

GOB HUMOR

They were sitting in a restaurant in San Francisco, the sailor and his sweetheart, when suddenly she pointed to another table.

"Who's that officer over there?" she asked.

"Why, that's our chaplain," he replied.

"Why don't you ask him to join us?" she suggested.

"It's O. K. with me, sweetie," said the gallant tar. "Just name the day." —U. S. S. Texas Steer.

Nice Missus

Mother (calling on daughter in new situation)—Well, how d'yer like yer new missus?

Daughter—She's quite affectionate. She called me "Dear, dear," when I dropped a trayful of tea things this afternoon.—Weekly Telegraph, Sheffield.

Source and Mouth

A fourth grade teacher recently asked, in an examination, for the source and mouth of the Mississippi river.

One paper contained the following answer: "The source is in Minnesota and the mouth is at the other end."

How to Know Your Soul Mate

Joe—How come you go steady with Eloise?

Hal—She's different from other girls.

"How is that?"

"She's the only girl who will go with me."—Border Cities Star.

MIGHT BE WORSE

"Misfortunes never come singly."

"Oh, I don't know; Henry VIII had only one wife at a time."

No Wonder He Was Poor

Blinks—You say the old-fashioned blacksmith was a dumb egg?

Jinks—He certainly was. When a horse was brought in to be shod he didn't find forty other things it needed to have done to it.

Natural Query

Teacher—Are there any more questions you would like to ask about whales?

Small Girl—Teacher, what has the prince got to do with them?—Washington Star.

Disillusioned

Admirer—I will give you a gold coin if you get me a lock of the famous author's hair.

Barber—How many coins if I get you the whole wig?—Sigund Ex Zofmaen.

Salesmanship

"I'd like some soap, please."

"We have just the thing, miss, for that delicate peace blossom complexion—"

"It's not soft soap I want."

Look Out for the Big Boss

Mr. Bigmitt—You're a hen-pecked little shrimp!

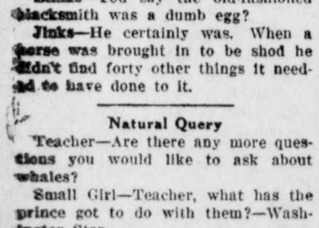

Mr. Peewee—I'll bet you wouldn't dare say that in the presence of my wife.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Postpone All Endearments

Mrs. Nagger—Darling, I'm sorry I've been so mean to you lately.

Mr. Nagger—Well, this is a fine time to be sorry. I'm dead broke.—Pathfinder.

ONE EXPLANATION

"What do you suppose was the origin of war?" "Why the hope that it would supplant football."

But Not All!

Stranger—Do you people across the street keep chickens?

Rastus—Well, dey keeps some ob dem!—Washington Star.

Drawing the Line

Burglar Bill—What's in de safe?

Burglas Jim—Some mining stock.

Burglar Bill—Leave it. We may be burglars, but we're too honest to ever sell dat stuff.—Brooklyn Eagle.

One or the Other

Pompous Caller—Your daughter is an equestrienne, is she not?

Proud Mother—Either that or a valedictorian. Those class affairs are so confusing.—Boston Transcript.

How to regulate a child

The healthiest child's stomach, liver and bowels need stimulation at times. Many specialists believe this. Dr. Caldwell, with a wonderful record in treating babies and children, was always a firm believer in this.

Follow the advice of this famous family physician, and give your children this help. His prescription of fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin keeps any system from clogging — or even growing sluggish.

Have you a youngster who is lagging at school, or listless at play, doesn't eat enough, and isn't gaining? Start this evening with Syrup Pepsin! Watch the quick improvement—the real "pep" and the better regularity. This gentle stimulant is felt first and most directly in the bowels.

Syrup Pepsin has the same action at any age. While mild enough for babies, adult doses of this same Syrup Pepsin keep older people in condition. It will protect your whole household from bilious days, sick headaches.

You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore.
