TO APPEAL EUEL LEE CASE

FOUND GUILITY AND SENTENCED TO BE HUNG TWICE

Louis Berger, secretary of the InterNational Labor Defense League and Counsel for Euel Lee announced that he willl file an appeal to the Maryland Court of Appeals following a sentence last Saturday by the Baltimore County Circuit Court that Euel Lee was to be hang for the murder of Mr. Green K. Davis, a farmer of Worcester county.

Euel Lee was charged with the brutal murder of Mr. Green K. Davis, his wife and two daughters in September, 1931. The case was moved to Dorchester county and when the case came to trial, representatives of the International Labor Defense League presented themselves as voluntary counsel. They petitioned the Court of Appeals for a removal of the case off the Eastern Shore, which was granted and it came to trial in Baltimore county. Lee was found guilty and was sentenced to be hung. It was returned to the Court of Appeals on a request for a new trial which was granted. Lee was found guilty, and sentenced to be hung. The defense council has again appealed the case for a new trial.

FORESTER ADDRESSES ROTARIANS

Mr. F. W. Besley, Maryland State Forester, was th principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Chestertown Rotary Club on Monday of this week.

Pointing out the value of Maryland as a timber growing State, he said there are 157 natural species of trees in Maryland and the entire state is ideally located for timber growing. There are thousands of acres of waste land the state that could be profitably converted to timber growing that aside from the profit derived would serve to hold the soil, act as a water shed and afford protection for game and wild life.

Maryland spends four million dollars annually for freight on lumber brought here from other States and this State imports 90 per cent. of the lumber used.

The State of Maryland has acquired 50,000 acres of woodland at a very small price which is being property cared for and is opened to the public for hunting, camping sites and other recreation.

It was stated that untilable land on the Eastern shore valued at $10 per acre, if planted in lobly pine will return a revenue of approximately 4 per cent. figuring compound interest.

He pointed out the value of the present wood land if properly cared for and cut.

The talk was illustrated with a series of lantern slides showing the State forests and the damage of fire. The work of the State foresters was also illustrated.

NOW AND THEN

AUTUMN

When the maple turns to crimson and the sassafras to gold;
When the gentians in the meadow, and the aster on the wold;
When the moon is lapped in vapor, and the night is frosty-cold;
When the chestnut burrs are opened, and the acorns drop like hail,
And the drowsy air is startled with the thumping of the flail,
With the drumming of the partridge and the whistle of the quail,
Through the rustling woods I wander, through the jewels of the year,
From the yellow uplands calling, seeking her that still is dear.
She is near me in the Autumn, she, the beautiful, is near.

Autumn with her golden light is truly with us now. What an array of color one sees as he looks around; Trees have put on their brilliant dresses and gaze in the blue water which reflects their lovely shades.

Those in high places are surrounded by many temptations. The knowledge of their power and the temptations to self indulgence and neglect of the people, have wrecked many kings and princes who in the beginning promised well. But there is one king who stands before his people as a good man, not as gifted, maybe, as some of his predecessors, but one who upholds the right; and that is George V of England, who is said to have this code framed and hung in his bedroom at stately Buckingham palace.

The code is:

"Teach me to be obedient to the rules of the game.

"Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality, admiring the one and despising the other.

"Teach me neither to proffer nor to receive cheap praise.

"If I am called upon to suffer, let me be like a well-bred beast that goes away to suffer in silence.

"Teach me to win, if I may; if I may not, teach me to be a good loser.

"Teach me neither to cry for the moon nor to cry over spilt milk."

Others besides a king might profit from the bservance of such a fine code.

It is my joy in life to find
At every twining of the road,
The strong arm of a comrade kind,
To help me onward with my load,
And since I have no gold to give
And love alone must make amends,
My only prayer is while I live—
"God make me worthy of my friends."

The Women's Literary Club had a bake on Thursday afternoon for the benefit of the Public Library. There were lot of tempting things sold. These were made by the various members of the club who have been untiring in their efforts to keep the Library going. Let us do what we can to help them.

Hallow'een will soon be here with all the phantom masks and costumes. Some one has asked why that name. It is the evening before All Saints day, and it was an ancient superstition that the spirits of the dead would come out on that night and visit those they knew on earth. And so they called it All Hallows Even. Then one letter after another was dropped until it has became Hallow'een. The children look forward to it very much. Often a group of silent figures steal in the house and take a seat. As they are masked it is hard to know who they are, but when the hostess hands around refreshments they eat heartily which ghosts do not, so tney lose something of their erie appear- lose something of their lerie appear-

The late Potter Palmer's House, the finest residence in Chicago has been refused by the Association of Art and Sciences of the city, though it was offered as a free gift to it. The Palmer mansion has long been the subject of wonder, costing as it did $3,000,000 After the passing of the Palmers, Mr. Vincent Benedix bought it, but finding it a White Elephant, he has offered it "free gratis" to the association. It was promptly refused as the income could not support so large a place. So it is still to be had. Would you like to have it?

Politics are making the air blue right at present. Roosevelt and Hoover are both doing their best to win. Listeners in hear all they have to say, sitting quietly in their living room, with no crushing crowds to jostle and push. Both candidates are speaking well, and it would be hard to decide which is right, if one is not convinced before hand. It was a clever slogan that the Republican had, "of not changing horses when crossing the stream" but when the other candidate retaliated by naming the horses "Delay" and Dispair it put the shoe on another foot. And so on, and so on.

Speaking of the Radio, yesterday we were fortunate enough to catch the Atwater Kent audition of New York. The voices were beautiful and we found it hard to decide which one would win.

M. WILBUR THOMAS DEAD

ROMINENT CITIZEN DIES IN BALTIMORE HOSPITAL

M. Wilbur Thomas, aged 71 years, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mifflin W. Thomas, of Chestertown, died at the Maryland General Hospital Baltimore early Monday morning of this week.

Although he has been in failing health for a number of years, he was able to be out and around and last week, he and his sister, Miss Laura R. Thomas were visiting at the home of his nephew, Mr. Miflin Perkins in Baltimore, when he was taken suddenly ill. He was taken to the hospital Saturday evening and died Monday morning.

At the time of his death he was secretary to the Almshouse Board, and was a member of the Chestertown Lodge of Masons. He was a prominent member of the Republican party in Kent county and served as postmaster from 1904 to 1914. He was one of the organizers and president of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company, and until recent years, was actively interested in all community affairs. He was engaged in the hardware business in Chestertown for a number of years, being a member of the firm of Graham & Thomas.

He was a devoted member of the M. E. Church, being for many years in the choir and serving at one time as Superintendent of the Sunday School and president of the Epworth League, which grew and flourished under his leadership.

He is survived by two sister, Miss Laura R. A. Thomas, with whom he made his home here, and Mrs. J. Alfred Perkins, of Lansdowne, Pa., also one brother, Mr. J. A. Thomas, of New Orleans.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Washington avenue at 2 p. m. Thursday. Honorary pall bearers were members of the Alms house board and Messrs. Bayard Sutton, Dr. Charles W. Whaland, Fred G. Usilton, R. H. Collins, Sr., and L. Bates Russell. Active bearers were: Messrs. R. Lee Robinson, Mifflin Perkins, A. L. Sterling, J. S. Kreeger, William R. Howell, Thomas D. Bowers, Frank Turner and Roy Strong.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Frank White, pastor of the Chestertown M. E. Church. W. T. Hicks, undertaker.

CHESTERTOWN LEADS SOCCER SERIES

GIRLS FIELD BALL TEAM DEFEATS EASTON

Chestertown's defeat of Galena in soccer on Tuesday came somewhat as a surprise when comparative scores are figuerd. Rock Hall and Chester town played a tie game and Galena defeated Rock Hall somewhat easily. However when Chestertown and Galena met on Tuesday in Galena, Chestertown won by the score of 16 to 0. This win gives Chestertown the lead in the county series and places Galena record, Rock Hall third, and Millington fourth.

Rock Hall easily defeated Millington on Tuesday. These two teams are playing again this Friday as we go to press. Chestertown and Galena are also playing again in Chestertown.

The field ball team of the Chestertown High School defeated the Easton High School team in a practice game this week by a large score. Miss Bryan the Chestertown coach has a very promising season. Easton this year has easily defated Tilghman Island which were runners up for the championship last year. So Chestertown's easy victory over Easton gives the local high school a very promising outlook.

MEETING OF THE P. T. A.

A meeting of the P. T. A. of the Chestertown Elementary School will be held on Tuesday, November 1, 1932, at 8 p. m. in the Elementary School building.

—Do not forget to attend the Women's Exchange Market at Eliason Building on Saturday, November 5th.

Mrs. Evelyn Harris has an advertisement of many delectable things. Some one, who tasted her sweet potatos, said they were the best ever.

OFFERED UNIVERSITY PRESIDENCY

DR. PAUL E. TITSWORTH OFFERED PRESIDENCY OF ALFRED UNIVERSITY

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth

Word was received this week that Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, President of Washington College, has been offered the presidency of Alfred University, Alfred, New York, to succeed Dr. Boothe C. Davis whose resignation takes place July 31st, next.

Dr. Titsworth was Dean of Alfred University when he accepted the Presidency of Washington College in 1923. He is also a graduate of that university.

Dr. Titsworth has been out of town this week and could not be reached but it is understood that he will give his answer within two weeks.

Should this offer be accepted it will be a great loss to Washington College and Kent County. Aside from the enviable record made by Dr. Titsworth at Woshington College, in his nine years in Chestertown he has interested himself in all community enterprises. He is now serving his fourth term as President of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce, he has served one year as President of the Chestertown Rotary Club and as Governor of the 34th District, Rotary International. He was the leading spirit in the elaborate George Washington Celebration in Chestertown last June and has served on numerous other committees for the benefit of the community. His work in building up the studentbody, faculty and financial standing of Washington College is praiseworthy.

DISCUSS SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

INTELLIGENT DISCUSSION OF PROBLEM INVITED

The patrons committe of the Chestertown High School, who are interested in the enlargement of that school, met on Monday evening of this week. The Committee has compiled the following questions and answers which deal with high school centralization. Regardless of the outcome of the vote for or against the bond issue which will be presented Nov. 8th, the questions and answers should lead to an intelligent discussion of Kent's high school prblem that may bring about a possible solution, whether it be a larger high school or not.

The questions and answers follow:

Question: How much of Kent County does the high school located at Chestertown serve?

Answer: More than three-fifths (3-5) of the area of the county. Its enrollment is approximately three-fifths of the total enrollment in all of the county high schools for white children.

Question: How many pupils will the high school building at Chestertown accommodate effectively?

Answer: One hundred fifty (150.)

Question: How many pupils are now attending this school?

Answer: Three hundred thirteen (313,) more than double the maximum number for which the building was erected.

Question: Is there any probability of this number increasing?

Answer: Yes. In all probability the enrollment will increase in a very few years to 350.

Question: How many children are transported to this high school?

Answer: The school report for September, 1932, shows that one hundred eighty-nine (189) children were being transported to this high school over six routes.

Question: How many of these children are transported on busses running from Betterton, Kennedyville and Fairlee districts where high schools were once established?

Answer:

On the Betterton bus 52 pupils
On the Kennedyville bus 25 pupils
On the Fairlee bus 52 pupils.

(These busses pick up high school pupils along their routes to a point one and one-half miles from the Chestertown high school.)

At a convention called 150 years ago, during the Revolutionary War, by Dr. William Smith, then president of Washington College and rector of that church, the name was changed from the church of England to the name which it now bears.

All the Clergy and Parishes in the State were invited to attend the convention. It was a dangrous undertaking at that time, but a representative group attended.

OFFICIAL BALLOT IN THIS ISSUE

WILL BE FOUND ON PAGE NINE

When voters receive their ballot on Tuesday, November 8th, the first glance will lead them to believe that a crops of secretarys will be needed to help them vote it, but a careful study will show that there are only four marks on the ballot will vote the entire ticket.

The offices to be voted on are Congressman for the First Congressional District, for which there are two aspirants; a Democratic and a Republican; United States Senator, five aspirants Democrat, Republican, Labor, Socialist and Communist. For President and Vice President, there are, Democrat, Republican, Labor, Communist, and Socialist.

Under each of the names of the candidates for President and Vice President, are eight names for Electors of President, and Vice President, but a cross mark opposite the names of the President and Vice President will automatically elected the 8 Electors of that party and it will not be necessary to vote separately for the Electors.

High School Bond Issue On Separate Ballot

The Chestertown High School Bond Issue, authorizing the County Commissioners to bond Kent County up to $100,000 for the enlargement of the Chestertown High School, will be present on a separate ballot, so that the voters in Kent County may vote for or against that issue. Each voter will be given two ballots when they present themselves to vote.

Legislative Amendment

The voters will have the opportunity to vote for or against an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, which takes from the Maryland Legislature the power of extending the term of a Judge beyond the age limit of 70 years. The amendment also gives the General Assembly of Maryland the power, by two-thirds of the members of each House concurring with the approval of the Governor, to retire a Judge from office in case of his inability to discharge his duties with efficiency, by reason of continued sickness or of physical or mental infirmity.

FOOTBALL TODAY

WASHINGTON COLLEGE TO PLAY DREXEL
