NOW AND THEN

MAKE A FRIEND

"What is a friend? Though we have a fairly clear idea of the characteristics of such an individual we would encounter more than anticipated difficulty if we were to attempt to give a definition. We would be able to name this trait and that one and so on until we would have made a reasonably accurate portraiture of one. We love friends. We could not get along without them. They are as needful as food and drink. They are always to be valued.

"A Persian fable says: One day
A wanderer found a piece of clay
So redolent of sweet perfume,
Its odor scented all the room.
'What art thou?' was the quick demand,
'Art thou some gem from Samarkand?
Or spikenard rare in rich disguise
Or other costly merchandise '
'Nay, I am but a piece of clay.'
'Then whence this wonderous sweetness, pray?"
'Friend, if the secret I disclose,
I have been dwelling with a rose!'"

We are still star gazing. Every now and then we see another star falling, a bit of star dust which hits our earth somewhere. And now the Astromomers are promising us an eclipse of the sun.

Though it is total only in New England where scientists from far and near are going to see it on August 31, yet here at home we may see it in partial eclipse. Learn to study the heavens. It will broaden your outlook and give you an idea of the immensity of the universe.

Are you vacationing this summer? Why not? Quoting from the New York Sun.

Vacation: Then and Now

"We used to go vacationing
In very regal style
The family had two machines
In which we all could pile.
We had to tote a lot of maps,
So distant did we stray—
But now we take a trolley car
And don't go far away.

We used to lease a cottage grand
By mountain, lake or sea;
It had to be a swell resort
Near smart society.
The neighbors had to have some class
With blood a little blue—
But now we're not particular
And any folks will do."

Inside Information

"Hadn't you better go and tell your boss," inquired the motorist of the farmer's boy who stood looking at the load of hay upset in the lane.

"He knows," replied the boy.

"Knows How can he know?"

"'Cos he's under the hay."

"Caesar has crossed the Rubicon an age old saying. Mussolino, Il Duce, has located that famous river, which for a long time was in doubt. "Let us locate it "said the famous man and then and there he retired to his study and reasoned it out so now he says the river Frumicina is one and the same as the Repubicon. Surely Il Duce has crossed the Rubicon too.

Hey! Hey!! The foreman reported that the jury were unable to agree upon a verdict. The judge reproved them, saying that the case was a very clear one, and remanded them back to the jury room fr further deliberation. "And if you do not reach an agreement before evening," the judge added, "I will have twelve suppers sent in to you."

"May it please Your Honor," spoke up the foreman, "you had better make it eleven suppers and one bundle of hay."

SUN ECLIPSE NEXT WEDNESDAY

There will be an eclipse of the sun on Wednesday, August 31. It will be a total one in New England only but it will be partial in Maryland.

Oculists are advising those who look at the sun to wear dark glasses as the dazzling light is bad for the eyes.
