While brutes grew coats of mail in OKLAHOMA

Today the drills of Sinclair oil men have bitten deep into the soil of Oklahoma and tapped that treasure trove of the ages, the Cambro-Ordovician oil pool—the pool that was already old when the age of dinosaurs came upon the world. Piped into the great Sinclair refineries and carefully refined and blended, this oldest of Mid-continent crudes becomes Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil, a product averaging more than 80 million years of Nature's priceless mellowing and filtering. In process of manufacture, Sinclair Opaline is de-waxed and freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero. Note how Sinclair Opaline lasts in the heat of hard, fast driving—observe at draining time how little oil has been used up. A sure proof of quality! Ask for Sinclair Opaline.

The Health Department has received another report from near Rock Hall, but they are not rertain yet whether or not it is Typhus Fever.

In cases of Typhus the death-rate is about thirty per cent.

A Lesson in Speed and Convenience

Here's a man who's trying to call on all his friends and do all his business in person. He's tiring fast.

Here's a man who has a telephone—and uses it. Looks fresh and happy, doesn't he?

He knows his talks with friends are in themselves worth more than the cost of the telephone.

His telephone is good insurance too. Keeps him in instant touch with his doctor.

His wife likes the telephone because it saves her steps. She shops as well as makes social calls by telephone.

They both get a big thrill and much comfort in talking to their children in other cities.

They'll never forget that telephone call that brought him a job when he was out of work.

They can't understand how they ever got along by borrowing the use of their neighbor's telephone, or why some of their friends still try to do without one. Can you?

WILLIAM S. COLLINS

Indications are that it will be a very light breeze for the bay race at Love Point Friday. This may be a big disappointment to some, but it will certainly give the log sailing canoes a good chance to win the bay race. The handsome gold cup, which goes to the winner of this event, is something to try for. Raskob, the donor of the cup, has won it for two years himself and a third win means permanent possession. The two previous years that Raskob has won the cup, the race has been sailed in a north-east storm and Raskob has had no competition, the other type boats being unable to sail in the high wind.

This year, however, Eugene du Pont has a boat that could stand a wind as well as the Raskob boats. Raskob did not launch his big sailboats this year, so that eliminates any chance of his getting the cup this year. du Pont would have had a wonderful chance this year if the usual north-east storm had messed up the regatta again.

Should one of the canoes get the Bill Raskob cup this year, it will create a lot of interest in this race in future years. Rivalry among the canoes is strong and canoe races create more interest than any other race at the regattas. A race for canoes only will be sailed Saturday morning.

Bob Wilson, last year's winner of the Log Sailing Canoe race, is married and will not be at the Chester River regatta this year.

No one takes more interest in boat races than Howard Strong. His interest is in the sailing canoes and his Mayflower has made a lot of good showings. The Mayflower belonged to Mr. Strong's father and was later converted into a motor boat. When sail canoe racing was revived some years ago, Mr. Strong bought the Mayflower and had it converted back into a sailboat. Mr. Stevens, of Rock Hall, did the job and he did a fine one.

At St. Michaels two or three years ago, "yours truly" heard many complimentary remarks from boys that knew boats, about the way the Mayflower was fixed up. Many of the old sailors remembered racing against her.

Oxford has three new sailing boats and they know how to sail them. One of these Oxford sailors wanted to know what had become of the "Island Blossom." "Yours truly" was told by one of these boys from Oxford that he would rather have the "Island Blossom," to sail than any of the others, including the new boats. He seemed to think the Island Blossom had never had a chance.

The Chester River Regatta has a distinction. Governor Ritchie does not contribute a trophy.

We don't need so much breeze on Friday but we will need it Saturday for the sailing races at Chestertown.

TO TAKE MOVING PICTURES

At the request of the United States Public Health Service, the local Health Dept., will make efforts next year to take moving pictures of Nation Negro Health Week.

Kent County has been leading for three years in the Rural Division and a moving picture of all the work accomplish at the Health Week will be taken if possible.

The only hinderance is lack of funds and efforts are being made now to raise there. If the pictures are taken they will be shown in all parts of the country.

YACHT BEACHED AT ROCK HALL

The Gee Gee, a motor yacht returnin from the regatta at St. Michaels was beached at Rock Hall Sunday when it was found the yacht was sinking.

Commodore J. Howard VanSeiver of the Tri State Yacht Club came to the rescue and took off the occupants. The Capain remained with the boat to supervise salvaging work.
