TAX SALES WITHDRAWN

The sales of delinquent taxpayers advertised last week have been withdrawn because of improper wording, and Messrs. H. W. Vickers and J. D. Urie have been employed to prepare them in a legal form when they will be again advertised and sold.

VIOLIN 221 YEARS OLD

Mr. Theodore Jewell, of Chestertown, has an old Antonia Stradavarius violin made in 1713 which makes this old instrument 221 years old. The Stradavarius violin is said to be the finest made and is a very valuable instrument.

ELECTRIC RATES REDUCED

AFFECTIVE JUNE 1ST

Announcement was made today that the electric rates of the Chestertown Electric Light and Power Company will be reduced an average of 9 per cent, effective June 1st. This reduction, which applies to the lighting rate only, will be reduced to 5 cents per KWH for users of over 200 kilowatts. A complete schedule will be published next week.

LACROSSE HERE TODAY

WASHINGTON TO MEET SWARTHMORE

Washington College will play Swarthmore today, Saturday, and a close game is predicted. This game will wind up the season.

The locals took a terrible defeat at the hands of Hopkins last Saturday 18 to 0.

The Curbstone Diplomat

By WILLIAM S. COLLINS

For awhile my hopes were raised when I heard taxpayers of the County were to meet to discuss the tax problems. Now, I thought, the parasites, who prey on us, will be found out. At present a large part of the business of the County is going to concerns that pay no taxes to the County, or else, not a fair proportion.

But no, little along this line was considered at the meetings. The whole trend seemed to be to cut salaries and expenses of County officials. Even if all this were done, the reduction in the average person's taxes would amount to practically nothing.

Three years ago Kent County bonded itself for a million dollars to build roads. At the time we thought we were building the roads for our automobiles and local truck hauling. Now we find trucks the size of freight cars taking short cuts over these nine foot roads. Mr. Josiah Allen Weatherby, who writes "Furrows" in the Tanscript, complains about passing trucks on the wide Maryland roads. Just try to pass one on the county nine foot roads. Find out the amount of taxes the railroad pays to Kent County and see what the truck lines, that tear up our roads pay. The railroad pays taxes on the tracks it runs on. No wonder the railroads are feeling competition from the trucks. Local trucking, of course, is indispensable as freight must be hauled to the boats and railroads from the towns and forms. But trucking from Philadelphia to Baltimore and from Baltimore to Salisbury, etc., tearing up roads, can be done without. Don't pass a law prohibiting them but let them pay more taxes and keep them off roads that are not wide enough for safety in passing. The State builds and pays for the upkeep of the roads. Who pays for the railroads upkeep? Why should a man pay taxes on a farm to support a through truck line from Baltimore to Philadelphia. What is true of the railroads and trucks is also true in a lot of other lines of business.

The meeting of taxpayers is a good thing and good results might or might not be accomplished. Often times the other fellow has a lot more to do than you think and also accomplishes a lot more than he is given credit for. But while subtracting from one side, try to even the score by adding to the other side.

Josiah Allen Weatherby endorses the plan of "Soak the Rich". If they start raising taxes by soaking the incomes, it looks like Kent County will be tax exempt. Lets run him for president.

Back in the dark ages of 1892, the total assessment of Kent County was $7,000,000 and the tax rate was 97 cents. Today we have the assessment around $19,000,000 and the tax rate is $1.67. Think of what we have now in comparison to what we had then.

Back in the good old days just about the time the tax rates were so low, every child in Princes Ann attended Sunday School; so says Mr. Byrd in the Maryland Herald. But now a-days continues Mr. Byrd, they spend Sundays riding in automobiles.

Well, Mr. Byrd, you need not feel so bad about it because Chestertown and I guess every place else is in the same

COOPERATION OF JOB HOLDERS

FAT SALARIES ARE UNDER FIRE

The following article, which is a reprint from the February issue of the Jersey Bulletin, was published in the April issue of The Holstein Breeder:

THIS IS WHAT IT COSTS THE FARMERS

At last those fat salaries, paid to farm organization reads, are under fire. Congressman Ludlow of Indiana has started the war against them as excessive and indefensible. He absolves Chairman Stone of responsibility, as the salaries were fixed before he became a Board member. Here are ten salaries under attack, totaling $340,000 a year, or an average of $34,000.

E. F. Creekmore, vice-president and general manager of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, $75,000 a year.

George S. Milnor, president and general manager of the Grain Stabilization Corporation and vice-president and general manager of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, $50,000 a year.

J. M. Chilton, vice-president and assistant general manager of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, $32,500 a year.

W. I. Beam, treasurer of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, $30,000 a year.

Henry W. Collins, vice-president of thee Farmers' National Grain Corporation, $25,000 ay ear.

William Engtl, vice-president of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, $27,500 a year.

W. B. Joyce, district manager of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, Milwaukee office, $20,000 a year.

F. W. Lake, vice-president of Hall-Kaker Grain Company, Owned and operated by the Frmers' National Grain Corporation, $25,000 a year.

Henry G. Safford, vice-president of the American Coton Cooperative Association, $35,000 a year.

Stanley Reed, general counsel of the Federal Farm Board, $20,000 a year.

The annual pay roll of the Grain Stabilization Corporation, is $420,000; Farmers' National Grain Corporation, $2,242,000; American Cotton Cooperative Asociation, nearly a million. Any job with them seems to be fat enough. Mr. Ludlow tritely says: "I cannot escape the conclusion that this makes it look mre like a cooperative for the job holders than for the farmers."

DEATHS

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Wallis Jarman, well known throughout Kent and Queen Annes Counties, died suddenly at Mercy Hospital in Baltimore Friday evening, May 13, 1932, where she had been taken for treatment. Mrs. Jarman underwent an operation on her throat some time ago and was in a general run-down condition, but her death was unexpected and came as a blow to her family.

Funeral services were held Monday at 6 a. m. at the Cathedral in Baltimore following which her body was brought to Rock Hall via the Tolchester Boat for interment. Father Earner conducted the services at the grave, where a large number of relatives and friends were gathered. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Charles H. Jarman, John Lester Jarman, Frances Wallis Jarman, and Thomas Smythe Jarman, and by her four brothers, Mr. Frances A. Wallis, of Wilmington; Thomas Smythe Wallis, of Washington; Dr. H. H. Wallis, of Richmond; Mr. John Charles Wallis, of Wilmington. Also four sisters, Mrs. H. E. Perry, Mrs. Percy Wilson, Mrs. Eva W. Sasscer and Mr. John A. Wheeler.

The deceased is the daughter of Mr. Francis Adolphus Wallis and M. Georgianna Willson Wallis, of this county. For many years "Miss Bettie Wallis" was a teacher in Kent county.

The bearers were: Messrs. Wm. M. Camp, Edward R. Wallis, Robert L. Wallis, Dr. G. Allen Jarman, Elmer Jarman and Griffeth Embert. Many beautiful floral offerings were attribute to her cheerful friendly disposition.

Mrs. Mary E. Kernan, wife of Roland Kernan, of near St. James Church and a life long resident of Kent County, passed to her eternal reward Saturday afternoon about 5 p. m. at the University hospital Baltimore.

For the past month she has been failing in health and her passing is an unreparable lost to her family and the Community in which she lived. Her usefulness kindness and willingness, to help others made her beloved to all who knew her.

She is survived by her husband, Roland Kernan, her father John T. Moffett, of Centreville. Three brothers, John T. Moffett, of Centreville; Wm. C. Moffett and Albert L. Moffett, of Philadelphia; also the following children, Howard A. Kernan, Andrew M. Kernan and Henrietta Kernan, of Washington also one grand child survives her.

Funeral service was held at her late home Tuesday morning at 11 a. m. Rev. J. Lee Marker, officiated. Interment Still Pond cemetery. Pall bearers were her three sons and three brothers. B. R. Fellows, undertaker.

Mrs. Gertrude E. Sappington, widow of the late James B. Sappington, former residents of Chestertown, died at her home in Washington Wednesday, May 18, 1932, at the age of 89 years. She was a lady of an unusually sweet disposition and is most pleasantly remembered by many friends here. She is survived by nine children, 26 grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

Her children are: Mrs. B. F. Maroney, Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. W. S. Sheets, Mrs. W. Hull Moore, Miss Hope Sappington, Miss Gertrude Sappington, J. Bordley Sappington, all of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Alfred Howard, Mrs. W. D. Nicol, Mr. Rogers Sappington, of Baltimore

Her remains were brought here Thursday and buried in Chester cemetery.

Mrs. Emma Glenn, widow of George T. Glenn, and daughter of the late Franklin Hogans and Mary I. Coleman Hogans, died on Monday, May 16th, following a lingering illness, aged 73 years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Charles T. Kerr and two sons, Miller and Edgar Glenn.

Funeral services were held at the home in Rock Hall on Thursday, Rev. Grant officiating, interment in Wesley Chapel cemetery.

The bearers were: Messrs. Bradley and Charles Kerr, Miller, Edgar, and Eldridge Glenn, and Joseph Hogans. W. H. Good, undertaker.

J. Turbert Greenwood, son of the Mrs. Frank Greenwood, of Chestertown, died at his home in Linchburg, Va., Sunday, May 15, at the age of 56 years.

Funeral services were held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Bershe Greenwood, Chstertown, and were conducted by the Rev. C. L. Atwater. Interment in Chester cemetery, Charles L. Dodd was the undertaker.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Iva C. Greenwood, his mother, four brothers and two sisters.

The pall bearers were three of his brothers, Frank A. Greenwood, Samuel H. Greenwod and William B. Greenwood, W. B. Usilton, R. Harrison Collins and Lester Fauver, of Stauntin, Va.

Mr. Greenwood started his career in the Transcript office years ago and after leaving here he worked in a number of places were he gained much valuable knowledge of the printing business becoming a skilled printer. He later went South and at the time of his death was foreman of a large plant at Lynchburg, Va.

SHOPPING JEFFERSON'S

Dear Readers;

I am so glad so many of you are finding these letters useful in your shopping. If you like them and use them, tell Mr. Jefferson so. It's nice to hear that an extra service is appreciated, you know.

Well, now for this week. There's so much to say that I'll have to make each item short. First there are the new silk scarfs. There are dozens of patterns and colors and they do look so nifty with almost any kind of a costume. And then there are new hose, in the newest weaves and colors for summer. The anklets and children's socks I noticed too are especially good looking this year and at Jefferson's you'll find they are of high quality. Cheap stockings or socks are a snare and a delusion.

You must be needing a summer hat by now and those at Jefferson's are really trick. And speaking of hats,—one lady I know of while visiting in New York went a-shopping, looking at hats. And though she looked the city o'er, she found nothing that compared with a little hat she'd found at Jefferson's, even at three times the price. And the moral of that is —Shop at Jefferson's FIRST.

Next I must tell you all to watch for National Cotton Week which, begins May 16th. Just to be up on what's new, you must be sure to come in and see the beautiful cotton piece goods, house frocks, dance frocks,—all sorts of things Jefferson's will feature in cotton. And if you can resist the French smartness and American inexpensiveness of the things, —well, you're just not human.

Be thinking too about the special Children's week, coming to Jefferson's the last week in May. The dearest dresses and rompers, sunsuits and bonnets, —things for the nicest children in the world,—your own.

And last of all,—there will soon be colonial costumes on display at Jefferson's. You MUST have one for the June celebration. Think what fun it would be if we all wore them that one day.

Hastily yours,

LYDIA LEE.

WANTED: Men & Women

The opportunity of a lifetime

Do you know that a million and a half rabbits are wanted for fur this year? You can raise some of these. You can make big money doing it. The chance of a lifetime for every farmer, poultryman or citizen of the county. Investigate as I did. It will cost you nothing.

P. E. Corkran—that's my name. I live at Easton, Md. I want everybody to know that I investigated. I made money raising rabbits. You not merely buy rabbits. This company I'm telling about actually puts you in business and pays you as high as $2.50 a pound for all of the choice breeders you can raise, less of course for runts. But think of that. This price and their fair and square four year contract are the things that interested me. And if you want a few thousand extra dollars too, this year, you'll see. Write or phone me about this big proposition raising Chinchilla and Rex Rabbits.
