The Curbstone Diplomat

BY WILLIAM S. COLLINS

The Delaware-Washington contest last week end, including all side festivities was indeed a gala affair.

Estimates of the attendance at the games vary between twelve hundred and two thousand. Why worry about a hundred or so, when a million or so error in the national debt makes no difference. However it is certain, that the number paying admission and the number there, did not check by long shot: maybe as bad as two to one.

Yet, who is to be blamed? People did not go to Kibler Field on Saturday, to spend the afternoon in line, waiting to buy a ticket. They went to see the foot ball game and when it came to a choice of seeing the whole game or waiting in line, many refused to be bothered about buying a ticket. Add these to the usual number of gate crashers and it is easy to understand, why the number of spectators on the field and number of tickets sold, did not check.

The game was advertised far and wide and the high-ups were estimating a big attendance. It is too bad that better preparations were not made for handling the crowd. Not blaming anyone in charge because it is the first time this difficulty has arisen, but in the future let us hope it is remedied. Let us also hope the games continue to draw a large attendance.

The dance was said to have been a lively affair and a good time was had by all. The Alumni contributed much towards the dance's success. They went for a big time and they had it.

There seems to be one great thing lacking in college training and that is honesty.

Most all colleges use the student-government plan and as far as classroom work is concerned the plan is very successful. Probably in some colleges it may not be perfect but in some it can be called, perfect. Students will be honest about their studies and yet go into a store and steal.

Steal something out a store, get a meal and sneak out without paying for it, go some place of amusement and slip in without paying, is something they do and brag about it. They call it swiping, gate-crashing, chiseling etc. Words like stealing and larcency are applied to the poor and to those that do not, as they say "Stand In."

A poor man stealing food or coal, when caught is arrested and sent to prison. The poorer and greater his necessity, the greater his punishment is likely to be. In some places they are advocating the whipping post for thieving. This may be all right for those that make a business of stealing but certainly not for anyone thieving because of necessity.

A college student on a trip, crashing the gate at a game, eating a meal and not paying for it, going to a drug store for a coca cola and stealing an electric iron, going to a dance and stealing an overcoat, should be punished as well as the poor thief stealing a chicken. Instead of punishment the student brags about his smartness and the chances of having him arrested are small.

Pranks are expected from college students and most all of us glory in their fun but they can certainly be honest. Probably students in one college are no worse than those in another. We are told the college men and women are to be the leaders of our nation and it certainly looks as though we need honest ones.

ROCK HALL GIRLS WIN

The Girls field ball team of the Rock Hall High School defeated the girls team from Cecilton on Thursday of this week. This game was one of a series for the championship of the Eastern Shore and State. In the first match Rock Hall drew a bye and Cecil county defeated Queen Anne's.

Rock Hall will now play the winner of the game between Caroline and Talbot counties in the semi-finals.

Thursday's game was closely contested and Cecilton lead at the end of the first half 8 to 6, but from the start of the second half Rock Hall began to gain and the game ended with Rock Hall leading 14 to 11.

"CONVICT'S DASH" AT LYCEUM

The actual dynamiting of a bridge in a convict's dash for freedom is but one of the many spectacular scenes in "I Am A Fugitive From A Chain Gang," a Warner Bros. picture which will show at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, December 5 and 6.

Who makes your Fire Insurance Rate?

Property owners—individually and collectively—create the conditions which determine the cost of their fire insurance.

There is nothing secret in the making of fire insurance rates. Several major facts enter into the determination of these charges, such as construction, occupancy, the quality of private and public fire protection, exposure from other property and general loss experience.

ELIMINATE HAZARDS

Stock Fire Insurance Companies maintain bureaus to assist in eliminating fire hazards or correcting defects which may affect your rate. The advice of such bureaus is offered to you free of charge through your insurance agent.
