"TIGER SHARK" AT NEW LYCEUM

Two famous screen names are at the head of the cast of "Tiger Shark" the First National exciting picture of the colorful Tuna industry which comes to the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, November 7 and 8.

Edward G. Robinson, star of the picture, and Richard Arlen, long a screen favorite, play together for the first time in this stirring and sensational epic of the seas, a story of life among the fishermen who take their lives into their hands practically every time they go to sea.

In this picture Arlen sings for the first time, rollicking songs of the sea. He plays "Pipes" a mate on Robinson's fishing boat, and gets his nickname from his vocal accomplishments.

Many of the spectacular sea shots were made off the west coast of Mexico, where man-eating sharks are found in great schools. These scenes are said to be thrilling in the extreme.

Another member of the cast is Zita Johann, the talented Hungarian actress who has recently come to this country to enter pictures, and who has been a sensation in Broadway productions.

Other important players included in the long list of characters are Leila Bennett, J. Carroll Naish, Vince Barnett, William Ricciardi and others.

"Tiger Shark" was directed by Howard Hawks, who has some of the finest screen hits of recent years to his credit, notably, "Dawn Patrol," "Scarface" and "The Crowd Roars."

R. G. NICHOLSON DEAD

ICE PLANT OWNER AND NURSERYMAN DIES AT AGE OF 85

Robert G. Nicholson, aged 85 years, died at his home near Chestertown on Saturday morning of last week, October 29th, following an illness of several weeks.

He was born in the third election district of Kent County November 5th, 1846, and at the age of 21 years he entered in the nursery business with his father and when after six years his father retired he continued on the home farm for four years. In 1877 he bought his present home and branched out in the nursery business, supplying trees to many eastern states. He owned the creamery and ice plant in Chestertown which burned in 1892, and he rebuilt the ice plant which he managed until his death.

He was a son of the late Robert and Sarah Burgess Nicholson, the former was born in Lincolnshire, Englahd and came to the United States, settling in Delaware where he married Miss Sarah S. Burgess, later moving to Kent County, Maryland.

Robert G. Nicholson married Miss Laura A. Lusby, duaghter of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Lusby, of Kent County, in 1953 who died in 1890. He was a prominent member of St. James M. P. Church and a director in the Kent Mutual Fire Insurance Company. He was one of our oldest citizens and a large host of friends mourn his death.

He is survived by the following children: Robert J. Nicholson, Baltimore; Harry B. Nicholson, Chestertown; Miss essie M. Nicholson and Miss Mary E. Nicholson, at home; Charles B. Nicholson, near Chestertown and Mrs. Conlyn E. Noland, Chestertown. Seven grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 p. m. Interment was made in Chester cemetry. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

The bearers were his three sons, Robert J., Harry B., and Charles B. Nicholson, two grandsons, Robert J. Nicholson Jr., and H. Alan Nicholson, and his son-in-law, Conlyn E. Noland.

The Rev. J. Lee Marker, pastor of St. James M. P. Church, officiated at the funeral, assisted by the Rev. Avery Donovan, of Finksburg, Md.; Dr. E. C. Makosky, Baltimore, Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, Chestertown; Rev. E. A. Simms, Oxford; and Rev. H. B. Jester, Delmar.

WALL ST. ODDS TO ROOSEVELT

What Wall Streets thinks of Governor Roosevelt's chances is demonstrated by the following list of betting odds offered last week by the brokerage house of C. Woodruff Valentine & Co.:

2 1-2 to 1 Roosevelt is elected.

6 to 5 Roosevelt carries New York state.

2 to 1 Roosevelt carries California.

9 to 5 Hoover carries Pennsylvania.

6 t 5 Hoover carries Massachusetts.

2 to 1 Hoover carries Maine.

Even Roosevelt eceives 150 more electorial votes than Hoover.

1 to 2 Roosevelt receives fur times as many electorial votes as Hoover.

1 to 3 Roosevelt receives five times as many electorial votes as Hoover.

1 to 4 Roosvelt receives seven times as many electoral votes as Hoover.

1 to 20 Roosevelt receives twenty times as many electoral votes as Hoover.

Thus virtually all the straw vote polls, most of the political writers touring the country and the Wall Street betting odds predict the election of Governor Roosevelt.

REFERRED TO EMILY POST

Which reminds me of the fellow who stood in front of a dental display window. "I think I'll get a pair like that," he mused.

NOW AND THEN

October

A drowsy haze, the sweetish tang
Of leafen embers, smoldering low,
The bronze of oak, the scarlet gum,
And hickory's radiant, saffron glow.

The hills, a blaze of color, lie,
Accented with the black of pine,
Against the deepened blue of sky,
A jagged, flaming boundary line.

The earth's bedecked with wondrous art,
A Master brush has touched each clod,
A miracle, to joy the heart,
How can one think, "There is no God?"

Helen S. Wade

Grace Darling, the English fisherman's daughter, who risked her life to go to the aid of shipwrecked passengers, though she has been dead many years, is still kept in grateful remembrance. The Duke of Northumberland and his mother went to Seahouses last Saturday to honor her memory and they joined the crew of veterans who sailed in a life boat around the harbor where she once lived.

If the Cross St., merchants desired a crowd on Hallow'een they certainly had it. Many, who went to see the perfrmence, could only see the backs of the onlooker, but to know how many attended, one need only look at the cars parked everywhere. Greased pole and greased pigs formed quite a feature in the Hallow'een program, and the victors were amply rewarded for their efforts by having poor little piggie as a gift. It is hopd that the owner will allow the pigs tho grow up so as to help fill their larders for the winter.

Every day has its sorrow, and every heart has its pain,
But a day is always coming when the birds go north again.
'Tis the sweetest thing to remember if courage be on the wane,
Whn the cold dark days are over, well, the birds go north again.

Do you like clouds? I love to see them piled up in the sky in all their fleecy whiteness. My friend has written to me wishing that not a cloud would cross my sunny sky. And yet would it bring happiness and content? I remember in 1930 during the great drouth how eagerly we looked for a cloud that would bring the needed rain. The stratus clouds that glow with the tints of the sun rise and sunset are very lovely, too and the Cirrus Clouds which they say, are ice crystals and are harbingers of coming rain are a lovely sight to see. So I guess it is better to take the Clouds as well as the sunshine, and therefore be content.

By next week the campaign will be over and the musical ringing voice of Roosevelt and the deep convincing one of President Hoover will be hushed for a time, as their speaking tours will be over. The elephant and donkey have been traveling a rough road and will be glad to rest a while from the jests and gibes which have followed them during this political year. It was hard that in the midst of unemployment and stringency of money there should be the uncertainty of a Presidential Election.

Among the Characters at the Hallow'een festivities there was one bearing on its back "Old Man Depression." From the shabby hat and miserable looking face to the ragged pants and worn out shoes it certainly bore out the character. It almost made one blue to look at the figure, but when masks were taken off, Presto what a change, a bright laughing face was revealed. And that is the way with many of our troubles. "Beneath a frowning providence He hides a smiling face."

ASKS BIDS FOR MILLINGTON ROAD

The State Roads Commission is advertising in this issue for bids on the construction of 1.9 miles of State highway from Millington toward Chesterville. According to the specifications the roadway is to be concrete with slag shoulders and will be built along the Crumpton road from Millington toward Chesterville.

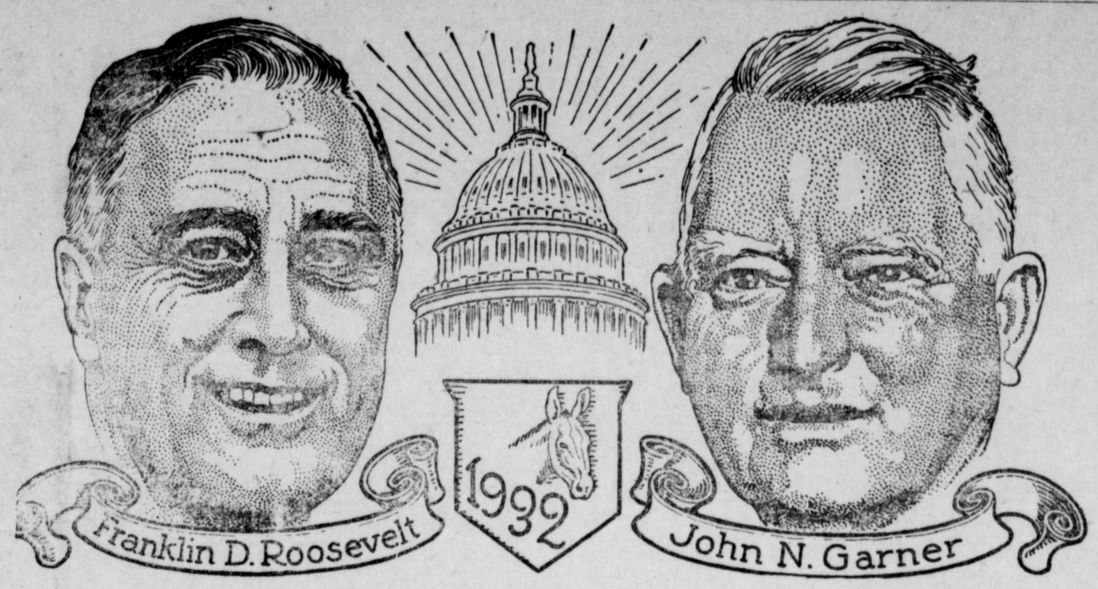

This road is to be built under the Emergency Construction Highway project under the provisions of the Federal Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932. The provisions of this act set the minimum wage scale as follows: Unskilled labor 25 cents per hour; semi-skilled labor, add 25 per cent; skilled labor, add 50 per cent. The working time for skilled and unskilled labor are limited to not over 30 hours per week and 10 hours a day.

The bids must be in the hands of the State Roads Commission by November 15th.

ROUND'N ROUND'N ROUND

"Do you remember when we met in the revolving door "

"Goodness, yes! That was when we started going around together, wasn't it?"

MILLARD E. TYDINGS

Indications point strongly to the election of Roosevelt and Garner, candidates fr president and vice president of the United States.

A change from the present Republican admission is demanded in all parts of the country and this change can safely be made with two such able leaders as Roosevelt and Garner.

The re-election of Senator Millard E. Tydings and Congrssman T. Alan Goldsborough is practically assured. Their records at Washington have been such that Maryland can safely depend upon their leadrship. Their work toward the betterment of their Stat and Nation has assured their return to their respective places in Congress.

The assurance of the election of the first Democratic President since the election of President Woodrow Wilson in 1921, is very gratifying to the Democratic party, and the prospect of a large majority for Roosevelt is a condemnation of the record of the present administration.

CITIZENS SHOULD VOTE

It is the recognized duty of every registered voter in Kent county to go to the polls on Tuesday and cast their vote although the ballot may look difficult at first, a careful study will show that there are only four marks to be made, including the amendment.

The school bond issue will be presented on a separate ballot.

The Forgotten Man

By EDWIN MARKHAM

Dedicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt, after hearing his lofty and noble appeal for the Forgotten Man.
—Edwin Markham

NOT on our golden fortunes builded high—
Not on our boasts that soar into the sky—
Not upon these is resting in this hour
The fate of the future; but upon the power
Of him who is forgotten—yes, on him
Rest all our hopes reaching from rim to rim.
In him we see all of earth's toiling bands,
With crooked backs, scarred faces, shattered hands.

HE seeks no office and he asks no praise
For all the patient labor of his days.
He is the one supporting the huge weight:
He is the one guarding the country's gate.
He bears the burdens on these earthly ways:
We pile the debts, he is the one who pays.
He is the one who holds the solid power
To steady nations in their trembling hour.
Behold him as he silently goes by,
For it is at his word that nations die.

SHATTERED with loss and lack,
He is the man who holds upon his back
The continent and all its mighty loads—
This toiler who makes possible the roads
On which the gilded thousands travel free—
Makes possible our feasts, our roaring boards,
Our pomps, our easy days, our golden hoards.
He gives stability to nations: he
Makes possible our nation, sea to sea.
His strength makes possible our college walls—
Makes possible our legislative halls—
Makes possible our churches soaring high
With spires, the fingers pointing to the sky.

SHALL then this man go hungry, here in lands
Blest by his honor, builded by his hands?
Do something for him: let him never be
Forgotten: let him have his daily bread:
He who has fed us, let him now be fed.
Let us remember all his tragic lot—,
Remember, or else be ourselves forgot!

ALL honor to the one that in this hour
Cries to the world as from a lighted tower—
Cries for the Man Forgotten. Honor the one
Who asks for him a glad place in the sun.
He is a voice for the voiceless. Now, indeed,
We have a tongue that cries the mortal need.

WASHINGTON LOSES TO DREXAL

LOCAL'S OFFENSIVE WORK SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Showing a brand of offensive playing last Saturday, that has been lacking in the other games this season, Washington College scored two touchdowns against the undefeated Drexal team, here in Chestertown. At the end of the first quarter Drexel was leading by one touchdown, scored when that team intercepted a forward pass well in Washington's territory and rushing it across.

In the second period each team scored a touchdown, the locals getting theirs when Baker intercepted a lateral pass and ran for 30 yards to score.

In the third quarter Washington's offensive work resulted in a touchdown to tie the score 13 to 13. In the fourth quarter Drexal had things their own way and scored a safety and two touchdowns to win 28 to 13.

The strong wind materially affected the aerial work and punting of both teams. Rinehold, Baker, Nicholson and Hall were outstanding for the local eleven.

RENEW RELATIONS WITH DELAWARE

Probably the most important game of the season as far as local fans are concerned will be staged on Kibler field, Chestertown, on November 26th when the locals meet thee University of Delaware. This game will mark the renewal of football relations between the two Peninsula colleges which was broken of several years ago following a game played at Delaware. That game was rough and the fans who went with the local eleven added to the trouble.

Silver Foot Ball Trophy

To increase the interest in this game and to perpetuate friendly rivalry between the two teams, Senator Daniel O. Hastings, of Dover, has donated a silver trophy to remain each year in the hands of the team winning the annual game. The trophy will be contested for the first time this year.

To Play Mt. St. Mary's Today

The Shoremen will journey to Emmitsburg today for the annual clash with Mt. St. Mary's. This team has slightly bettered Washington in past years and a hard game is predicted.

(COMMUNICATED)

THE CHESTERTOWN HIGH SCHOOL BOND QUESTION

Messrs Editors:

Next week, the voters of this County will be given the opportunity of passing upon the ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLAR Bond Issue for an addition to the Chestertown High School and in rder that my position may be clearly and publicly known, I am asking you to kindly publish this letter.

In 1931, I was asked, as Kent's representative in the Maryland Senate, to introduce and have passed a Bill providing for a Bond Issue for this High School addition. This request was first made by certain school authorities and was later supplemented by a Committee of Patrons of the Chestertown High School who were interested in securing this improvement. The Superintendent of Schools first had in mind a Bond Issue for a MUCH GREATER SUM than One Hundred Thousand Dollars and also desired a special election in 1931 to pass on this question which would have entailed an extra cost of several thousand dollars. Believing that the people of Kent County always have the right to pass upon any question affecting local improvements, I thought it only proper to have such a Bill passed but with a referendum attached so that the voters of Kent County could determine whether this expenditure is justified at this time.

I appreciate the crowded conditions now existing at the Chestertown High School. I also appreciate the handicaps under which teachers in this School are laboring and some way should be worked out to remedy these evils.

Mr. Robinson has been repeatedly warned in his persistent desire to consolidate the schools in this County, with the resulting costly transportation of high school pupils to Chestertown, that the Chestertown High School would be overcrowded. This did not stop him from annually recommending the closing of rural schools and the transportation of additional high school pupils to Chestertown. All this could be corrected without an extra cent of additional cost to Kent County if the high school facilities outside of Chestertown and at present existing were utilized for the purposes for which they were originally intended.

Kent is in no position to increase her Bonded indebtedness. The people of this County are in no position to pay additional taxes. Many cannot pay the taxes now levied and while I regret to differ with the representative Citizens who form the present High School Commission advocating the passage of this Bond Issue, I do want to call attention to the fact that if the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Bond Issue is passed, there is no legal way to prevent the School authorities from spending the whole One Hundred Thousand Dollars instead of the fifty-five thousand Dollars which they say will be required for this construction.

Yours truly,
S. SCOTT BECK.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF KENT COUNTY:

The County Commissioners, recognizing the financial condition of the County, express their personal and official objection to the Bonding of the County for any additional sums and are opposed to the said Bond Issue.

Kent County at the present time is bonded for $809,000.00 and in our opinion the Tax Payers can not stand an increased burden. We believe that at the next session of the Legislature our Assessment on Real Estate should be materially decreased and that new revenue to support the schools should be sought from another source of income.

LEONARD WILSON,
CHAS. D. WOOD,
SAMUEL C. LOLLER,
County Commissioners of Kent County, Maryland.

REV. S. S. HEPBURN DEAD

Dr. Sewell S. Hepbuon aged 87 years, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Kent county died at his home near Still Pond yesterday, Friday, at 1.30 p. m. His life has been an example of religious uplift and service to his fellow man. He had for many years served as rector of St. Paul's and I .U. Parish and his rural church work has extended to many parts of Maryland and Virginia. His life has endeared him to members of all church denominations and he carried on his religious and charitable work until the end. His desire to carry on his work as long as he lived was fulfilled as he was taken ill while supplying at St. Paul's Church this summer and his condition has grown steadily worse since. His life and work has been confined to rural sections and the perpetuation of the rural churches. As his death came at the time of going to press a more detailed account of his life will appear in the next issue of this paper.
