W. C. DEFEATS WESTERN MARYLAND

EXCITING GAME ENDS 34 TO 31 IN WASHINGTON'S FAVOR.. HODGSON PLAYS WELL. EXTRA PERIOD PLAYED

Contrary to all predictions, Western Maryland gave Washington College a real battle last Saturday night and forced an extra five minute period to decide the tilt.

Though Washington won, their playing was very ragged. Time after time they fumbled passes and threw the ball out of bounds.

Western Maryland, which was doped to lose, handled the ball very well and played a more consistant game.

At the start, Western Maryland rolled up a five point lead before Washington scored. Washington finally cut this lead down to two points at half time.

The second half was sort of a rough and tumble affair, exciting because it was close. With the score tied at 27-27, Hodgson made a pretty pass to Skipp, who should easily have made a goal, but he fumbled and the whistle blew with the score tied.

In the extra five minute period Hodgson starred with two goals and a foul. He went in the game just a few minutes before the close of the second half, and was the only Washington man that seemed to be able to get the ball from the tap off.

This was Washington's second victory over Western Maryland in basket-ball this year having defeated them at Westminster the week before 37-24.

It is hoped Washington will be up to usual form, when they play Loyola next Saturday.

GRAVEL FOR COUNTY ROADS

The use of gravel in stead of slag for improving Kent County's dirt road system is fast gaining favor and this spring Kent's roads will be improved with local materials at much less cost.

Gravel pits have been located in all parts of the county and according to County engineer, Gilbert Taylor, roads of this material can be built better than slag and at one-fourth the cost.

The gravel roads, built last fall, have withstood the winter better than some of the slag roads. The cost of a mile of slag road including drainage and preparing road bed has been placed at an average of $400 per mile, costing more or less according to the distance of haul. The cost of a mile of slag road will average today approximatey $1800. The cost of a load of slag which is approximately one and a half tans, costs $2.62 delivered on the track or boat. The cost of a load of gravel in the pit will average approximately 30 cents, according to grade. The material costs practically determine the difference in the road costs although the cost of loading from a gravel pit is more than loading slag from a car or boat.

NO SALE FOR OYSTERS

The shortage and low price for oysters is not the only worry of local oystermen. The problem of finding someone to buy the oysters is the principal trouble facing tongers. In past years buy-boats were always on hand and shucking houses provided a means of disposing of the catch but at the present time there are no buy-boats and shucking houses can not dispose of their products. Prices in past years have been very low at times but there was always someone to buy them at some price.

Fishing At Standstill

Following a record run of blue fish last summer and fall, all species of fish seem to have gone to some other locality. It is said that fishermen in the vicinity of Rock Hall cannot catch enough for their own table, and one fisherman stated that last week he did not fish his nets for three days and at the end of that period he caught only seven fish. Just why the fish should join in to help worry the fishermen is not known.

SIX OLD CITIZENS DIE

In the issue of this paper of January 14th, were published the deaths of five citizens whose ages aggregated 446 years. They were: Mrs. John H. Evans 85, Mrs. Sarah J. Cannon 92, Mr. J. Person Jewell 92, Mr. Charles Kischnick 93, and Mr. Charles Poore 84, while in last week's issue was published the death of Mr. Edward Caple who was 104 years old. It is unusual that so many old people should have died so close together, an occurrence that may never happen again.

URGED TO PAY TOWN TAXES

Thomas D. Bowers, clerk to the Mayor and City Council of Chestertown, has issued a notice urging all city taxpayers who have not yet paid their 1932 taxes to do so at once to avoid accumulation of interest charges.

Beginning January 1, 1933, interest on all deferred tax payments is collectable from September 1, 1932, and the longer the payment is deferred the greater the interest charges will be.

PLANS SHIPYARD HERE

Mr. Greenwood, of North East, was in Chestertown this week looking for a location for a shipyard. Mr. Greenwood plans to establish a yard for the building and repair of pleasure boats. It is understood that a number of sites are being considered.

COW HIDE NETS 7 CENTS

A farmer of Chapel District slaughtered a cow a few days ago. He brought the hide to C. W. Hopkins, of Cordova, who paid the farmer 25 cents for it. The hide was shipped to the city, and a day of two ago Mr. Hopkins received a letter in which were three 3-cent stamps. The letter stated that the shipper was entitled to 7 cents after the expenses had been deducted. The hide weighed at the time it was shipped 40 pounds, but when it reached the city the buyer stated it had shrunk to 37 pounds. The price paid was 2 cents a pound, making the total 74 cents. The freight bill was 67 cents, leaving a balance of 7 cents. Mr. Hopkins stated that a few years ago this same hide would have been worth five or six dollars.

Announcement

Having severed my connection with Bordley & Son I am now representing the English-American Personal Tailoring Service and am prepared to take your orders for made-to-measure clothes.

Made-to-measure clothes are for every man! And with our extremely low prices for quality tailoring we've done a lot to convince folks that there's nothing like a made-to-measure suit.

Drop me a card, or give me a ring, the phone number is Chestertown 36-J, and I'll be glad to call and show you samples of our many styles and patterns.
