HEALTHMOBILE HERE NEXT WEEK

WILL REMAIN IN KENT COUNTY TEN DAYS

The Healthmobile will make its annual visit to Kent county next Monday, August 15th and remain here until August 25th. The local health department, under the direction of Dr. R. G. Beachley urges all parents to have their babies and young children examined while the Healthmobile is in the county. The following letter is addressed to the parents:

Dear Parents:

This is to let you know that the Healthmobile will again visit Kent County this summer for the purpose of examining children of preschool age.

The staff of the Healthmobile includes a doctor who has had special training in the care of babies and young children, and a dentist. It is fitted up with everything needed for a complete examination of babies and young children including a dental chair and the rest of the appliances necessary in caring for children's teeth.

The Healthmobile is clearly marked as coming from the State Department of Health so that it can be easily recognized when it comes along the road. It is usually parked somewhere near a church or school and within a short time everything is in readiness for a complete examination. A movie outfit is included in the equipment and health movies will be shown in the evenings.

The aim of these conferences is to show mothers how to keep their children well. The object of te Healthmobile staff is to give the children a thorough physical examination in order to determine if the child is suffering from any physical defects which might be a handicap during the school year. No medical treatments are given. Children in need of medical care are referred to their own doctors. Last year over 2,000 children were brought to the conferences in connection with the visits of the Healthmobile in the counties. Approximately 1,200 children were given dental care.

You are urgently requested to have your children examined during the visit of the Healthmobile in your community. Enclosed is a schedule for Kent County.

Very truly yours,
R. G. BEACHLEY, M. D.,
Deputy State Health Officer

CLUB FOR UNEMPLOYED

A Milwaukee, Wisconsin, woman decided that what the city needed was not a bread line, but a friend line, and as a result a new institution has been established to build morale among the unemployed. Miss Dorothy Enderis, director of the public school extension department, procured an old, unused factory building in the banking district and turned it into a clubhouse. It provides a daytime place for the homeless, between 9 A. M., when they are turned out of the flop houses, until 10 P. M. when they can return for the night. The school board voted $3,500 and the common council $6,000 to cover the expense of repairing the building. All the equipment was solicited.

A complete tailor shop was installed and the men were encouraged to mend, press and clean clothing. Bushels of buttons have been used in this shop, sewed on by awkward fingers. A cobbler's outfit was obtained and tanneries donated leather; factories sent old machine belts, which make good soles, and under the guidance of several cobbler members the men learned to repair and weatherproof their shoes. The club has a carpenter shop, recreation rooms, gymnasium, pianos, radio and a variety of games.

All types of men belong to the club—musicians, laborers, mechanics, bookkeepers and the many others who make up the ranks of the jobless. About 1,500 men visit the club daily.

INFORMATION FOR HUNTERS

OPEN SEASON ON UPLAND GAME IN MARYLAND

GAME REPORTER PLENTIFUL

Railbirds

The first open season for the hunting of any species of game in Maryland Territory is for Railbirds, September 1st to September 30th, inclusive. Federal regulations prohibit the hunting of reed birds and greater and lesser yellowlegs or other species of shore birds at any time or in any manner.

Squirrels

The open season for Squirrels is September 15th to October 15th, inclusive; then closed October 16th to November 14th, inclusive; open November 15th to December 24th, inclusive. This is state-wide in effect, except in Allegany, Garrett and Cecil Counties, it is unlawful to hunt squirrel except between November 15th and December 24th, inclusive.

Dove

The open season for Doves is September 1st to September 30th, inclusive; then closed October 1st to November 14th, inclusive; then open November 15th to December 15th, inclusive.

However, it is unlawful to hunt doves in Allegany, Garrett, and Cecil Counties except between the dates of November 15th and December 15th, inclusive.

Wildfowl and Jacksnipe

The open season for wildfowl as provided by Federal regulations is November 16th to January 15th, inclusive.

The State laws provide open season, November 1st to January 31st; However, Federal laws supersede taking off fifteen days in November and fifteen days in January.

Woodcock

The open season for Woodcock is November 15th to December 10th, inclusive. The State law provides November 15th to December 31st. However, Federal regulations prohibit hunting woodcock after December 10th and supersede State law.

Ruffed Grouse, Rabbit, Partridge (Bob-white)

The open season on Chinese pheasants, ruffed grouse, rabbit (hare), wild turkey, partridge (bob-white) is November 15th to December 31st, inclusive. However, it is unlawful to hunt wild turkey or partridge (bob-white) in Garrett County until the lawful open season for hunting same in 1933.

It is unlawful to kill the female ringnecked or mongolian pheasant at any time.

Male Deer

The open season on male deer with two or more points to one antler in Garrett County is December 1st to 3rd, inclusive; in Allegany County, December 1st to 15th, inclusive; and on the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club in Washington County, December 1st to 15th, inclusive.

It is unlawful to hunt or kill any female deer at any time or in any manner.

It is also unlawful to hunt or kill any deer in any other section of Maryland except as herein referred to.

Game Reported Plentiful

Species of wildfoul, black mallard and blue-winged teal, which breed in Maryland watered areas annually, have shown a great increase this season and from reports throughout the breeding ranges of the Northwestern United States and Canada, we feel there wil be a bountiful supply of wildfowl this coming season for Maryland sportsmen to enjoy.

The law provides riparian owners of shore fronts have the first right to procure a license and select a site for ducking blinds offshore of their properties prior to midnight, October 10 (providing, of course, they have the legal amount of shore frontage). If the riparian owners do not avail themselves of the opportunity as provided by law, on October 11th the watered areas opposite their shore fronts become open to the public for the purpose of procuring a license and erecting a ducking blind, which, of course, must be within the legal distance from shore and not less than the legal distance apart.

Squirrels and dove are reported plentiful throughout their range; also conditions on the marshes where the railbirds inhabit (these birds are migratory) assure our sportsmen of good hunting for this species of birds this season.

The statues of Maryland provide that every person who hunts on property not owned or tenanted by him, unless he be the child of said owner or tenant, shall first procure a hunter's license from the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County of his residence or the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas of Baltimore City. Therefore, to save embarrassment, purchase your hunter's license NOW! Have it ready when the season opens so that you may lawfully enjoy the greatest recreation known—a day's sport in the great outdoors which is beneficial not only to your health but your mind as well.

The law requires every person to have a hunter's license in possession while hunting and tag displayed on outer garment between shoulders. Comply with the law and avoid arrest and prosecution as well as embarrassment.

State Senator Emory L. Coblentz was found guilty of accepting deposits in a bank he knew to be insolvent, in a decision announced last week by the three judges of the Circuit Court of Allegany county who heard the case following its removel from Howard county.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. ©1931, C. M. Co.

Nominee Garner Just An "Infant" To His Wife-Secretary-Manager

She Keeps 3 Percolators In Office to Supply Coffee Demand

WASHINGTON, D. C.—If John Nance Garner of Texas is elected Vice President next November it will mean an eight-hour day instead of a ten-hour one for his wife and secretary, Mrs. Ettie R. Garner, but one duty she will not relinquish will be that of brewing a cup of afternoon coffee and fixing a snack for the present Speaker of the House.

This combination of "Cactus Jack" and Mrs. Garner is probably the greatest in official Washington. For 30 years Mrs. Garner has been an old-fashioned wife and a modern, efficient secretary. For the next four years she may be "Second Lady of the Land" but she will occupy the same dual role she has so long held. Society may frown upon her and precedents may be lacking, but the habits she has found so interesting, she is not willing to break.

John Garner may be Speaker or he may become Vice President but to Mrs. Garner he is just an "infant" needing a lot of care. Mrs. Garner must remind him that it is time to eat lunch, that it is time to go home. She must call his tailor to the office to measure him for new clothes and then see that he wears them.

The Garners gave up housekeeping twelve years ago when their son, Tully, was married and returned to Texas. Since then Mrs. Garner has done no cooking for the family. They like simple, wholesome food.

"Like all men", Mrs. Garner explains, "he wants a big juicy steak and lots of fresh vegetables for dinner. His breakfast is the typical American one, bacon and eggs and coffee, lots of it."

Mrs. Garner has a percolator in the Speaker's office in the Capitol. In fact she has three of them. About three o'clock every afternoon, without fail, the odor of fresh coffee spreads through the halls nearby. Mr. Garner does not drink it then but Mrs. Garner years ago began "fixing herself" a cup or two in the middle of the day.

"That cup or two of coffee every afternoon has helped me tremendously," she says.

The Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee likes to boast of the important part his helpmeet has played in his rise to political power. She tries to minimize it. Yet she can't very well. Rising at six o'clock every morning, after her own ablutions she draws Mr. Garner's bath and a bit later they breakfast. It is a little over a mile from their hotel to the Capitol. Weather permitting, they walk each day. Mrs. Garner goes through every piece of the mountainous mail which burdens down the Speaker's desk daily. She is ready for that coffee bracer in mid-afternoon and for more before retiring never later than 9:30 o'clock unless that rare occurrence happens—the Garners enter into Washington's social whirl.
