HEAVY SNOW FALL SATURDAY

MAIN HIGHWAYS KEPT CLEAR FOR TRAFFIC

A ten inch snow fell in Kent County on Saturday of last week, the heaviest since 1928. The snow started at 6.15 a. m. and continued until midnight. Boat transportation was halted and automobile trafic was almost at a standstill except on the main highways. The local district of the State Roads Commission, started Saturday morning, shortly after the snow had gained a three inch depth, and had all of the snow plowing equipment on the main highways from the northern part of Cecil county to Talbot and Caroline counties.

The main highways were kept passable at all times except near Matapeake on Kent Island where the snow drifted to a four foot depth.

This was pened Sunday morning with the help of a rotary plow sent up from Salisbury.

The Tolchester and Matapeake ferries were unable to make their runs on Saturday and many local residents were compelled to remain in Baltimore until Sunday. A number of motorists braved the storm and drove around to Chestertown but were compelled to travel at half speed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Loller, while enroute to their home near Worton became stuck in a snow bank and were compelled to walk through the blinding snow to a nearby farm house. Local garages sold out of tire chains and aside from getting stuck and skidding to the roadside, there were no serious accidents reported in this section. A fatal accident was reported in Caroline

SANTA CLAUS TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

SHOE DONATION HERE

Five pairs hundred shoes and stockings, a gift of Raymond A. Sinskey, 33-year-old Baltimore financier and philanthropist, left a New York factory this week for Chestertown, consigned to Superintendent of Schools Louis C. W. Raymond Moody, a friend of the philanthropist, organized the State prior to the distribution and made the allotments to the various counties. Mr. Sinskey and Mr. Moody have been invited to tour the State following the distribution and are considering visiting some of the counties. The State Board of Aids and Charities is lending its support to the shoe distribution and officials are enthusiastic over the good it will do at this time. This disease was worth any amount of bail needed and he was released upon his own recognizance after the public health authorities were notified.
