FURROWS

MR. EDITOR:

The results of the two national political conventions is goin to be disappointin to a lot of people in this country. This wuz a time fer statesmanship, but behold! "the mountain labored and brought forth a mouse." There ain't no use sayin "I told you so," but I'm goin to say it. I told you last year that the politicians would git their heads together and decide who would be the choice of the people. It has happened just that way. The common people has had no say in actually pickin the man they wanted. The political game has been played so skillfully by the expert politicians that the common people didn't have a say in the matter.

And when it comes to the platforms of the two parties, they ain't nothin but two campaign documents. Both parties had the biggest opportunity in our history to do something big and constructive, but they ain't done nothin but issue a lot of political twaddle that will leave the country in exactly the same situation it wuz in, no matter which party wins the election. Neither party has any issue that is worth while except prohibition, and that ain't the most important issue in this country today, though a lot of people think it is.

And when it comes to votin, no matter which party wins, that issue still won't be decided. The republicans still want it left to Federal control (sic) and a lot of the democrats want it wiped out apparently with no control. Only one democrat of prominence has said anything constructive about it and he ain't been any too definite about it, and that is Governor Ritchie. He has said that it ought to go back to the states as a local issue, but he ain't never said just how it should be turned back to the states. So when the election is over it will have to go back to Congress to be decided as to what will be done.

One trouble with this campaign, as I see it, is that the democrats is goin to git so het up over prohibition that they will lose their biggest opportunity in this history to be of service to the people. Makin and sellin licker ain't goin to give employment to the millions that is out of work now, and it ain't goin to raise the price of farm products to a point where the farmers can make a good livin.

One big thing the people ought to do this fall is to go to the polls and give a lot of Congressmen a long vacation from their hard labors involved in passin the recent tax bill, and also from gitting so tired out tryin to lay a general sales tax on the poor people of this country. These here Congressmen are all so tired from their recent labors that they need a long rest. The people ought to give it to 'em.

Yours truly,

JOSIAH ALLEN WEATHERBY.

KENT BOYS 4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

Bill Comella, one of Maryland's delegates to National Camp, returned last week. He had a REAL trip. Ask him about it.

Everybody seems to have revived from the Washington trip, Saturday, June 18th. We omitted by mistake the name of one of the Worton Daisys in the list of those who made the trip. Yes, Ewell Dodd went too. We are looking forward to the essays. Let them come.

CLIFF CITY

The Cliff City Boys' 4-H Club met Wednesday evening on the school lawn at Cliffs. Ex-president Frank Hadaway conducted the business meeting and called on Bobby and Billy Davis to make reports of the Washington trip after which he told of his observations. Each member present told of his club project and several topics were discussed. The committee on the proposed entertainment made a favorable report.

KENNEDYVILLE

The Kennedyville Boys' 4-H Club met at the home of Lloyd Kennedy, Friday night, June 24th. Their efficient president, Joe Weer, presided. The minutes were read and approved and the roll called, after which assistant County Agent Stanley B. Sutton told of the trip to Washington and discussed project problems with several members.

After the meeting adjourned those present enjoyed seeing Lloyd's rabbits. Refreshments were served and the boys enjoyed several games on the lawn.

STILL POND

The Still Pond Boys' 4-H Club met with Harry Hendrickson Saturday night, June 25th. The boys enjoyed several games on Mrs. Roseberry's beautiful lawn before dark and held their meeting seated on the grass in front of the house. Splendid reports of the Washington trip were given by Harry Hendrickson and Wilson Norris. In answer to the roll call each member gave a report on his project. A number reported considerable progress with their chickens and gardens.

4H PROGRESSIVE POULTRY

The Kent 4-H Progressive Poultry Club met Monday night, June 27th at the home of Clarence and Emily Sutton. President Bayard Sutton arranged a very interesting program and called on Edgar Hodgson, Walter Moffett, Jr., and Emily Sutton who gave excelent reports on the Washington trip. William Comella gave a very interesting and helpful discussion on his trip to National Camp.

SCHEDULE OF MEETINGS FOR WEEK OF JULY 4TH

Thursday night, July 7th—The Kennedyville Club at the home of Billy King.

Friday night, July 8th—The Handy Andy 4-H Calf Club at the home of Norris Crew.

WEDDING NOTES

On Saturday, June 25th, 1932, at 7.30 p. m. Miss Loretta Virginia Rhodes, of Baltimore, and Mr. Burton Hammacher, son of Charles Hammacher, were married by the Rev. J. W. Baxley at the Wesley Chapel parsonage.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Dorothy Rhodes, whose home is at 2218 West North avenue, Baltimore, and the late and well-konwn Dr. Joseph Franklin Rhoades who was athletic trainer for the Johns Hopkins University for nine years, and also other colleges.

The bride was attended by her only sister, Miss Delma Elizabeth Rhoades, and Mr. George Urie, Jr., was best man for the groom. Others of the bridal party were Miss Lena Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ittner, cousins of the groom, Mrs. Sophie Kroneberger, aunt of the groom, Miss Geraldine Hammacher, his sister, of Baltimore, Mr. Charles Hammacher, his father, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hogans and children, Junior, Vaughn, Franklin and Laura Lee, Mrs. Earl Thompson, of Still Pond and Mr. Elmer Jones.

The young couple are living with the groom's father in Rock Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Stevens announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lillian M. Burns, of William G. Leppo, of Patapsco, on June 25th 1932, at the parsonage of Wesley M. P. Church, the Rev. J. W. Baxley officiating. The bride wore flowered georgette and a hat of pink. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Copper.

After the ceremony a supprr was served at the home of the bride's parents in Hawthorne road, Rock Hall. Among the guest were Rev. and Mrs. Baxley, Mrs. Hillyer, Mr. Edward Hillyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Copper, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Puppe, Mr. and Mrs. William Shriley and aughter, Miss Katherine Shrisly, also Mr. J. Edward Stevens, Jr., Miss Theresa Smith, Mr. Leo Faulstich and Miss Shirley Faultich of Baltimore. The bridal couple are residing at their new home in Hawthorne road.

'Tis human nature to try to "get there" in a hurry, but better, perhaps, for all concerned, not to exceed the speed limit.
