NO ONE CARES to hear a story they have heard before, so why keep talking about the depression and how hard times are. Everyone knows it, everyone is constantly reminded of it without being told about it. "Where there is no vision the people perish," and unless the attitude of people change and at least do away with the mental depression there will be no vision. Pessimism is destructive and at the presnt time constructive thoughts will go a long way toward releiving the presening attitude of mind.

THE DONATION OF 500 pairs of shoes and stockings to the children of Kent county by Mr. Raymond A. Sinskey, of Baltimore, is praiseworthy charitable work. This donation, together with the careful study made by school authorities, assures the placing of the shoes and stockings where they are actually needed. It will make it possible for many Kent county children to attend school who would otherwise have been handicapped in receiving an education. One of the main problems of charitable work is helping those who deserve and need it most. While the present financial condition of many families can not be blamed on the parents, yet the children are exempt from any possible responsibility and the proper care of them, who are the future generation, is charitable work well done.

REACHES 132 ANNIVERSARY

Our neighbor, the Easton Star-Democrat, published at Easton, Md., reached its 132 birthday last week. The Star-Democrat is, we believe the most outstanding country newspaper on the Eastern Shore, if not in the state, and we congratulate brotner Samuel E. Shannahan upon the great success he has made in bringing this paper to the high standard of journalism it has attained.

Brother Shannahan received many congratulatory letters from a number of the State's prominent citizens among whom are Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, Mark S. Watson, Editor of Sunday Sunday, J. Ramsey Speer, Mayor Howard W. Jackson, of Baltimore; Samuel K. Dennis, Treasurer of Maryland, Wm. S. Gordy, Jr., Comptroller of Maryland, Senator M. E. Tydings and we publish in full the letter of Mr. Wilson M. Tylor, with whom Mr. Shannahan started as a boy to learn the printing and newspaper business, as we regard this letter, from a newspaper standpoint, as the most outstanding or any received by Mr. Shannahan because it shows the great esteem in which he is held by the one who has known him intimately from boyhood and knows him best:

November 26, 1932

Dear Sam:

I see by The Star-Democrat of this week that it has closed its 132 years of service to Talbot County and that the coming issue will mark another birthday anniversary. It is quite likely numerous Maryland editors will congratulate the paper, but as an ex-editor I feel like chiming in, though I have no editorial pool of my own in which to splash. I so well remember the pleasure it gave me to read the favorable comments others made of the old Easton Gazette when you and I ran it years ago. I can say "you" with sincerity, for you did run it, boy as you were with me a man. In those good old days when editors were paid in railroad passes, how often I galavanted over the country leaving you at the helm. I was always well satisfied to shift the responsibility after I had proved your capabilities as a newspaper prospective. You never failed me. You rescued my forms and mailing list from the disastrous fire which wiped out the office in 1895. You were alert for any suspicion of business that might roll my way; and when you asked for an increase of one dollar a week I went it one better and gave you two. This most finished us both, you remember, but we stood it. Yes, Sam, those twenty years were not unalloyed halcyonic, neither were they vitriolic. I still love to think of them, in a way. I survived two years without your help, and then I left the tiller of The Gazette for others to navigate. That has been twenty-three years, and you have been holding The Star Democrat true to its course, and what a rousing success you have made of it! In the days of which I speak, had it been announced that Talbot County would suport such a paper as The Star-Democrat has grown to be under your management, the person making such a statement would have been pronounced crazy. And the mystery of it all even staggers an old editor like myself to this day. "Still growing," you say. When or where is it going to stop?

The chances for either of us seeing the next 132 years of The Star-Democrat are very remote, so I am just letting my sincere congratulations run riot, and hope you will long control the old paper which has added so much credit to the journalistic history of Talbot County.

NEW LYCEUM THEATRE

MONDAY and TUESDAY
DECEMBER 12 and 13
4 Marx Bros.
—in—
"Horsefeathers"

A scandalous record of low Marx at college—or life among love-thirsty co-eds. Not a grain of sense in the whole feed bag—but one mad burst of happy hysterics, set to gay music and garnished with lovely gifts. The maddiest, merriest comics of them all in the years greatest comedy hit "HORSEFEATHERS."

Added—Aesops Fables, Act, Comedy.

WEDNESDAY -- THURSDAY
DECEMBER 14 and 15
"Madison Square Garden"
—with—
Jack Oakie
Thomas Meighan
Zazu Pitts
Marion Nixon
Lew Cody

Another FIRST RUN for CHESTERTOWN. The brand new Paramount hit "MADISON SQUARE GARDEN" will play here day and date with KEITHS in BALTIMORE. A spectacular romantic drama enacted in the world's most famous sports arena. A picture that will thrill you from beginning to end, with the finest cast ever assembled in one picture.

Added—Fox MOVIETONE News, "Hollywood On Parade," Cartoon, TOM HOWARD Act "The Rookie."

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
DECEMBER 16 and 17
Joe E. Brown
—in—
"You Said A Mouthful"
—with—
Ginger Rogers
"Farina"

Just imagine Joe E. Brown as the marathon swimmer who finds women, women everywhere—and all he can do is SINK. Laughs are only a penny a dozen—and do they come fast and furious in "YOU SAID A MOUTHFUL." See your old pail JOE as a marathon swimmer who was so afraid of water he wouldn't even wash in it. Fine comedy cast includes FARINA the former star of OUR GANG comedies. YOU SAID A MOUTHFUL is now playing STANLEY in Baltimore and the whole city is raving about Joe E. Brown in his new comedy hit.

Added—Technicolor Musical "Hey, Hey, Westerner," Paramount Pictorial, "Betty Boop For President" cartoon.
