which is to be given at the Old Lyceum Theatre Monday and Tuesday evening, April 11 and 12, under the auspices of the M. E. Men's Brotherhood, presented by the Sympson-Levie Company of Jackson, Michigan, under the direction of Miss Ruth Montgomery.

A dozen or more of the guests at this wedding will entertain the audience with vocal solos—both serious and comic. Mr. J. H. Thompson, as the bride's grandfather, will give a touching rendition of "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Mr. Phil Sewell, as the bride's uncle from the country, will sing the rollicking "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet." Mr. Vernon Kirby, as the Fashion Plate, will sing a sparkling soprano number. Mr. Harry Poole, quaintly attired as Annie Laurie, will sing that well known Scotch ballad. Mr. Julian Coleman, as a dignified Madame Schumann Heink, will sing "I Love You Truly." Charles Harris will entertain us as Lawrence Tibbett.

These are only a few of the celebrities who will be seen and heard at this extraordinary production. If you have seen groups of men in a huddle here and there during the past few days, they are undoubtedly members of the cast discussing where they can find dresses and shoes to fit them. Several wives of Chestertown will find their wardrobes considerably depleted the latter part of this week while the men in this play doll up in evening gowns, silk hose, and slippers. Women's large sized shoes are very much in demand right now in Chestertown, for the majority of men in the play, taking female roles, must be appropriately shod, and it is no mean task to fit a size eight or nine in a dainty slipper. For a fashion display, "The Womanless Wedding" will be one of the outstanding social events of the season, and one which, in deference to your spring wardrobe, you cannot afford to miss.

NO SHORTAGE OF DUCKS

MARYLAND SPORTSMEN ADVOCATE NINETY-DAY SEASON FOR SHOOTING

A delegation of Maryland sportsmen appeared before a special senate committee Tuesday advocating a ninety-day shooting for the 1932-33 season. E. Lee LeCompt, game warden for Maryland, and others addressed the committee. Their statements in part follow:

Scarcity of ducks has been the cry since the time of King John of England, E. Lee LeCompte, Maryland State game warden, told the special Senate committee on the conservation of wild life resources at a hearing today. About fifty Marylanders appeared to urge restoration of a three-month duckin gseason. Mr. LeCompte said there actually was no shortage of fowl.

Members of the delegation were presented to the committee by Senator Tydings (Dem., Md.), who opened the hearing. He informed the committee Maryland already had enacted legislation in the interest of conservation, and cited that the Susquehanna flats were one of the most important ducking areas in the United States. Shooting on these flats is limited to a certain number of days a week, he said.

Tells Of Conditions

Representative Goldsborough (Dem., Md.) testified as to conditions on the Eastern Shore last season, and also urged a return to the three-month open season. The season now is limited to thirty days.

Mr. LeCompte asserted there was no shortage of ducks on Maryland's principal breeding grounds during the last season, but that due to the unfavorable weather many ducks appeared after January 15, when the season had closed.

He said he had little faith in reports from Canadian breeding grounds that many wild ducks had died during the drought, and advanced the opinion the these ducks had left for other sections where there was water.

"We do not find the cry that went out was justified," he said.

He informed the committee that "Maryland has one of the most adequate laws in the United States" and aserted the State prohibits shooting from boats and the use of other illegal facilities.

B. Howell Griswold, of Baltimore, testified there were plenty of ducks last season. The Western Shore of Maryland did not have many early in the season, but there were plenty later, he said.

"I do not believe the gun kill is the important factor in conservation," said Mr. Griswold, "and there has been a tremendous exaggeration of the number of ducks killed. By shortening the season you concentrate the shooting.

"You will find that most of the reports of shortage in Canada come from one area."

Statements Indorsed

Albanus Philips, of Cambridge, indorsed the statements of the other witnesses.

Other speakers included Colbourn, of Havre de Grace, who said there had been in increase in ducks in the upper bay after the treaty with Canada.

He said he would be willing to have the Federal biological survey supervise the spending of the funds that would be allocated to the States from the shell tax returns.

Urges 90-Day Season

Mr. M. D. Hart, Virginia Game Commission executive secretary, said both taxes seemed meritorious to him.

He asked the commission to recommend a ninety-day duck and goose hunting season, with three consecutive rest days a week. The season last year was thirty days and there were no rest days. Hart said persons living in the tidewater duck-shooting areas had depended for years on a portion of their income coming from work as guides.

The longer season, with four shooting days a week would be of great benefit to them, he said.

3 NEW FEATURES ADDED

This paper has added three new and attractive features to its pages this week and will continue them for a year. On page 3 is "Dorothy Darnit," on page six is "Snoodles" and on page seven is "School Days." Look them over they will interest you.

The new heating plant donated to the Miracle House, Claiborne, arrived at the institution last week and arrangements wil lbe made to install the equipment in the near future.

The plant was donated to the Miracle House by William Schluderberg, of Baltimore, and will add much to the efficiency of the place which was originally built for a summer hotel.

The instituion is being operated for the purpose of restoring to health sick and undernourished children. It is under the direction of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

HOLD REGULAR MEETING THIS MONDAY NIGHT

New Traffic Light System To Be Installed

A new traffic light was purchased this week and will be installed at the intersection of Spring Ave and High St. near the Voshell House. This new light is a (Type E-4 way three color 1 L-R traffic control). The Amber in this light will show in the center, through the same lenses that the green and red show and is more up-to-date than the two we have at present.

Lights at High St. and Spring Ave., and High and Cross Sts., will flash together being under the same control. That is, they will both show reen and red at the same time in the same direction. At Queen and High Sts. the light will work independently of the other two. The control system of this light will be moved from the light to the pole.

Permit For New Tanks

A permit was given the firm of Strong & Cooper to erect two large gasoline storage tanks on the property next to the Farm Bureau. A restriction in this permit provides that the tanks be 100 feet from any building and that each tank have a fire wall. This fire wall is to be a walled in basin, to keep the gasoline from running over the ground in case of a leak, and is a great preventative against fire.

Main St. To Be Resurfaced

The council accepted a contract from the State Road Commission to resurface the macadem orad of High St. This will include the entire length of the street. The work will cost $400 and is the cheapest price that has ever been paid for this work. It is not known just when this work will be done. It has been several years since this road has been resurfaced and the repairing is very necessary.

Town To Pay For Marker

The Council at the reguest of Mr. Marion deK. Smith, voted to pay for the erection of a marker to commemorate George Washington visits to Chestertown. This marker will be erected in the lower public square. This will be marker No. 8 of the Kent County porgram. The wording to go on the marker will be arranged by Mr. Smith, Mr. Rogers and Clerk Thomas D. Bowers.

New Improvements To Be Made

A new sewer will be laid along Campus Ave., from the new home being erected by Mrs. M. A. Toulson, to connect with the sewer on Mt. Vernon Place.

A curb and gutter will be placed on the North side of Kent St., from High St. towards Philosphers Terrace.

A concrete apron will be made at Queen St. for a drive to Mr. Howard Strong's new home.

The Council voted to request the Water Board to place a six inch water main out High street extended. The present size main, the council thought was inadequate for fire protection.

The firm of A. S. Turner and Sons, asked for a permit to erect a filling station on their property on Maple Ave. opposite the filling station of Mr. Robinson. This matter was referred to the committee on Streets and Sewers.

There has geen suggested, that the town close the road in front of the Court house, between the small square and the court house and make a market space of it for hucksters. No action has been taken on this matter by the town authorities.

CHANGES IN JURY LIST

Mr. Charles H. Ashley in the 5th district has been excused and Mr. Walter L. Briers has been drawn in his place.

Mr. L. Bates Russell in the 4th district has been excused and Mr. Thomas D. Bowers has been drawn in his place.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co., are requested to meet in a body at the Methodist Protestant Church at 7.15 April 10, 1932.

MINISTERS APPOINTED FOR KENT

SEVERAL CHANGES IN KENT M. E. CHURCHES

The Rev. W. D. Short comes to Millington to replace Mr. Roland H. Nelson, who will take the Beckwith and Spedden, Md., charge, in the Dover District.

There is no change in the other M. E. Churches of the County.

The entire list issued at the conference in Salisbury will be found on page three of this issue.

"BROKEN LULLABY"

If a big and distinguished cast and a new plot idea mean anything—(and a still, small voice from Hollywood says they do) "Broken Lullaby" should provide excellent entertainment for the patrons of the New Lyceum Theatre during the run on Monday and Tuesday, April 11 and 12.

"Broken Lullaby," is based on the original French play by Maurice Rostand. It tells of the post-war events in the life of a former soldier in the war-time army. The principal roles are played by Lionel Barrymore, Nancy Carroll and Phillips Holmes.

Holmes is seen as the soldier of France—sensitive, romantic-minded, who, in the performance of his duty, kills a young German soldier during a big enemy drive. As soon as the deed is committed, he begins to suffer a profound remorse. From a letter on the person of his victim he learns the name of the dead soldier's German sweetheart, Nancy Carroll, and the name of the town in which she lives with the dead man's father, Lionel Barrymore, a stolid German nationalist who harbors a great hatred for all Frenchmen.

After this brief war-scene prologue the picture is occupied with the events in the lives of these three after peace has been declared. Holmes driven by a sense of remorse and contrition, goes to Nancy's home town, to confess to her and the father that he was the man who killed the youth she loved. She intercepts this errand when she meets him at the grave of the deceased lover, and persuades him to say nothing about the war to the stern father. Barrymore meets Holmes, likes him, and soon forgets his old animosity for the French. Holmes falls in love with Nancy, and they plan to get married. But the sensitive youth feels that it will be dishonorable to wed Nancy until he has told Barrymore the truth about his war-time deed. She tells him it will be best to say nothing about it. The remainder of the picture is concerned with the dramatic events which take place before the lovers smooth out their problems. The ending is a happy one.

Holmes' most recent picture was "An American Tragedy," in which he played the role of Clyde Griffiths. Barrymore was recently awarded the annual prize of the Academy of Motion Picture Sciences for his distinguished performance in "A Free Soul," Nancy Carroll was teamed with Holmes in "The Devil's Holiday," and "Stolen Heaven."

Others in the cast are Tully Marshall, ZaSu Pitts. Lucien Littlefield, Tom Douglas, Emma Dunn, and Frank Sheridan.

"Broken Lullaby" was directed by Ernst Lubitsch, German genius who made "Passion," "Rosita," "The cesses.

MUSICAL CONCERT

A joint concert will be given by three organizations in the William Smith Hall, Washington College, Chestertown, on Thursday, May 19th. The Girls Glee Club will give a scene of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, Mikado, in costume together with several choral numbers. The Boys Glee Club will contribute several groups of songs. The orchestra will be heard in overtures and also accompany the mixed chorus. A male and mixed quartet will be on the program and the soloists will be the winners of the vocal scholarships.

Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith is Director of the Girls Glee Club and Mixed Quartet while Mr. Raymond Moffett is the director of the Boys Glee Club and Male Quartet. Dr. F. G. Livingood is in charge of the orchestra. Miss Louise Russell is the accompanist.
