VOTING POPULATION

1. Within the past few weeks the Bureau of Census in the Department of Commerce has made available estimates on the number of qualified voters who were eligible to participate in the election, November 8, and the figure is placed at about 70,000,000 potential voters, without regard to the number which might not be able to meet state and local regulations, such as those having to do with poll taxes.

2. The population of the United States, April 1, 1930, according to the census was 122,775,046. According to the Bureau of Census method of estimating the population increase, the population next November 8 would be about 125,128,000.

3. An alien in order to become entitled to vote has to take out naturalization papers, in accordance with the provisions of the law.

4. The percentage of those who voted at the last presidential election was between 40 and 60 per cent of those entitled to vote.

5. The Nineteenth Amendment, which became a part of the Constitution in August, 1920.

6. The wording of the Amendment is: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

7. These who were voted for at the November 8 election were President and Vice President of the United States; all the members of the House of Representatives, and one-third of the members of the United States Senate.

Signs in New England

All signs that display things in facsimile or in miniature are rapidly becoming extinct in New England towns and villages. Half a century ago a highly gilded mortar and pestle hung outside nearly every well-regulated drug store. A big gold tooth proclaimed the proximity of the dentist's office. An enormous watch of black and gold swung above the jeweler's doorway. The cobbler announced his specialties in white letters on the side of a giant wooden boot. Wooden Indians with raised hatchets stood guard for the tobacconist.

Stopping Lightning

Out of every 100 buildings struck by lightning only two are protected by lightning rods, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. Lightning causes the nation an annual fire loss of $12,000,000, and proper lightning protection could materially reduce this, the department says.

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old.

Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a little every day or so, until every organ in your body feels the big improvement.

The next time you have a bilious headache, or feel all bound-up, take this delicious syrup instead of the usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

JESSE HERD BROADCASTS

TELLS OF CLUB PROJECT AS MONEY MAKER

The following talk was broadcast over WBAL on Friday, November 5th by Jesse Herd of near Chestertown:

When I get through college I am going to breed the best pigs in the State of Maryland. If possible, I am going to breed as fine sheep and beef cattle as can be produced in Maryland. That sounds like a boast but I really mean it as my aim.

Before I started 4-H club work five years ago last spring my father raised the hogs. Last spring we were sorting young litters and dad remarked that the ones we were sending out to a certain lot were not much good. A neighbor who was there told him that the worst of these were better than the best he had when he was breeding and raising the herd. Father admitted it. I think he is growing as much interested as I am in better swine, and perhaps he will want to be my senior partner some day.

I paid 65 cents for my first pig. Now I am paying my way through college with pigs. In the past three years they have cleared me just about a thousand dollars.

My home is not far from college and I am there enough to take complete management of the breeding, feeding and care of the swine on the home place. The entire herd belongs to me. A few of the fifty pigs are of very fine breeding. Some are being produced for commercial pork purposes, some for building up the herd, and some are definitely considered as breeders of excellent stock for 4-H club members who desire good blood lines. Farmers are buying from the herd for breeding purposes and there has ben a lively demand for sires from the best animals. Three years ago one of my litters placed first in the State Ton Litter Contest. Some individuals from this litter are now among the best breeding stock I have.

In order to learn more about breeding of swine as well as to earn money for my college education I have been showing pigs at fairs. As I go to these fairs and find better blood lines than I now have, I purchase here and there a pig.

I have made over $..... in prizes this year.

David just told you about his chickens. He gives his spare time to poultry. Many of our club boys raise and own dairy catle. We have a few boys in crops clubs too. The value of all the projects owned by club boys in Maryland will amount to nearly $300,000 this year. Add the value of what Mary Myers has been telling you and it runs up around half a million dollars. The 900,000 club members in America must have had around fifty million dollars' worth of projects in 1932.

Of course, the money isn't the only value we get out of club work. Bill Comella says his new friends are worth a lot more than his new swine. Our County Agent, Mr. J. D. McVean, says that one of the best, if not the best, thing 4-H club work brings us is the willingness or desire to do the home and farm jobs better; to learn and practice approved methods. Well, that is a great motto we have—"To Make the Best Better." It pays with my pigs and I guess it pays when I apply it to myself.

SEAL SALE FOR RELIEF OF TUBERCULOSIS VICTIMS

When you make up your Christmas list, be sure to remember the Christmas Seal. Small in size, it has done a big job, and still has great things to do in these days of stress. One out of every five persons who dies between the ages of 15 and 45 falls a victim to tuberculosis.

The enormous toll of automobile fatalities frequently is mentioned, but the toll from tuberculosis is three times that from automobile accidents. And in such cases the end comes suddenly, and does not, as with tuberculosis, often involve an entire family in distress and poverty which may increase the danger of the disease to other members of the household.

Tuberculosis is preventable, and we know how to prevent it. The history of the tuberculosis movement proves this. During the 25 years the Christmas Seal has been sold in Maryland, the death rate has declined more than 50 per cent. Part of this has been due to the anti-tuberculosis activities of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association, which sponsors the annual Seal Sale in Maryland. The Christmas Seal helps support the Miracle House, Maryland's preventorium at Claiborne, Maryland; statewide free chest clinic service; health education and industrial work; and medical research.

The twentysixth annual Christmas Seal Sale opens on Thanksgiving Day and will continue until Christmas.

Water Buffalo a Fighter

The wild water buffalo of Asia, sometimes called the Indian buffalo, is rapidly becoming very rare. Like the African buffalo, it is very dangerous. It is found most often wading on river bottoms and flood plains, frequently wallowing in the mud. It formerly ranged the low country along the Ganges and Brahmaputra rivers, and also in the northern part of Ceylon. Large herds are no longer seen, and there has been local interbreeding between the wild and domestic stock. On account of its semi-aquatic habits it is very useful in the rice fields.

LEGION PLANE VISITS CHESTERTOWN

FAILS TO FIND LANDING FIELD

Although the American Legion airplane which flew over all parts of the state collecting American Legion membership cards was scheduled to stop at Chestertown and pick up the cards from Cecil, Kent and Queen Anne's counties, the stop was not made as the pilot failed to find the landing field. Colonel Schwab, Commander of the local post, and Dr. G. Alan Jarman, treasurer, were at the airport and tried to signal the plane without success.

Fifteen hundred American Legion membership renewals in the State were reported last night by Arthur L. McGee adjutant of the Department of Maryland, on his return from an airplane trip to the Eastern Shore, where he collected the cards for that territory.

Another plane visited the Hoover Airport, gathered the cards of the Southern Maryland Legion posts, then hopped to Cumberland and on the return trip to Baltimore landed at Frederick, where the Western Maryland cards were collected. Both plans belong to the Maryland National Guard.

Armed with these figures, Brig.-Gen. Milton A. Rackord, Adjutant-General of Maryland and commander of the department, and Mr. McGee this afternoon will leave for Indianapolis to be present at the meeting of the State commanders and State adjutants. The meeting will start tomorrow and end Friday.

It was Mr. McGee's first trip in an airplane. He accompanied Lieut. Charles D. Warfield, Maryland National Gurd, on the trip. They left Logan Field at 12.30 P. M. and returned at 4.15 p. m. The schedule included stops at Chestertown, Easton and Salisbury.

Major Thomas McNicholas, National Guard, represented the Legion in the other plane, piloted by Lieut. J. Francis Bledsoe, also of the National Guard. They left Logan Field at 10.30 A. M. and returned at 5 p. m.

The card collection yesterday marked the opening of a membership campaign in the Legion which will last until January 1.

Gruff Father (to son just from commercial school)—"Why don't you get out and find a job? When I was your age I was working for $13 a week in a store and at the end of five years I owned the store."

Son—"You can't do that nowadays. They have cash registers."

SHOPPING JEFFERSON'S

For some strange reason most advertising of clothes and women's gadgets appears to aim only at the young, slim and beautiful. Funny, isn't it, considering the frankness of our mirrors. Moreover, you know, great artists refuse to bother with painting YOUNG people; their faces, say the artists, are blank, their characters haven't "jelled," their charm and magnetism is undeveloped. And if you remember your history you'll note that the great charmers have been ladies over forty, from Cleopatra to Madame de Maintenon.

So this letter I am directing particularly to women who have reached a round maturity of mind and body. And I don't mean "Stylish Stouts," either.

I defy anyone to point out a lovelier sight than a gracious, up-standing woman, poised and assured regardless of the forty or fifty or more years on her shoulders, dressed appropriately and smartly.

Let's start with shoes. They must be GOOD Shoes, more than ever at this age. And inconspicuous. Take the Dixon and Bartlett Kid Oxford in black or brown, Cuban wood heel, simple, exquisitely made and appropriate. Or the little one strap low heeled pump of soft velvety calf, comfortable and smart at $4.95. Or if you want particular arch support, see the black kid arch bridge Oxford with a forged steel shank.

Next come frocks. There's a black flat crepe, cut cleverly with long lines and trimmed with velvet that I liked a lot. Size 44. And there's a wine-colored crepe delicately trimmed with hand-drawn work, size 40, and perfect with gray or white hair. Then for someone with brown eyes, someone rather short and plump, there's a darling of a rough crepe dress, soft brown, with velvet near the face, and edging the flowing sleeves, priced at $8.95.

Among the hats (better carry this letter along to help you remember the names) ask for models called "Diana," "Juliette," and "Geneva." They're GOOD.

LYDIA LEE.

From Country's Highest Telephone One May Call Rest Of The World

Atop Pike's Peak, Colo., 14,109 feet high, is the highest telephone on the North American continent. Since it is a standard Bell System telephone, linked with the central office at Colorado Springs a few miles away, from it one may call 92 per cent of the world's telephones on this and four other continents. Bottom picture shows Pike's Peak, taken from main street of Colorado Springs; at upper right is shelter house at summit; and in circle is the telephone in actual use.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Refuse substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.
