THE WHEAT CROP in Kent County this year is a financial loss and although the acreage was only seventy five per cent of normal, it is a serious loss to those farmers who for years have relied on this crop to take care of certain standard expenses. The natural cry is stop growing wheat but the raising of wheat is necessary unless the entire system of farming in this section is changed. The hope of Federal farm relief in standardizing the price of wheat has been abandoned and it is expected that the acreage will be still further reduced next year.

Reports from various sections of the country state that there is a general feeling that more prosperous times are ahead. Faced with crop failures and low price, a number of our outstanding farmers are not discouraged and feel that the bottom has been reached. This spirit of optomism and confidence will go a long way toward relieving the present condition.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS BY SHORE PAPERS ON LEE CASE

WE QUOTE BELOW the editorial comment from a few of the shore papers on the decision of the Maryland Court of Appeals in the Euel Lee case:

(Wicomico News, Salisbury)

"The decision of the Maryland Court of Appeals which yesterday sent the Euel Lee case back to the Circuit Court at Towson for a new trial is one of momentous importance to Maryland jurisprudence.'

"Not only as it affects the Lee case is the decision signiicant, but it sets a precedent in the Old Line state wherein sentiment more than sixty years after the Civil War still holds many characteristics of the Old South. It is this very sentiment that would appear to lend a liberal tendency to the ruling of the state's highest court.

"It will be recalled that during the Lee trial, Judge Frank I. Duncan took the witness stand to testify on the methods he used in selection "good and honorable men" from whom the jurors were drawn. This method, Judge Duncan testified, had previously been upheld by the Court of Appeals.'

"But our sympathies go to the taxpayers and residents of Worcester county where the four murders, for which Lee was indicted, were committed. Although the cost to the county is already approximately $5,000 te case today stands about as it did immediately after indictments were returned. In fact, the cost of this case has been cited as a reason for not making a further reduction in the Worcester tax rate this year."

(Democratic Messenger, Snow Hill)

This Euel Lee business is hard on Worcester County taxpayers. Taxes are hard enough to pay this year without our having to put up thousands of dollars for the benefit of a brutal, self confessed murderer of our people. It there was any doubt in the minds of the people of Worcester County of the guilt of Euel Lee, they would take their dose willingly, but they do not doubt his guilt, and if justice prevails he will eventually pay the penalty of his crime. His guilt has been proven and the court has sentenced him to death, but his attorney has successfully appealed for a new trial, on the grounds that he should have been tried by a mixed jury. It is very certain if our Court of Appeals had denied his motion that an appeal would have been made in his behalf to the Supreme Court of the United States, which has ruled in similar cases that the jury should have been composed of both races. No doubt our Court of Appeals thought it better that the Euel Lee case should be settled in Maryland. Hence its decision.

(Kent News, Chestertown)

The Euel Lee murder case decision by the Court of Appeals in this State has shocked the people of this community especially. It means more than appears on its face. Although records show no negroes have served on petit juries in Kent county, it is believed the decision of the Court granting a new trial because of the "unconstitutional exclusion of Negroes," from the jury, will raise no question here, as there are a number Negroes on the eligible list from which jurors are drawn. These names have never come out at the time of drawing the jury.

The management of this case is the incentive for citizens taking the law in their hands. It has been aggravatingly slow.

(The Baltimore Sun)

The increase which, it is stated, will be made in the number of Negroes on the eligible list of jurors in Baltimore seem to meet the criticism that was made in the Euel Lee case and which caused the Court of Appeals to direct a new trial.

"The methods under which the jury list is compiled enable the selection of Negroes who are taxpayers and who are good citizens. These lists are not made up haphazardly, but are chosen with reasonable care to see that they are composed of reputable members of the community. The plan would seem to bar selection of Negroes who could not be expected to perform satisfactory jury services. There would continue to be a large numerical preponderance of whites on the lists from which petit purors are drawn by lot, since white taxpaying males largely outnumber taxpaying Negroes. By the simple procedure proposed, the views of the court would be met without apparent reason to anticipate any untoward consequences.

It is to be noted that a jury clerk says that there are now a hundred Negroes on the eligible lists. But in view of the fact that in six years none has been drown to serve, continuance of so consitent a run of whites in the drawing of names from a wheel might impress the Court of Appeals as being due to something else than chance. It is important to obviate such a risk.

SCIENTIFIC
because Fully Automatic

Kelvinator refrigeration is scientific, because it eliminates guess-work and hand-adjustment. The four zones of cold are constantly and automatically maintained.

(1) Food preservation temperature is constantly below 50°. (2) The Frost Chest, for meats, fish and game, is always below freezing. (3) Ice cube trays, constant, rapid freezing. (4) World's Record Fast Freezing Speed, for freezing desserts or ice cubes in a hurry—always.

Come in and let us explain how the fully automatic Kelvinator maintains these four distinct temperatures constantly; also how fully it covers the 16 requirements of the Standard Rating Scale.
