KENT BOYS 4-H CLUB NOTES

HANDY ANDY 4-H CLUB ELECTS

The Handy Andy 4-H Calf Club met Saturday night, March 18th at the home of the Sutton's, near Locust Grove. The annual election of officers resulted in the following: President, Roy Freeman; Vice President, Thomas Cruikshank; Secretary Wilson Sutton; Treasurer, Robert Fogwell.

A detailed report of the trip to Harrisburg Farm Products Show in January was made by Roy Freeman, who attended as a member of the State Judging Team. The club decided to begin holding practice judging meetings next month and prepare for the county and state shows this summer. A new program of work with definite goals will be drawn up and a new membership campaign will be carried on in the near future.

Every boy in Kent County between the ages of 10 and 20 is priviledged and invited to join a 4-H Club. There are clubs in every section of the county and if there is a sufficient number of boys in a community situated a little too far from an organized club, a new club can be organized for them. Our aim is to give every boy in Kent a chance to reap the benefits of the 4-G program.

TO BUILD LYNCH ROAD

The State Roads Commission is advertising in this issue for bids on the construction of a macadam road from the Chestertown-Kennedyville highway at Hossenger's Corner to Lynch Station Residents of Lynch have been trying for years to have a hard surface road built over this stretch and it was promised by the State Roads Commission last fall.

DID YOU KNOW?

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

During the early Colonial Period a tribe of Indians knwn as the Tock Wock (Tock Waughs) occupied the territory along the Sassafras River and the Ozenies lived along the banks of the Chester where Chestertown, Queenstown and Centreville now stands.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

The first Court held in Queenstown was March 27, 1716.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

Bookers Wharf, situated on the Chester River just below Chestertown was first made as a steamboat landing in 1860, and the Cecil was the first steam boat to stop there.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

The Chester River Steamboat Company, now only a pleasant memory, was organized April 25, 1866 and that the Chester and Arrow were the steamers on the line.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

Long before our present "Good Road System" was ever dreamed of, Mr. Scott (already several times referred to) said in his Colonial Survey "on the Eastern Shore and that part of the state South of Baltimore, the roads which are natural are so good that no artficial roads will ever perhaps be required."

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

In 1850 at the State Constitutional Convention, Thomas Holliday Hicks, afterwards Governor and J. P. Phelps both from Dorchester Co. advocated that the Eastern Shore be given the right to secede and unite with Delaware.

BOY DROWNED TUESDAY

FAIL TO RECOVER BODY IN LANKFORD BAY

Wesley Price, age 19 years, was drowned in Lankford Bay, near Cackaway Island on Tuesday afternoon when he fell from a boat. His home is in Clayton, Delaware and he was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walbert in Quaker Neck and Mr. Walbert who witnessed the accident from the shore, said the boy sank shortly after falling into the water.

All efforts to locate the body have failed up to the time of going to press, although an organized search has been conducted. A crew from the Coast Guard Station was searching for the body.

A report that the boy was ducking at the time he was drowned was unfounded.

CALLED BOOTLEGGERS' HAVEN

From the Eastern Shore went this letter to Henry Edward Warner, announcer of The Sunpapers radio bulletins:

Bootleggers' Haven,
Chestertown, Md.,
Monday Night

Dear Mr. Warner:

All the boys here have suddenly grown tired of hearing our radio play and as a result have limited its playing to fifteen minutes until 8 P. M. It may, therefore, interest you to know that The Sunpapers Bulletin has been chosen for the time allotted--under a suspension of the rules.

Best wishes and kindest regards to you,

The Unhorsed Bartender

Bootleggers' Haven, Mr. Warner has concluded, is just another name for the Kent County Jail.

NOW AND THEN

LAVELLA
By Frances O'Brien

You are the kind we love to meet,
Along the way;
When trudging down a dusty street,
With aching heart and burning feet—
When skies are gray.

Your face was merry, and your smile
Was, oh, so dear;
We felt the burden of each mile
Grow lighter still, and all the while
You dried our tear.

And when you're gone how sad 'twill be,
That it is thus;
Despair will paint your memory
And God above and only He . . .
Will comfort us.

Are you carrying a bright face these days? A bright face will do much to cheer the people one meets on the way while a sad face generally makes one feel depressed. So if we care for our friends let them never see a downcast face.

Even in hard time we can still give. There is nothing that warms the heart more than giving to those who need it. Not necessarily money, especially if that is scarce, but a little ime, a word of cheer. In fact as the poet says, "What you save you lose, but what you give away you keep."

SONG
By Louis Ginsberg

Love that is hoarded, moulds at last
Until we know some day
The only thing we ever have
Is what we give away.

And kindness that is never used
But hidden all alone
Will slowly harden till it is
As hard as any stone.

It's the things we always hold
That we will lose some day;
The only things we ever keep
Are what we give away.
Miss R. L. Esner, New York.

The lack of formalities at the White House seem to please the visitors there.

Confidence

("One of the impressive incidents of the special session as the appearance of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the gallery where she sat unfitting throughout the session."—News item.)

When all is black and thinks look sad
From any place where I am sitting
I look around and I am calmed
By Mrs. Roosevelt knitting . . . knitting.

When banks are shut and I am broke
And all suggestions seem unfitting,
I feel like squawking, but I don't—
For there sits Mrs. Roosevelt
knitting.

Though I may fall through darkest space
And fear the lowest depths I'm hitting,
'Twill soothe my battered nerves to feel
That somewhere . . . somehow . . .
someone's knitting.

COLONEL HANSON

"In the early settlement of Kent County an original grant was made to the Wilmer family embracing all the land now occupied by Chestertown and extending to Radcliffe Creek the Hansons owning the land beyond. One of the Hansons married a Wilmer and he was the ancester of Colonel Hanson, the writer of Old Kent. The Colonel was a type of a southern gentlemen with his distinguished presence, his kind courteous manners. Having served in the Civil War, he won distinction in the confederacy. At the time Old Kent was written he was living at Radcliffe Hall on the farm now owned by Mr. W. S. Collins. The house which has since burned down, was a substantial Colonial structure furnished with fine old furniture, rare pictures while his collection of curios and invaluable papers were most interesting. He was especially interested in genealogy and so he conceived the idea of writing of the families of the county. Mr. Eben F. Perkins who had started the publication of The Transcript was glad to publish this history of the old Kent and Queen Anne's Co. families and when he was appointed Superintendent of Schools he sold The Transcript to Col. Hanson, who continued to publish Old Kent.

He afterwards had the articles printed in book form, and now these books are much treasured by the descendants of these old families.

Colonel Hanson died here and many of his fine belongings were bought by the Chestertown people, but he will best be remembered by his book "Old Kent."

An economist has been defined as a man who knows everything and can't do anything.

W. C. T. U. MEETING AT KENNEDYVILLE M. P. CHURCH

A W. C. T. U. meeting will be held in Kennedyville M. P. Church Sunday evening at 7.30 p. m.

This is an important meeting and will be in charge of the three Vice Presidents: namely, Mrs. Edgar Pennington of the M. P. Church. Mrs. Harry Hill, of Grace Presbyterian Church. Mrs. John C. Sutton, of Shrewsbury Church. We hope all who are interested in the future generation will make an effort to attend this meeting. Music under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Redmile and Mrs. George M. Glenn.

OUR BROADCAST

—The first installment of "Old Kent" appears on page seven of this issue.

—Tilden C. Hadaway has accepted a position as butcher for the College Hill Meat Market.

—There was an error in listing the April Jurors last week en the fact that the name of Howard Reed appeared instead of Howard Reese.

—It is understood that the Young Men's Republican League will have a banquet at Gill Bros. Armory on April 4th.

—Josiah Allen Weatherby in Furrows this week on page seven gives a new angle to the results of the bank holiday. His a farmer's common sense view of what is going on, is interesting.

—Miss Annie H. Copper will again resume the managership of the dining room at the Maryland Tea Room, corner Maple Avenue and Queen St. The dining room has been managed by Mr. Joseph Lambert for the past year.

—Definite word as to the result of efforts of local dairymen to have the milk cooling regulation postponed by Supplee-Willis-Jones for a year will be received today, Saturday. A special delegation waited on that company on Thursday.

—The series of lectures on art, delivered by Dr. Esther M. Dole, ended on Wednesday evening of this week when the subject for that evening was "Modern Art." The lectures were for the benefit of the local public library.

—Mr. R. E. Vining, of the Public Relations Department of the Western Electric Company, was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club on Monday evening.

—Curbstone Diplomat is on page 8.

—Kent's Quota for the Citizens Military Training Camps has been more than filled. Kent's quota was six and eight have applied. Jesse D. Maxwell who has charge of this work in Kent, received word this week to that effect. It is understood that the eight will be accepted but this is not official. We are unable to get the names of the applicants. This course is held for one month each summer and the government pays all expenses.

—Rally Day for Kent White Schools will be held Tuesday, May 23rd, and for colored schools April 21st.

TO VOTE WET OR DRY

ELECTION TO BE HELD SEPT. 12

For the first time in the history of Kent County, its citizens will vote directly for or against a law which absolutely prohibits the sale, manufacture or possession of intoxicating liquors. There has been numerous local laws passed with reference to the method of handling liquor but this is the first real vote for or against.

The election will be State wide and will be held on September 12th, at which time the Eastern Shore, representing the First Congressional District, will elect three delegates who will vote the sentiment of the District at Annapolis in October.

Nine candidates for election in this District will be selected three wets, three drys, and three unpledged from which three will be elected. The three successful candidates will then represent the Eastern Shore at a convention to be held in Annapolis.

These nine candidates for election will be selected by representatives who have been appointed by the Maryland Legislature. The representative from Kent County is Mr. Marion deK. Smith, Jr., and from Queen Anne's, Dr. Metcalfe.

DELEGATES NAMED

CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK AT REHOBETH

Among the delegates named from Kent Churches to the M. E. Conference are the following:

Chestertown, Cordray Loud, J. S. Kreeger, Alt.

Worton, Farlee, Piney Neck charge, Mrs. B. F. Rash, Worton and Mrs. Edwards, Piney Neck, Alt.

Bond and Mowbray, Mr. Roy Walbert, Mr. Elmer Starr, Alt.

Still Pond, Betterton, Mr. Harvey Moore, Mr. Andy J. Hackett, Alt.

Rock Hall, Mr. Edgar Culley, Mr. James Taylor, Alt.

Galena and Milington charge we did not have at time of going to press.

TO PAY SCHOOL TEACHERS

COMMISSIONERS MET YESTERDAY

The Kent County School teachers will be paid today Saturday unless present plans are held up.

A special meeting of the County Commissioners was called for yesterday for the purpose of borrowing $20,000 to pay current and back salaries. This power to borrow up to $30,000 was granted by the Legislature which is now in session. At the present time the county owes the school teachers sixty per cent of the January salary and all of the February salary. The county owes the buss drivers and janitors their February salary. A check from the State is now ten days late and until the bank situation is cleared up, it is not known when this money will be available.

It is understood that arrangements have been made to borrow the $20,000 from the Kent County Savings Bank.

LITTLE INTEREST IN TOWN ELECTION

SATTERFIELD, ROGERS AND BARNES RE-ELECTED WITHOUT OPPOSITION

The election of a Mayor and two Councilmen for Chestertown passed off quietly with only twenty-eight voters casting their ballot. The reason for the lack of interest in the election was that there was no opposition to the three candidates who succeeded themselves. The vote for Mayor by wards was first ward 8, second ward 5, third ward 10, fourth ward 5, making a total of 28 votes. The voters in the first and third wards voted for a Councilman and Mayor and in the second and fourth the vote was for Mayor only. The successful candidates were reelectd as follows: Mayor C. N. Satterfield; Councilman 1st Ward, R. H. Rogers; Councilman 3rd Ward John W. Barnes.

The Water Board was re-elected unanimously as follows: Thomas W. Eliason, Harry C. Coleman nad W. L. Fowler. John C. Davis and William F. Malin served as supervisors of election.

The Mayor is elected for two years and Councilman for four years.

SEEK POSTPONEMENT OF MILK REGULATION

Dairymen of Kent County are endeavoring to have the regulation requiring the cooling of milk before delivery to the milk station, postponed for one year due to the inability at the present time of dairymen to finance the purchase of necessary equipment.

This Harberson Dairy which buys milk through the Massey milk station and also Sudlersville and Centreville, have postponed the enforcement of this regulation for one year. So far the Suplee-Willis-Jones Company, which operates the milk station at Chestertown and Kennedyville, and handles the bulk of Kent County's iMlk, have refused to change the regulation to date. Delegations of farmers from varous parts of the county have protested the enforcement of the new regulations at this time and it is hoped that their protests may have some result.

The new regulation is caused by certain rules of the New Jersey State Department of Health.

BANK COMMITTEE AT RICHMOND

A committee from the Third National Bank has been in Richmond and Washington this week in conference with the Federal authorities looking to a speedy reopening of the bank.

The committee reports satisfactory interviews both at Richmond and at Washington.

BRANCH GIVEN PRELIMINARY HEARING

Harry Branch, Queen Ann's County negro, who, armed wtih a shot gun and pistol defied the Centreville authorities and members of the National Guard, was given a preliminary hearing Monday night. The Court House was filled to overflowing.

He waived a hearing on three charges of assault with intent to kill, and will be tried at the May term of Court in Queen Anne's County.

INVITE ARMY UNIT

The United States Army air units stationed at Bolling Field, Washington, have been invited to make their annual summer encampment at Easton's airport, the Tred Avon Flying Field.

Captain Guidera, representing Major Maxwell Kirby, operations officer at Bolling Field, flew there from Washington last week and made a survey of the facilities offered for maneuvers. He said he would make a favorable report and if plans for the encampment are not abandoned, he was confident the two-week training would be spent there.

RETRIEVES BURIED TREASURE

Simon Evans, porter at the Voshell Hotel, says the papers got him wrong in their story of his treasure find, when they stated that he found a quanity of money buried in a lot adjoining the hotel. Simon stated on Thursday that just before the banks were closed he had an endowment insurance policy come due and when he received the money he put it in a box with other money totaling about $80 and buried it in the lot. In the box with the money was a $7 check on which he had loaned $3.50, and thinking the banks would be closed for a long time he put it away too. With the sudden opening of the bank he dug up his treasure two days after he had buried it in order to cash the check.

HOSPITAL CASE AT ELKTON

TO BE RESUMED NEXT WEDNESDAY

The law suit of Charles H. Duffield against the Kent and Upper Queen Anne's County Hospital Board for the return of a $2,000 donation given by Mr. Duffield during the drive for funds for the proposed hospital in June, 1929, started in Elkton on Monday. Upon the conclusion of the testimony of the plaintiff the defense offered prayers that the case be taken away from the Jury. Judge Thomas Keating, who is sitting alone in the case, allowed the plantiff to amend its declaration. The amended declaration states that the hospital was not constructed within a reasonable time and that the building could not be built for the sum claimed by the hospital authorities. The case was postponed until Wednesday of next week, following the amended declaration, in order to secure the testimony of additional witnesses.

Mr. Duffield is represented by Messrs. Harrison W. Vickers, William Pepper Constable and A. K. Koppe while the Hospital Board is represented by Messrs. R. H. Rogers, S. R. Collins, J. Perdue Wright and John Avery.

INCREASE SHORE DRY FORCE

Reinforcement of outlying posts of the prohibition forces in Maryland was indicated in a number of personnel changes ordered yesterday by Lowell R. Smith, deputy prohibition administrator. As prohibition investigators will concentrate their activities on the manufacture and transportation of liquor Mr. Smith has added to his forces on the Eastern Shore and in Western Maryland.

Frank R. Tallman and James F. Smith will be transferred to the Salisbury office, where there already is a force of five men, and J. T. Long, Ralph Stover and James L. Ash to Hagerstown, raising to ten the number of men working out of that office.

Thomas J. Osborne and Lee Montgomery will be sent to Washington. Two investigators from Washington will replace these men, Mr. Smith said.

In addition to the transfers Mr. Smith has reduced the size of his squads from four to three men each.

"Three investigators are enough to stop cars and trucks on the road and I will have more squads and can cover more territory," Mr. Smith explained. "When I need more than three men to do a piece of work I can always send two squads," he added.

JOHN BLONDELL IN FILM HERE

Joan Blondell is teamed with Chester Morris for the first time in "Blondie Johnson," a First National picture in which they play the featured leads with a notable cast in support. The picture, which shows at the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 30 and April 1st, as part of a double-feature program, gives an entirely new and novel slant on the personal life of the big time crook, with a woman as the brains and dominating figure in the operation of their questionable trade.

Miss Blondell, who recently played in "Central Park," "Big City Blues" and "Three on a Match," now appears in "Blondie Johnson" as the hardest boiled feminine criminal operative that ever ruled her hand with a relentless iron hand. It is something of a new type of role for Joan, but one in which her striking, peppery personality stands out in full force.

REPAIRING GEORGETOWN BRIDGE

Work started on Wednesday on the construction of new fender strips on the Sassafras River bridge at Georgetown to replace the old ones which had rotted out. The work will last about a week and is being done by Chapman, Merritt and McLean Corporation under contract of $4,202.90.

MRS. ROBERT GREEN RESIGNS

MISS FRANCIS STAVELY APPOINTED TO HIGH SCHOOL POSITION

Miss Frances Stavely, daughter of Mr. Harry Stavely, of near Fairlee, has been appointed a teacher in the Chestertown High School to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Robert Green, nee, Miss Cora McWhorter, to take effect April 1st.

Miss Stavely is a graduate of Broadders College and the University of West Virginia and has been teaching in West Virginia for the past nine years, seven of which has been at Fayetteville.

The Fayetteville paper speaks of Miss Stavely's resignation as follows:

"Miss Frances Stavely, teacher of social science and librarian in the local school, recently handed in her resignation to take effect March 24, to accept a vacancy in the Chestertown High School, Chestertown, Md.

Miss Stavely has been teaching here for the past seven years and she is leaving an excellent record as a teacher. She has accomplished a great deal toward raising the standard of our school to the highest rating a school can attain. Two different state supervisors have mentioned her as one of the best social science teachers in the state.

Fayetteville is losing an excellent teacher and Miss Stavely is leaving a large number of friends in Fayetteville."

LADIES AID SOCIETY OF KENNEDYVILLE M. P. CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Redmile entertained the Ladies Aid Society of M. P. Church, at their home on Friday evening. At eight o'clock, the President, Mrs. Pennington, opened the meeting with a devotional service. Song, "Take the name of Jesus with you." Prayer by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Brown. Scripture reading, by Mrs. Dempsey. Song, "Let the Sunshine in." After the devotional and business meeting were over the following programme was given, of which Mrs. Ray King had charge. Song, "Let the Lower Lights be burning," Society. Duet, "Pussy Willows," by Jack and Jean King. Jokes, by Mr. W. T. Hague. Ladies Trio, "Walk beside me," by Mrs. Roger Kennedy, Mrs. George Glenn and Mrs. William Lipscomb. Reading, "When Mr. and Mrs. Bowser's home was on fire,"by Mrs. Abigail King. Later, refreshments were served, consisting of cake and punch, and all spent a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. William C. Dempsey was appointed to have charge of the litertary programme for next month.
