Here was the Centreville method (try it) Find in Centreville 1805 "for their chimneys taking fire" Benjamin Hatcherson, John E. Spencer, Samuel T. Wright, Joseph Rollins, Charles Sewell, James Nicholson and William Carmichael. Dr. William H. Bordley was fined $5.00 for a chimney fire in 1807. These were all leading citizens of the town. In the same year it was enacted t hat "No one should play at fives or ball against the Centreville Court House."

BALTIMORE MAN HELD UP

MADE TO DRIVE TO KENT COUNTY AND ROBBED

Mr. Rouse, representative of a baking Company in Baltimore, was held up in Baltimore Tuesday of this week and made to drive the hold-up men to Galena where he was robbed and then set free.

Rouse, while driving into Baltimore was flaged by two men who asked for a ride; he stopped and took the men in, one getting on the back seat and the other on the front. They then pushed a gun against Rouse's back and ordered him to drive as they directed. The trip led from Baltimore to the outskirts of Galena where they stopped him, took his money which amounted to $21 and escaped. The hold-up occurred in the afternoon and they arrived at Galena, Kent County, at 7.30 p. m.

Rouse came to Chestertown where he knew Mr. Ben Heller, told his story to the Sheriff and an immediate search was made which to-date has traced the men to Millington where they disappeared.

Construction work on the new Crisfield Post Office building is moving rapidly forward. Nearly one hundred of the large pilings have been driven and about two hundred remain. Several weeks will be required to complete this part of the work.

NOW AND THEN

Safe and Sound

When dollars seem to dwindle,
Heed not the misanthrope!
There's reason still to kindle
The well-known ray of hope.

When plutocrats have parted
With all their ready coins,
Shall poets be downhearted?
Bards, up and gird your loins!

Now is the time to prove that
We're basically sound!
Accordingly I move that
We pass the good word round.

What boots it to be bossy,
To play at Bear or Bull?
Better a bank that's mossy,
If it can pay in full!

This country shan't be slandered!
April is solvent still!
She'll back with her gold standard
Each yellow daffodil!

PAUL RAYSON.

Yes, April is surely coming up the hill with all her golden treasures daffodils, dandelions, crocuses jonquils and a host of other flowers all gold. And where should anyone find gold more abundant, and as frargant. Certainly not in the cold yellow metal that is called by that name. Let us leave that in the banks, and spend our leisure time in our gardens; it will give us all much more satisfaction for somehow the metal has wings and, before we know it, away it flies.

Are you an April fool? I see by the Telephone Almanac that there are April fools in many lands but called by different names. In Scotland they call the person fooled, "April gowke" in France they call him "Poisson d'avril which means April fish.

So we had better take the fooling good naturedly, even if the tempting candy is filled with pepper or we rush to meet a friend who happens to be only an April fool.

I Ask You!

"Ah, but fame is a bitter cup,"
The famous man will sigh,
But have you ever known one
Willingly pass it by?
"The best in life cannot be bought,"
The rich man will attest,
But have you ever known one
Who would part with second best?

Esther Valck Georgus.

Still Had His Hearing

From the Weekly Scotsman

The captain of a small trading vessel wanted to land some contraband at a certain port. Approaching the customs office, he said: "Joe, if I put a ten-shilling note over each eye could ye see?"

"I could not," said Joe. "And if I had one in me mouth I couldn't speak."

The Traveling Present

Flint Hills Peppy in the Kansas City Star

A local woman made an apron—a fancy affair of ribbon and lace and organdy—and sent it to her cousin in Illinois for Christmas in 1929. This year she got back the very same, identical apron from an old school friend in California. It was in fine condition and the woman knows just where she can place it another year, but she would like awfully to know who got it in 1930 and 1931.

TO SELL BEER ON SHORE

CAROLINE COUNTY ONLY EXEMPTED

The entire Eastern Shore with the exception of Caroline county is included in the State wide beer bill which will repeal all local option laws with reference to the sale of beer. This means that beer with alcoholic contents up to 3.2 per cent alcohol, will be sold in eight of the Eastern Shore counties after necessary licenses have been secured.

According to a statement made by those who have been advocating the sale of beer on the Eastern Shore, every effort will be made to throw all the safeguards possible around the sale of beer through the proper issuance of licenses.

Beer wil not be on sale on the shore until after April 15th, as in order to secure license, the application must be advertised for fifteen days. The new beer bill will permit this beverage to be sold legally on the Eastern Shore for the first time for at least fifty years.

Representatives of several thousand Delaware women Monday fathered forces to fight the divorce bill introduced in the House of Representatives at Dover by Wm. T. Bennett, of Laurel, which, if it becomes a law would permit divorce decrees on a basis of a residence of 60 days in Delaware, $50 State tax and a final decree in six months.

THE THRUSH

BY ALICE MATHEWS

A bird is such a pleasing friend
For joy to summer it doth lend.
Within the Dawns fair spreading hush
I marvel at a sweet toned Thrush:
And certainly quite blithe I grow
A listening to the over flow
Of this all unintruding guest
Framed in a quaintly modeled nest
A singing morning begins to me
In a soft monotone of glee.
Where could one find a purer gush
Of Melody, then the brown Thrush
Doth pipe around, as Sunbeams clear,
A trysting with day appear?

AN UNFOUNDED REPORT

An unfounded report was circulated throughout this county Tuesday last that State Senator S. Scott Beck was in a hospital in Baltimore suffering from a pistol wound, to say the least, was unfortunate. Such reports are calculated to cause widespread harm to business as well as to family and friendly connections. The report is said to have originated at Betterton. In a telephone conversation with Senator Beck Friday morning he stated he was feeling fine. No serious credit was entertained by the better thinking people of the unfounded report.

FAIL TO FIND BOYS BODY

All efforts to find the bodly of Wesley Price, age 19 years, who was drowned in Lankford Bay on Tuesday of last week, have failed to date.

Price, whose home is in Clayton, Delaware, was thrown into the water near Cackaway Island when the small boat in which he was rowing across the creek sank.

The depth of the water at the point where he was seen to go down was from 12 feet to 18 feet, and a crew from the Coast Guard station failed to find the body after dragging with grapling hooks.

Former Sheriff J. Thomas Hadaway, converted a 180 foot gill net into a seine and made three hauls for the body last Sunday without success. It is understood that he will make another attempt.

DOGS DESTROY GAME

UNLAWFUL TO PERMIT DOGS TO RUN AT LARGE

Editor of The Transcript:

We beg to call the attention of the public to the law relative to dogs running at large pursuing game which is very detrimental to our game supply and especially to rabbits during the propagating season. A mother rabbit does not have a chance to escape pursuing dog or dogs who catch and destroy same, thereby destroying, in a great many cases, the entire family, and the owners of dogs in this State should realize that their co-operation with this Department in keeping their dogs either under leash or confined, March 1st to September 1st, will save thousands of pieces of game which will assure an adequate supply in the covers for their benfit the next hunting season.

Paragraph F of Section 20 of Article 99, provides it to be unlawful for any person to allow any dog or dogs belonging to them to run at large on other property than that owned or tenanted by them between March 1st and September 1st and pursue game or destroy the eggs or nests.

Any person harboring a dog or dogs shall be termed the lawful owner of same.

The penalty for violation is found in Paragraph C of Section 22 of Article 99, and provides a fine of not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 and costs for each and every offense and $5.00 additional for each game bird or game animal caught or killed illegally.

We would appreciate the co-operation of not only the sportsmen but the general public in assisting us in the enforcement of this Act. The Deputy Game Wardens have been instructed to strictly enforce same.

E. LEE LeCOMPTE
STATE GAME WARDEN

"NO MAN OF HER OWN"

The kitchen sink is sometimes mightier than the davenport as an aid to swains who pop that important question to "the only girl in the world"—at least if it happens in the movies!

Clark Gable had occasion to learn this fact when proposing to Carole Lombard during the filming of "No Man of Her Own," the new film which shows at the New Lyceum Theatre, on Monday and Tuesday April 3 and 4.

Gable tried to do his proposing in the set representing the parlor of Miss Lombard's home, but his voice sounded like nothing at all. The sound engineer insisted that they move to the kitchen set, where he said, Gable's voice would be more vibrant and convincing.

The kitchen won, and so did Gable, because his words had the advantage of a "live" background instead of a "dead" one.

Shooting the scene this way brought out the interesting fact that, while engineers have killed off their earlier troubles one by one, a number of acoustical jinxes still lurk on the sets, and cause some queer sound to enter the mixer's box.

"I love you," spoken with tenderness in the moonlight has been known to come through like a cannon, all because the glass in French doors acted as a sounding board. And a masculine roar of rage has sometimes slipped off into a sweet falsetto, because the actor stood in front of heavy drapes.

To overcome these occasional freak difficulties, Paramount rates all stages, settings and properties as either "dead" or "alive," realizing that how the actor speaks is not so important as where he says it.

P. O. BUILDING POSTPONED

APPROPRIATION MAY BE TEMPORARILY DEVERTED

The construction of the new Chestertown Postoffice, together with two other postoffices in the State may be postponed according to information received this week from Washington. The change of plans may be brought about due to the conversion of the present postoffice appropriation to the reforestration unemployment program.

As far as could be learned, nothing was being done about the new postoffice anyhow. Notice of the selection of Bibbs Inn as the site had been received but no payment had been made nor had the owners of adjacent property, which was required in addition to the Bibbs Inn propertyv received any notice at all.

Certain business interests have protested against the selected site which may have held up the purchase until the reported recent diversion of the appropriation.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE WILLIAM FRAZIER RUSSELL

By Senator Beck:

WHEREAS, Since the last session of the General Assembly of Maryland, Almighty God, in His wise providence and infinite wisdom, has been pleased to remove from our midst our friend and former member, William Frazier Russell, of Kent County, it is with profound sorrow that we, the members of the Senate, record his death and adopt the following minutes as an expression of our appreciation of his life, his character, his worth, his integrity and the great loss which we and the community in which he lived have sustained.

Born in Chestertown, Maryland, on November 7, 1867, Senator Russell was educated in the public schools of Chestertown and graduated from Washington College in 1880. Afterwards, he became a student in the Law Department of the University of Maryland but discontinued his studies therein to become a deputy in the office of the Treasurer of Kent County where he remained until July 1, 1893, when he resigned to accept the cashiership in The Kent County Savings Bank which was organized and opened for business at that time and which position he filled until his untimely death.

Senator Russell was a strong influence in bringing this institution to the enviable position which it now holds among the banks of the State, in spite of the fact that it was started during a dark period of our nation's financial history, when on every hand banks were suspending and the faith of the people in their stability was wavering. From the first it met with remarkable success, being the first bank in the County to pay interest on savings accounts and, since his demise and during the present financial crisis, it has withstood the onslaught of public fear and clamor and now stands, as a result of his life long efforts, an institution one hundred per cent sound and a monument to his confidence and esteem enjoyed by him from a county-wide constituency.

Senator Russell was widely known throughout Kent and its adjoining counties, as an orator of exceptional ability and his versatile talent and genial disposition were appreciated by all who were privileged to know him. He was appointed a member of the Kent County Board of Education by the late Governor Austin L. Crothers and gave to the public school system of Kent the guidance of his great wisdom.

AND WHEREAS, The said William Frazier Russell was a man of high ideals, noble purposes, strict integrity and honest principles in his public and private life and served with distinction and honor as a member of this Senate in its Sessions of 1920 and 1922; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the members of this Body express their profound sympathy with the family of the deceased in the great loss which has befallen them; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate be directed to send a copy of these resolutions to the family of the late former Senator and that a page of the Journal be dedicated to the memory of our departed brother by the transcription of these resolutions thereon.

BUILDING "MAGIC" MODEL

Mr. H. Clay Brown is building a model of the sailing canoe, Magic, at his home on High street. At the present time the hull is finished leaving the masts, rigging and sails yet to be done. The model is approximately three feet long. Mr. W. Dorsey Hines is also modeling a log canoe as well as is a resident of Rolph's Wharf.

Mr. Brown built a model of the Island Blossom two years ago and presented it to the Chester River Yacht and Country Club. It is on display at the club room.

It has been proposed that a series of races be scheduled for these miniature sailing canoes.
