GIVE A HELPING HAND

The banking situation has steadily improved in this county during the past week. The confidence of the people has to almost a 100 per cent. been restored, and we find the business people are working unanimously with the banking interests to restore normal business conditions here. If this co-operative spirit continues, and we believe it will, restoration will follow, but if people hold back and hoard their money it will necessarily hamper progress to a large extent. The Government has outlined a banking system that will greatly safeguard the banks in the future. Business conditions had reached such a point throughout the nation that it became necessary for the Government to take a firm and drastic position, and put business on a firmer and safer footing, and it is our duty to give the best assistance that is in us to help meet the present crisis, and to do so we must help the banking interests as it is the banks that has made us and our community what we now enjoy. Without them it could never been accomplished.

BEER BILL EFFECTIVE APRIL 5

LOCAL LAWS RESTRICT SALE AND IMPORTATION

The beer bill, passed by Congress, will place that beverage on the market April 6th. The new beverage will contain not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol.

Unless the present "Local Option Law" and the "Gallon a Month Law" is repeated in the Maryland Legislature the following restrictions will exist in Kent, Wicomico, Caroline, Dorchester, Somerset and Worcester counties: It will be unlawful to sell the beverage in these counties; a person may only bring in or cause to be brought into any one of these counties six dozen pint bottles of beer or one eighth barrell, each month, said beer to be brought in for personal use. This latter restriction does not exist in Queen Anne's.

A bill has been introduced in the Maryland Legislature calling for the repeal of all local option laws, although it is thought that Kent County will be asked to be exempted from this law which would leave the above restrictive laws in force.

Commenting on the beer bill, Senator Roe, of Queen Anne's County said:

"A number of us were perfectly willing to go along with a plan such as that which was in effect on the Eastern Shore before national prohibition. We were not prepared for a bill that would permit the indiscriminate sale of beer in those counties.

"It is our belief that a great many people on the Eastern Shore do not want beer sold there, and especially do not want it sold at every hot-dog stand and filling station, as might be the case. The young people on the shore, I believe, want beer sold there, but the majority of their elders do not.

"Before national prohibition the State law permitted an individual in most of the Eastern Shore counties to have shipped to him each month six dozen bottles of beer. In a family where more than one member was fond of beer each could order that amount.

"We would be glad to go along with a beer bill that would incorporate that feature or some modification of it, but we cannot yet agree to legalizing the sale of beer in those counties."

BALTIMORE COUNCIL ADVOCATES BRIDGE

URGES R. F. C. LOAN

The City Council of Baltimore on Tuesday night by a unanimous vote adopted a resolution approving the construction of the proposed bridge across the Chesapeake Bay from Millers Island to Tolchester.

The resolution in part follows:

Whereas the construction of a bridge across the Chesapeake Bay between Millers Island and Tolchester would relieve to a considerable extent the unemployment situation, would form a link in an arterial route connecting the city of Baltimore with the Eastern Shore, which contains about twenty per cent. of the entire population of the State, and would benefit the city commercially; and

Whereas, the State, in consideration of building the roadway approaches to the bridge, operating, maintaining and insuring the bridge, and waiving of taxes, would get possession of the bridge as soon as the revenue therefrom has paid the cost of construction; and

Calls Revenues Ample

Whereas the revenues, as surveyed independently by two of the foremost traffic experts of national renoun, are amply sufficient to pay off the cost of construction in a reasonable period; now, therefore be it resolved that the City Council of Baltimore City hereby approves the construction of said bridge and requests the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to take immediate favorable action on the application of the Chesaeake Bay Bridge Company, now pending.
