"AFTER TOMORROW"

Fine Supporting Cast Also In Production

"After Tomorrow," Fox Film version of the John Golden and Hugh Stange Broadway stage success of the same name has its local engagement next Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19 at the New Lyceum Theatre.

Charles Farrell and Marian Nixon are to be seen in the leading roles of the picture, as the romantic young sweethearts whose marriage is constantly frustrated by the opposition of their sentimental and selfish mothers. Rather than to go against their parents' wishes, they seek emotional relief in a blind trust in the future, that "After Tomorrow," life promises to be bright.

Minna Gombell, as the mother of Miss Nixon is said to give the greatest performance of her screen career, in a characterization that calls fir her to deny love for her own daughter, a performance which even surpasses her unforgetable 'Edna' in "Bad Girl." This conflict arises from the fact that she is married to a weak and ineffectual husband, played by William Collierf, Sr., who has never been able to supply her with the pretties demanded by her vanity.

As Farrell's mother, Josephine Hull brings to the film drama the same role she created on the New York stage. Her deft impersonation of the comical, yet sometimes pitiable little Ma Piper, is reported as lending much of the human appeal and mirthful qualities which "After Tomorrow" possesses. In the other important roles are William Pawley, Ferdinand Munier and Nora Lane.

Frank Borzage, twice winner of the Gold Medal award for the direction of the best picture of the year, and the man who made the recent success, "Bad Girl," directed the production.

Prics are coming down and look what is going to happen in Chestertown this month; a free grease for your car, two free dances and ice cream will be served free at one of the dances.

There are by far less people advertised for taxes in Kent this year, than there was a year ago. This is very different from the way it is in most counties of the state.

All of us were very proud of the fact that Kent County was given honorable mention in the health rating. A very good advertisment for our county. The health officers have been and still are to be congratulated. Also the members of the Kent County Health Association are to be congratulated for the work they do in raising funds and for the loyal support they give the officials. Members of the health association do a lot free work for the benefit of the community.

A Horse Show is being staged on May 25th for the benefit of the Health Association. Entries for this show are coming from Delaware and Virginia. The people who are coming are the type that we wish to get interested in our county. It is our duty as citizens of the county to make the show a success. The Health Association needs the money and we want to make a good impression. If you have a horse, attend the show.

The old saying is "Health is better than riches." Is there anybody around here who can vouch for that saying? We have the health but no riches to compare it with.

Somebody ought to get busy and arrange some sort of public entertainment for the night of the horse show.

And remember also a good afternoon of amusement is promised.

—Mr. Iven Rigbie has entered his horse Jimmie Duke in the Brandewine Hunt meet to be held on the estate of Mrs. Alfred I. duPont. Jimmie Duke will be entered in the 3 1-2 feet jump and the 1-2 mile flat race. Mr. Rigbie has rented the Hurlock farm near Cecilton.

NOW AND THEN

POST IMPRESSIONISM

BERT TAYLOR

I cannot tell you how I love
The canvasses of Mr. Dove
Which Saturday I went to see
In Mr. Thurber's gallery.

At first you fancy they are built
As patterns for a crazy quilt,
But soon you see that they express
An ambient similtaneousness.

This thing which you would almost bet
Portrays a Spanish omelette
Depicts instead with wondrous skill
A horse and cart upon a hill.

Now Mr. Dove has too much art
To show the horse or show the cart
Instead he paints the creak and strain
Get it? No pipe is half so plain.

The thing that would appear to show
A fancy vest scenario,
Is really quite another thing,
A flock of pigeons on the wing.

Its all as simple as can be
He paints the things you cannot see,
Just as composers please the ear
With "program" things you cannot hear.

Sometime ago a number of us went to an art gallery. Great blotches of brilliant colors greeted our eyes but what they represented was a mystery. "You will have to figure it out for yourself," said one, "that represents the virgin and child and Joseph," pointing to the picture in front of me. So I stood and figured. Finally I found what I thought to be a bright cloud was the virgin and the child but I never found Joseph at all. Sometime ago, an artist who had sent one such picture to a gallery, came to see how it lookd "Why," you have hung it upside down, he said to the attendant. "Well" replied the other, you did not put on the picture which was the top and how were we to know?

Look out Mr. Hoover! you do not know how many you will offend. To think of a three cent stamp that is not a bit larger than a two cent!

Shopper—Well, you can tell Herbert Hoover that he's lost one customer. I certainly can't see an extra cent's worth in those new stamps.

Clerk—I'm sorry, lady.

Shopper (leaving in a huff)—And what's more, I'll never patronize your old post office again.

Do get together and do something you Democrats. The Republicans who were shaking in their boots some time ago, are laughing in their sleeves at you

Al Smith Speaking

I do not like it, Franklin D.,
For you to have the White House bee;
Don't know why, but certainly
Do not like it, Franklin D.

HEALTH NOTES

TWINS IN EVERY 50 BIRTHS

Search of the records of births and deaths registered by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health—the official repository for such records—yields much "believe it or not" data. For instance, in every 50 live births in Maryland, last year, there was an average of one set of twins.

The total number of live births recorded in Maryland in 1931, was 28,705. This number includes 298 sets of twins—596 children or 2 per cent of the total. The ratio was the same for Baltimore City, and the counties; for both white and colored races. In Baltimore City, where the total number of births registered was 14,166, of which 11,012 were white and 3,154 colored, the birth of 106 sets of white twins—212 children and of 35 sets of colored twins, 70 children, was recorded. In the counties, where 14,539 births were registered, 11,463 white and 3,076 colored, the totals included 122 sets of white twins and 35 sets of colored. All of these figures include live-born twins only. The births in which but one of the children survived, are listed in the totals only.

The Maryland record corresponds closely to that for the country as a whole. The report of the U. S. Bureau of the Census, for births for 1928, the latest period for which complete records are available—gives a total of 2,233,149 births in what is known as the U. S. Birth Registration Area, and which included at that time, 44 states and the District of Columbia, and comprised 94.4 per cent of the total population.

In the 2,233,149 births, there were 23,863 sets of twins—47,726 children, or 2 per cent of the total. These figures, like those for Maryland, do not include the plural births in which one or both children died.

The figures published by the Bureau of the Census for 1928 and those for Maryland for last year, indicate that one set of living twins was born to each one hundred mothers.

A TRIBUTE FROM FRIENDS

The death angel visited Millington last week and called to rest its leading citizen, Mr. John P. Ahern.

A man of strong character and sound judgment, Mr. Ahern was vitally interested in everything that pertained to the betterment and uplift of the community.

He was always ready to respond generously to calls of need in his home town and elsewhere and many of his deeds of charity were hidden from the world.

He will be sorely missed by many friends for

"To whom he was a friend
He was a friend indeed."

As a devoted husband and indulgent father he was the founder in an unusually happy home which is sadly darkened by his passing.

W. C. 150TH COMMENCEMENT

TO BE HELD JUNE 5TH TO 11TH

GERMAN AMBASSADOR TO SPEAK

His Excellency, Baron Friedrich W. von Prittwitz und Graffon, the German Ambassador to the United States, will deliver the principal address at the 160th Commencement of Washington College, the morning of June 11.

The privilege of having the German Ambassador as the principal speaker on this occasion which also marks the 150th anniversary of the founding of Washington College and the Bi-Centennial of the birth of George Washington is particular appropriate in view of the prominent part that Germany and prominent German citizens took in the Revolutionary War and the period immediately following.

Frederick the Great, Emperer of Germany was the first Sovereign to recognize the United States as an independent country.

Baron von Steuben a German militarist took a very prominent part in the Revolutionary War, coming to America and volunteering his services to help train the raw American soldiers in the art of fighting. His services were a great help to General Washington during the winter of 1776 and 1777.

Another German, Carl Schurz, in later years aided materially in the establishing a stable. He was a Statesman an author Philanthropist and his knowledge was a large factor in the establishing of our civil service Reform.

The night before, June 10, the annual Commencement ball will take the form of a colonial dress affair with important 18th century figures, officially connected with the college, portrayed in costume. Friends and former students of the institution from all parts of Maryland and nearby States are expected to attend the ball as they are expected to witness the pageant to be staged on the campus the following afternoon as a part of the George Washington Bi-Centennial celebration.

President Hoover is considering an invitaton to deliver an address at Commencement.

George Steptoe Washington, a collateral descendent of General George Washington and a direct descendent of his two brothers, will come from Philadelphia to be a special guest of the college which will also celebrate its own Sesqui-Centennial. Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland is expected to be among the distinguished guests of the day and to address the graduating class.

A procession of floats portraying historic events will start in the town and proceed toward the college campus, opening the afternoon ceremonies, while markers and tablets setting aside historic spots will be unveiled. The annual June revels will embrace the presentation of five pageant episodes, written by high school students of Kent county and by a Washington College student. The visit of George Washington to the campus in 1784 will be depicted and all participants will be attired in appropriate costumes of the period. A version of the play, "Gustavus Vasa," which was presented by the senior class in honor of Washington's visit 148 years ago, will be included in the pageant.

Visitors, students and townspeople will be invited to wear the colorful costumes of the Maryland colonial period which will be commemorated. Meanwhile the Kent County Chamber of Commerce is organizing a celebration, to be held jointly with that of the college, in which county folk will dress in colonial costume.

Prior to the celebration thirty-two miles of Japanese cherry trees, believed to be the longest stretch of cherry trees in the United States, are being planted from Galena to Rock Hall, over the Kent county route taken by Washington on his trips from Annapolis to Philadelphia, by way of the Chesapeake bay. Markers have also been erected along the route and at the sites of five buildings, authentically known to have housed the distinguished traveler, tablets are being placed.

Arrangements are being made to entertain hundreds of visitors at the college and in the town over the Commencement week end.

The Commencement Program follows:

Sunday, June 5

11.00 a. m. Baccalaureate Sermon—William Smith Hall Dr. Paul E. Titsworth.

Friday, June 10

9.00 p. m. Commencement Ball—gymasium.

Saturday, June 11

10.30 a. m. Sesqui-Centennial Commencement Exercises.

Speakers:—

His Excellency, Friedrich W. von Prittwitz German Ambassador to the United States. His Excellency, Albert C. Ritchie, Governor of Maryland.

12.15 p. m. Informal Luncheon—Gymnasium.

1.00 p. m. Annual Alumni Meeting.

2.00 p. m. George Washington Bi-Centennial Celebration of Kent County and Washington College, will consist of historic floats, pageants and the marking of the several points in the county connected with George Washington's eight visits to Kent.

In order to carry out the spirit of the College Sesqui-Centennial and the George Washington Bi-Centennial and to give the occasion the picturesqueness and charm characteristic of the eighteenth century, Washington College will appreciate it if its guests find it pleasant and convenient to wear colonial costume at the ball Friday evening and at any or all of the program on Saturday.

GALENA DEFEATS C. H. S.

CHESTERTOWN'S FIRST DEFEAT —TO PLAY SHORE TEAMS

Tuesday afternoon at Galena, the Galena baseball team backed up Jewell Davis, their star hurler, and by giving him a eight to one lead in the first two frames, they set the Chestertown team down eight to four in their second meeting of the season. Galena was out of the running for the County Championship already, but they showed marked improvement over their early season form.

By scoring two runs in the first inning, Galena took the lead and they were never behind. Their runs in the first came from three singles that were well timed.

Chestertown scored in the first half of the second when Brice drove in a run with a fine triple.

With a barrage of five hits, two walks and a man hit by the Chestertown pitcher, Eddie Harris, the Galena term scored six runs to sew up the game. Vernon Seward, III, the mainstay of the local pitching staff, went on the mound for Chestertown in the third and held the opposition scoreless, striking out eight men.

In the sixth inning, Chestertown scored two runs on an error and two walks. The scored their fourth run in the seventh on Thornton's single.

Davis, the Galena moundsman, struck out ten Chestertown batters.

Chestertown will not start playing their out of county games and will probably meet the winner of the Cecil County Championship.
