How to Make It

A SET of shelves with ends cut out to represent animals provides an interesting piece for the child's room and encourages the child to keep his books and other things in order. It is easily made by anyone handy with a saw and hammer.

First trace the animal—in this case a bunny—on paper and cut to the desired shape. To prevent gluing two or more widths together for the end pieces, use pressed wood which may be obtained in sheets from your lumber dealer. Trace the paper pattern on the pressed wood and cut out with a scroll saw. The same material may be used for the shelves which may be of any desired length. Narrow strips of pressed wood or pieces of quarter-round may be used to support the shelves. These should be screwed to both the end pieces and to the shelves. A single piece of pressed wood will provide a back.

Paint the shelves any desired color. Touch up the eyes, ears, collar, etc., with a small brush, using a contrasting color.

MD. LIBRARY GROUP HOLDS MEETING HERE

Dr. P. E. Titsworth Gives Address

At the invitation of Dr. Paul E. Titsworth who has recently been appointed by Governor Ritchie to serve as a member of the Maryland Public Library Advisory Commission, the Maryland Library Association held its fall meeting at Washington College on Monday, September 12th.

The full-day meeting was presided over by John P. DuVal, president of the Association and was attended by over eighty members representing public, high school, college and normal school libraries throughout the State.

The morning session was addressed by Dr. Titsworth who gave the visitors a brief sketch of Chestertown and its historical background; the historical background of Washington College and its present-day aims. This address was followed by an address by Dr. Joseph H. Apple, president of Hood College and president of the Maryland Public Library Advisory Commission for some fifteen years in addition to five years in other official capacity on its Board. His talk on "Contacts, Within and Without the Library" was inspiring and comprehensive.

Luncheon was served in the College cafeteria at 1:00 p. m. and was followed by a Book Symposium lead by Miss Leonore Naylor of the Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore. Interesting book reviews were given by Dr. George Dobbin Brown, assistant librarian of Enoch Pratt Mrs. Hawes, of the same organization, Miss Osborne, Towson Normal School, Miss Faley, Goucher College and Dr. French, head of Johns Hopkins University Library and Dr. Esther M. Dole, of Washington College.

The afternoon program divided itself into two sections: "Small Libraries," under the direction of Mrs. Robert R. Walker, president and librarian of Talbot County Free Library; and "Normal and High School Libraries" under the leadership of Miss Laura C. Bailey, librarian of the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute.

The discussion on Normal and High School Libraries was made vitally interesting by contributions out of the experiences of Mrs. Bennett, Salisbury Normal School; Mrs. Alles, of Annapolis High; Miss Osborne, Towson Normal; Miss Apple, Hood College and Mrs. Moncure, of Towson High and included subjects such as "Book Week Projects," "The Librarian's Relation to the Faculty, the Principal, The P. T. A." and other related topics.

Mrs. Ethel S. Fox, librarian of Washington College had charge of the arrangements for entertaining the Association and was assisted by Dr. Esther M. Dole.

The librarians from Baltimore and Western Maryland crossed the Bay on the morning Tolchester Ferry and were met by busses. At the end of the session time was allowed so the members of the Association could take a little time to explore Chestertown by bus.

Miss Adelene J. Pratt, director of the State Library Commission, together with her assistant Miss Billingslea, handled arrangements for getting the Association together, transportation, and the many details upon which the success of the occasion largely depended. Miss Pratt has visited Chestertown on several occasions and three years ago, on her first visit, brought a Bookmobile to the county to demonstrate what is being done in other states and in several Maryland counties to bring books to all sections of rural communities.

SURVEY FOREST WORK

The Maryland Department of Forestry has launched a state-wide survey to determine to what extent Maryland's unemployed can be put to work on forest-improvement projects it was announced today.

The program under consideration would foster the self-respect of persons receiving relief funds as well as carry forward productive work in the State's 50,000 acres of forest land, according to F. W. Besley, State Forester.

Several types of work are under consideration for the jobless, Mr. Besley said. They include the building ing of fire alarms and trails, the stringing of telephone lines, forest painting and tree thinning. Mr. Besley also feels that it may be possible to interest private capital in utilizing the unemployed for forest planting. In such a program, he declared, there are great possibilities.

The State Forester made it clear, however, that the details of the scheme have not yet been formulated and t hat if the program is carried out every effort will be made to cooperate with the Governor's relief committee.

"The set-up of the program," Mr. Besley said, "will depend largely upon where the operating funds come from."

It has been determined whether Baltimore's unemployed would be given forest work under the proposal, since it probably would necessitate the setting up of workers' camps at some distance from the city.

County reports now are coming in defining the extent to which the jobless could be given work and the nature of the work open to them. Mr. Besley hopes to wind up the survey in another week.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.
