BY A WOMAN

THE DESIRED CLUB WOMEN

Discussion of candidates for various political offices are the most arresting thing in women's clubs right at present.

The paramount problem before the nominating committees and the voting delegates concerns what qualifications make an ideal woman officer.

So important is this question in the minds of the women that some of the clubs, led by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, are devoting part of their program to the discussion of the ideal clubwoman. The women contend that if they are to be called upon to place women of their organizations as the banner bearers they must be first sure that they have the qualities of leadership which are engendered by their conduct as mere members or officers of the organizations they seek to head.

Recently the General Federation of Women's Clubs circulated among its membership ideas of the model clubwoman written by Belle M. Blair, of Weston, Va., as follows:

"She is always at each meeting.
No matter what the weather
Is always pleased with all that's done,
Without one why or whether.
She accepts the offices tendered her—
In a manner that's divine.
And if she'd rather not accept
She never makes a sign.
To serve on all committees
Is her joy and her delight,
And her part on these committees
She is never known to slight.
The subject that's assigned her
Is just the one she wants.
No matter what the subject is
It never her spirit daunts.
She's smiling and serene always
And always does her part.
To make each meeting a sucess—
She works with hand and heart.
To find this model woman,
We should search the whole world around,
And 'grapple her with hoops of steel'
As soon as she is found."

This is truly a year for centennials Just as we are busy celebrating the bi-centenial of the father of our country, some one has remembered that it is the birth of Lewis Carroll, author of that famous childs book, "Alice in Wonderland," and so what did our countrymen do but invite to this country? Mrs. Alice Hargreaves the one time little girl, who inspired Mr. Carrol to write the book of nonsense, in order to help us celebrate his centennial. So Mrs. Alice Hargrave arrived in New York so that she might spend her eightieth birthday, May 4 in America and is the guest of Columbia University that has conferred upon her a degree.

One of Mrs. Hargreaves's last acts in England prior to her impending departure for the United States was to break her rule of seventy years' standing and sign a volume of "Alice in Wonderland," which will be given to Princess Elizabeth. Presentation of this autographed book will be made through the Duchess of York, mother of Princess Elizabeth, who is deeply interested in the Lewis Carroll memorial scheme. As part of the ceremonies a special children's ward is to be named after Carroll in St. Mary's Hospital in London.

It has been seventy years since the Oxford Don wrote the book to amuse the ten year old girl gut it is still read by children with delight.

It is a far from the Alice of ten years who listened so eagerly to the first reading of a book that millions of other children have now read and rejoiced in, to the dear old lady of 80 years, whose proudest claim is that she was the original Alice.

Dear young-old Alice will see many things in this country which will appear to her "curiouser and curiouser" but I feel sure she will appreciate the kindly interest with which Americans will welcome her as the living embodiment of an inspiration to a great book.

After all, to inspire genius is as much in itself as to be one.

A celebrated German doctor has appeared on the stage, declaring that fish and eggs are not food for the brain; that to be a reasoning thinking man one must eat, sugar, potatoes and breads, that the brain needs these things and will not function properly if deprived of them.

So the poor women have to decide whether to increase their brain power and also increase their avoirdupois, or to be sylph like in figure, with a very mediocre intelligence.

LA MODE

Seashore Fashion Now Conservative

New York, May 7 (A.P.).—Seashore fashions are going conservative. The new swimming suits are oddly reminiscent of the ones that aunty wore.

They are two-peice afairs, reaching to just above the knees, though they could hardly be called "revealing." The undergarment hangs from the shoulders like a slip, though the bottom part is fashioned like shorts skimpy ones.

The outer garment is a dress Usually it is made of silk crepe, moire, in dark colors. Those made of black crepe de chine and trimmed with narrow bands of white look exactly like the old timers.

Gauntlet Cuffs

New York, May 7 (A.P.).—Pique collars and cuffs, which give such a crisp freshness to so many spring coats, often wisely are detachable. One rather dashing model has gauntlet cuffs, almost reaching to the elbows, and a jaunty little cape finished with a bow at the throat.

Stitched Silk Hats

New York, May 7 (A.P.).—Hats of stitched silk in all the lovely new colors are bound to be as populor as straws this summer. The stitching gives them the body necessary to actual smartness and they are light and cool. Kid is used to trim many of them.

Novel Silk Ginghams

Paris, May 7 (A.P.).—Silk ginghams are a novelty just now. In checks and plaids like the cotton variety, they are used for summer frocks and suits blouses. Blue and white and red and white are the most popular color schemes.

RECIPES

1-4 pound bacon
1-2 cupful celery, chopped
1-4 cupful peanuts, chopped
1 can baked beans
2 tablespoonfuls pimiento relish.

Fry bacon slightly. Remove from pan. Add celery and peanuts to remaining fat. Fry 10 minutes. Add beans and mix well. Grease a casserole with bacon fat. Fill with bean mixture. Garnish top with pimiento relish, arranged in diagonal lines about 2 inches apart. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) for 30 minutes. About 5 minutes before taking from oven lay half-cooked bacon between lines of pimiento relish to become crisp and brown.

Strawberry Pie.

2 cupfuls milk
3-4 cupful sugar
2 tablespoonfuls flour
1 tablespoonful cornstarch
1-4 tablespoonful salt
1-2 tablespoonful butter
3-4 quart strawberries, hulled and cut in half.

Mix flour, cornstarch and salt with a little of the cold milk. Add the sugar and remaining milk. Cook in dougle boiler until thick. Add the butter. When the mixture is quite cold stir in lightly the strawberries; put into a baked pie shell and cover with a meringue made of two egg whites, beaten stiff, with 2 tablespoonuls granulated sugar. Place in 300-degree oven for about 15 minutes or until meringue is delicately browned. Serve cold.

Plain Pastry

1 1-2 cupfuls flour
1-2 cupful shortning
1-2 teaspoonful salt
3 to 4 tablespoonfuls ice water

Have all the ingredients, the mixing bowl and utensils as cold as possible. Sift the flour and salt together, then cut in the shortening with two knives, leaving the shortening in thin slices or small pieces which will give the desired flakiness. Add sufficient ice water to hold the mixture togethr. Handle the dough quickly and roll out lightly, taking from the bowl only half the mixture at a time, which will be enough for one crust. Prick or score the top crust to permit the steam to escape, thus preventing sogginess. Bake all pies in the lower grate of the oven, reducing the heat after 5 minutes.

Boris Karloff To Be Featured In Picture Here

"Behind The Mask" Here May 20 - 21

Since his first outstanding talkie rile in "The Criminal Code," Boris Karloff has become one of the most important character actors in Hollywood. His portrayal of the hideous, terrifying monster in the recent thriller, "Frankenstein," was lauded as the most startling and successful contribution in the field of "hirror" characterizations.

He follows this with a sinister delineation in another film of the "shock" variety, "Behind The Mask" a Columbia picture coming to the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21. "Behind The Mask" will be shown as feature No. 2 on the special double feature program to be presented on the above dates.

This picture is described as a thrilling mystery of a fiendish, dreaded figure, who practiced unbelievable cruelties on those who opposed him; he is responsible for a literal reign of terror. As soon as anyone attempts to interefer with his dope traffic operations, that person is destroyed in a horrible, inhuman manner.

In addition to Karloff, Jack Holt and Constant Cummings play leading roles. Holt depicts one of those strong, virile characterizations for which he is famous. The supporting cast includes Claude King, Bertha Mann, Willard Robertson and Edward Van Sloan. John Francis Dillon, who made "Pagan Lady," "The Noose" and "The Finger Points," handled the direction.

Locust Grove In Attendance Lead In Kent For April

Only Four Schools Below 90 Mark

Attendance in Kent county public schools for April showed a decided improvement over that for March according to figures just released by Mrs. Mae Mills Beck, attendance officer. Only four schools in the county fell below the ninety per cent mark.

Locust Grove, taught by Miss Margaret F. Stoops, took the lead for the month with an average of 99.7, while Janvier, one of the consistent leaders, taught by Miss Frances G. Orr, was in second place with an average of 99.2. Lynch, taught by Miss I. Rebecca Wood, was third with an average of 98.3.

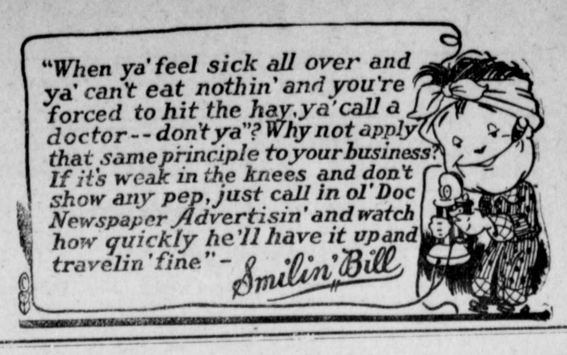

Galena, with a percentage of 95, stood first in the high school group and was followed by Chestertown, with an average of 93.9.

The averages for all the schools were as follows:
