NOW AND THEN

LAUGH IT OFF

Laughter like an air cushion, eases you over the jolts and the hard places on life's highway.

Laughter is always healthy. It tends to bring every abnormal condition back to the normal. It is a panacea for heartaches, for life's bruises. It is a life prolonger. People who keep themselves in physical and mental harmony through hearty laughter are likely to live longer than those who take life too seriously. Instead of nursing your troubles and making them bigger, laugh them out of existence.—Anon.

Nature is wonderfully forgiving. I was struck with that in passing the square yesterday. It was covered with grass not withstanding that every bit was killed by the carnival last year. Will it be allowed to stay? One of the trees is dead.

I wonder if our efficient Town Council knows of that fact. Here is hoping that Miss Doris Bell with her artistic temperament will find a way to have the fountain filled with flowers.

Are you getting your Colonial Costume ready for the 150th Commencement of our college?

It is an epochal event, coming as it does at the same time that the nation is celebrating the bi-centennial of its famous progenitor and everyone will try to make it a wonderful event to be remembered.

WOULD YOU?

If I thought that a word of mine,
Perhaps unkind and untrue,
Would leave its trace on a loved one's face,
I'd never speak it—
Would you?

If I thought that a smile of mine
Might linger the whole day thru
And lighten some heart with a heavier part,
I'd not withhold it—
Would you?

Joy-Spreading Circle
From the Topeka Capital

The Farmer sells a load of wheat
And all the world grows fair and sweet
And all the word grows fair and sweet;
He starts off humming cheerful tunes
And pays the Grocer for his prunes;
The Grocer, who has had the blues,
Now buys his wife and children shoes;
That ten the Shoeman thinks God sent
And runs and pays it on his rent;
Next day the Landlofd hands the bill
To Dr. Bolus for his pill;
The happy Doctor tells his frau
That business is improving now
And adds: "My dear, you need a rest,
You'd better take a trip out West."
So in a week or so the wife
Is on the farm enjoying life.
She pays her board to Farmer Howe
Who takes the ten and says: "I swow!
Heres' something that just can't be beat,
This bill's the one I got for heat."
With it he buys more prunes—and then
It starts a-going round again.
Moral:
Oh, well, it's obvious!

There is nothing more contagious than extravagance. We hear that even Ghandi has ordered a two pair of pants suit. Just think of him without his loin cloth.

Monday will be Memorial Day and it is supposed that everyone will wear a poppy in memory of those who sleep in Flander's field and elsewhere, and also those who endured privation and suffering in their country's cause.

Many have suffered far more than those who paid the supreme sacrifice for they have brought back maimed bodies and impaired health. For these the poppies are sold. They are made by the war veterans and through out the world are symbols of the sacrifices of the World's War. Then be sure to wear a poppy on Memorial Day.

COURTESY

How sweet and gracious, even in common speech,
Is that fine sense which men call Courtesy!
Wholesome as air and genial as the light,
Welcome in every clime as breath of flowers,—
It transmutes aliens into trusting friends,
And gives its owner passport 'round the globe.

James T. Fields.

MOTHER SMILIN' THROUGH

When but a very little child,
All life bewildered me;
The rain would come to mar my plans,
And vex me constantly.
So many, many things went wrong,
I scarce knew what to do;
But mother brought the sunshine out
By always smilin' through.

And as I journeyed on my way,
The road became so steep;
The obstacles I had to climb
Made hard the path to keep.
I could not see my way around
The corners I must turn;
But mother, smilin' through her tears
Helped me the course discern

I often stumbled, fell and pressed,
Through years of pain and strife,
Toward the goal she planned some day
I should achieve in life.
And sore distressed, I struggled on,
When skies were seldom blue;
But mother, with a steadfast faith,

Kept just on smilin' through!
So now, beyond the Great Unknown,
She still is here, I know;
Her smile comes to me as it did
In years of long ago.
And I will try to do the things
She said were right and true,
'Till God shall take me back to her
Where she'll be smilin' through.

GROW 1000 ACRES SEED CORN

BRINGS $20,000 TO KENT COUNTY

Kent county farmers received $20,000 this year from 20,000 bushels of seed corn grown on 1000 acrs, according to a statement made this week by Mr. P. M. Brooks who is the local representative handling this seed corn.

This seed corn is sold to northern farmers in nothern New York State, the New England States and Canada for insulage. The price paid for this corn ranged from .90 cents to $1.15 a bushel and it is reported to be a good yielder if properly cared for.

The seed for this seed corn is furnished free to the farms. The profit to Knt County growers of this seed corn as compared to the price of 35 cents a bushel for field corn, was $13,000.

Mr. Brooks will handle 1000 acres of this corn again this year and up to the present time this entire acreage has not been contracted for.

—Mr. Nat Jervis, pro at the Country Club, will give a lecture on golf next Thursday, June 2nd.

MILK PRICE REDUCED

CUT NOT AS SERIOUS AS FEARED

The priice of milk on the Philadelphia market has been slightly reduced in order that the excess amount of basic milk may be less burdensome for the distributors. The cut is not so serious as many producers feared. The new plan calls for seling 10 per cent. of the milk of each shipper up to and including the total basic at cream price which is 40 cents per 100 higher than surplus milk. For example:—in the Chestertown area 4 per cent. surplus milk for May was worth 78 cts. per 100. If the price remains the same for May surplus milk, 10 per cent. of the actual production up to the basic amount would sell at $1.18 per 100, which is 80 cents per 100 less than the price of basic milk. This means that a farmer with a 5000 pound basic who was placing this amount on the market would receive $4.00 less for it in May than he did in April under the former price.

This cut in price again emphasizes the importance of holding back production; otherwise other prices will go lower.

The Inter-State Milk Producers Association officers are also milk producers—they make no cuts in price unless such action is necessary. Disposing of the boarder cows now is a good means of helping to hold milk price at the new level.

TEN TON ACRE CONTEST ON

PRIZES OFFERED TO WINNER

The prizes offered winners on the tomato growing contest are again to be offered as a means of stimulating interest in growing quality tomatoes economically. The contest is in line with the "more tomatoes from fewer acres" plan, which has been recommended by the Extension Service for a number of years. It affords opportunity for those who like competition to strive, with the spirit of a game, to grow quality and quantity tomatoes on limited areas. The tomato market outlook indicates the need for reduced acreage and for economical production.

The contest is for those who grow canning tomatoes. Sales receipts are used in measuring the yield from measured areas. Two acres of canning tomatoes are the minimum requirement. All the area planted must be entered. Entries will be received until July 1st.

Entry blanks and circulars containing the details may be had from the County Agent.

YACHTSMEN TO BANQUET

The annual yachtsmen's stag dinner, of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club will be held at the club house on Friday evening, June 3rd.

Commodore E. W. Emory is in charge of the affair and the ladies of the club, with Mrs. H. Clay Brown, as chairman are arranging a very delightful sea food dinner.

EXHIBIT IN "THE ABBEY"

"The Abbey," Chestertown's famous colonial mansion, will serve as a museum in which colonial furniture and historic relics will be exhibited during the Washington Bi-Centennial and Washington College Sesqui-Centennial celebration. Permission was recently granted by Mrs. H. W. Catlin for the use of the building.

Mrs. Herbert Stine is chairman of the committee in charge of plans.

REDUCED RATES FOR CHESTERTOWN

TO TAKE EFFECT JUNE 1ST

A new and reduced schedule of lighting rates for Chestertown has been filed with the Public Service Commission of Maryland effective as of June 1st, 1932. These new rates will mean a very material reduction in all lighting schedules and are made in the hope that they will greatly encourage a wider and more general use of electricity in every home.

A statement from officials of the Chestertown Electric Light and Power Company follows:

While our Production expenses, made up largely of fuel, labor and supplies, have not been decreased and our taxes, over which we have no control, have been greatly increased and now have reached a point where for the year 1932 we will be called upon to pay out in taxes more than twenty-five (25 per cent) per cent. of our net income. We hope, nevertheless, to so stimulate our output through these lowered rates that we may in this way decrease our average cost and at the same time maintain our plant and ejuipment in the best posible condition so that we may at all times be in a position to render the highest grade service to our patrons. The present schedule of net rats applicable to Chestertown is as follows:

First 50 Kilowatt Hours @ 13 cents.
Next 50 Kilowatt Hours @ 10 cents.
Next 100 Kilowatt Hours @ 7 cents.
Excess over 200 Kilowatt Hours @ 5 cents.

The new schedule effective June 1st is as follows:

First 50 Kilowatt Hours @ 12 cents.
Next 50 Kilowatt Hours @ 12 cents.
Next 50 Kilowatt Hours @ 9 cents.
Excess over 100 Kilowatt Hours @ 5 cents.

The first result of this new rate will be reflected on each consumer's bill for the month of June consumption. A proportion at reduction has also been made in all rural lighting rates.
