IN MEMORY OF WM. CLARENCE CREW, OF BETTERTON, MD.

BY MRS. R. C. YOUNG

He is gone, our friend and love one,
And his going gives us pain:
We shall miss him, Ah! yes often,
But our loss is now his gain.

The life he spent with his fellow-man
Embraced the Golden Rule,
The seed being sown in his childhood days,
When a little boy at school.

None knew him but to praise him,
His manner was always kind:
From the smallest tot, to the eldest folks,
Ah! sweet memories to leave behind.

And to that wife and children,
And a mother old and gray:
A sister dear, and brothers true
"God" bless each one we pray.

Let not your heart be troubled,
Neither let it be afraid:
No matter how dark the valley
"He" is there, to comfort and to aid.

And while this shadow has fallen,
And death this race has won:
Our loved one's work is ended here,
But a finer Pilgrimage begun.
