TRUE LOVE

After the tiff she calmed down a bit.

"But how can you love me, George," she said. "The doctor says I must have a course of slimming, and now you won't let me. I think that's very brutal of you."

He took her in his arms.

"My darling," he replied, "I love you so much that I can't bear to lose an ounce of you."—Answers.

On Dangerous Ground

Her father snorted contemptuously.

"You have the nerve to come and ask me for my daughter's hand. You!" he snapped at the shaking suitor.

"That's so, sir," said the young man.

"But she doesn't want to be tied to an idiot all her life," barked her father.

"Well, sir, why not let me take her off your hands," said the suitor coolly enough.—Answers.

SAVED

Wifey (after quarrel)—You were a struggling young man when I married you.

Hubby—Yes, I'll give you credit for landing me.

Correct

The schoolmaster was interesting his class of boys in red Indians.

"What do we call the leaders of the tribes, Smith?" he asked.

"Chiefs, sir."

"Quite correct. And what do we call the red Indian women, Jones?" was the next question.

Jones hesitated, then said, "Well . . . mischiefs, sir."—London Tid-Bits.

Today's Trend

"Son," said a stranger in town, as he stepped out of the elevator, "can you direct me to the nearest bank?"

"I'll direct you for half a dollar," answered Sammy, the elevator boy.

"Isn't that a rather high price?" demanded the stranger, curiously.

"Not at all," came back Sammy. "Bank directors always get good pay."—B'nai Brith Magazine.

Mutual

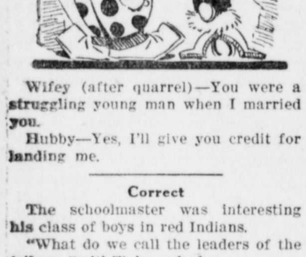

Junior's grandmother was horrified to come into the room and find the youngster on the table helping himself to anything he pleased.

"What a boy, what a boy!" was her comment.

He looked around for a moment and came back with:

"And what a grandma, what a grandma!"

SOJOURNING

"Gee, Bill, is dat you, where have you been keepin' yourself des days?"

"Why I have been on one of them personally conducted ten-day, including-all-expenses tours to de jail."

Condensed Geography

Teacher—What are the products of the West Indies?

Boy—I don't know.

"Come, come! Where do you get sugar from?"

"We borrow it from the next-door neighbor." — El Padre (San Jose, Calif.).

A Freezing Girl

Jack—So you are taking that frosty Jane on a date tonight, eh?

Bill—Yeh! What of it?

Jack—Oh, nothing, only I took her out once and she was so frigid that the water in the radiator of my car froze up before we got to the dance.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Becomes Custom

Explorer—As we went through the virgin forest we met nothing but poisonous snakes.

Lady—Heavens! I should have died of fright.

Explorer—Only the first time—after that you get used to them.—Die Gruene Post (Berlin).

Learning the Ins and Outs

Little Girl (answering doorbell)—My mother told me to tell you she was out, sir.

Installment Collector—Go and ask your mother if she'll be here when she comes back.—Montreal Star.

Same Effects

We've given up taking cold showers every morning. We go down to the bank and ask for a loan instead.—Judge.

Telling the Tailor

"Is it true that my son has owed you for a suit for three years?"

"Yes. Have you come to pay the bill?"

"No—I would like a suit on the same terms."—Hummel, Hamburg.

The Familiarity Hoodoo

Miss Gush—Isn't love at first sight wonderful?

Married Cynic—It's love after a few thousand sights that's really wonderful.—Boston Transcript.
