The Curbstone Diplomat

BY
WILLIAM S. COLLINS

When "They Are Off" at Havre de Grace, there will be quite a few from Kent County there, to see the ponies run. The first Saturday of the racing season many from Chestertown are planning to attend and here is wishing them luck. It's an uphill game boys and girls too, but remember you are helping educate the children, building roads and bridges, policing the roads etc., which is a lot more than some of your other contributions do.

Plans are being made by some of the sports here to go to Baltimore on the night of April 6th. Beer is supposed to be on sale there that night. When we say beer we mean this new legallized beer 3.2. Of course beer has been on sale for a long while but it has not been as weak in the knees as its new law abiding brother is to be. Anyhow lets be patriotic and help balance the budget by drinking low and long. Could anything be more pleasant to some than drink the country back to prosperity. Bring on the new born 3.2's, relatives if they really want to increase revenue for the baby is too weak to accomplish much alone. Maybe the "Drys" are right after all.

Much of the strength of the dry force of Maryland has been shipped to the Eastern Shore. Will they continue to be so peaceful over here or are they ready to swoop down? No one knows but what they might be working right in old home county right now and action might start at any time.

The sea is always calling to a sailor and as warm weather comes along the saw dust trail is calling Toots Hadaway. The sea has no more pull on the sailor than the circus does on the ircus man. Toots says "the only thing holding me back is I hate to leave my job. The circus would be all right this summer but what would I do next winter?" However Hunt, Downey, or Barnett Bros. is likely to get a break before long.

While Mr. Roosevelt's gang is doing all its investigating, let it be hoped that the Defense League which has played such a large part in prolonging these cases such as Ewell Lee's, will have a thorough investigation. The worse the crime and the more hopeless the case the more publicity and expense it becomes.

What chance would a reputable citizen have if he killed another citizen of good character because he called him a name and owed him five dollars? He could employ a lawyer of good reputation and the chances are he would swing or get a long prison term in short order.

This defense league takes the most hopeless cases, runs the courts ragged, upsets precedents, and adds untold expense to the tax payers. This gang of men who generally have such names as Bombinski has the desire to bring everything to a very low level. In Maryland they have lowered jury qualifications and now they are likely to do the same thing in the heart of the South.

It makes one wonder just who is controlling the country anyhow. Efforts are being made to repeal the 18th amendment. Why pick on the 18th, why not include the 14th and 15th. Mr. Roosevelt is rather high-handed and if we could just eleet a high-handed southern gentleman to the highest honor in the land we would not be bothered with the desires of the Defense League.

Many false rumors are being spread around the county. Many are carried innocently but are of a malicious nature and easily nine tenths of them are false. When you make a damaging statement make sure before you leap. The other day in one of Chestertown's loafing places four statements were made that were rather startling and all have been proved absolutely false or rather exaggerated many times.

In all the essays that were submitted on "What My Rural Mail Carrier Means to Me," it seems that the patrons are in love with our mail carriers. The prize for the best essay is five dollars and the judges are busy reading over the seventy-five different ones submitted and the winner will be announced soon. Some of the essays will probably be published.

The points brought out are that health is saved because they do not have to go out in bad weather to get mail, time is saved, mailmen never carry gossip, are more important than firemen or policemen as they do a regular patrol duty, when they hear screams they investigate, report needy families to the welfare association pull children out of wells, only direct contact with a Gov. official. All are polite and accomodating. Mailmen mentioned in essays are Messrs. Frank Parsons, Downey, Ridgely Brown, Spencer Smith, Price, Raisin, Atwell, Moore, Barnes, Matthews, Reed, Robinson, Hogans, Harris and Williams.

These men are truly loved by patrons on their routes and all seem to think that the mail carrier has a lot of expense. Leave it to your patrons boys and you need not fear any salary cut.

When you put your trash out, pack the paper down tight so it will not blow all over the street. This will play a large part in keeping the streets clean.

DEATHS

DR. THOMAS W. SPRANKLIN

Dr. Thomas W. Spranklin died at his home near Chestertown on Friday last after a short illness, aged 72 years.

Short services were held at his late home by Rev. E. A. Sexsmith. Interment in Greenmount Cemetery, Beltimore. He is survived by his widow also by two children of a former marriage.

Dr. Spranklin, who retired from active work a number of years ago and purchased the home of the late Frank Worrell, "Radcliffe Manor," was one of five generations of veterinarians. His grandfather and father before him and his son and grandson after him were all members of the same profession.

Dr. Spranklin who practiced veterinary surgery in Baltimore for many years, was well known as the owner of Bayside Stock Farm, a 500-acre tract on the bay shore of Anne Arundel county, near Sandy Point, where he raised prize hogs and cattle. His hog pens were unique in that their sleeping and eating quarters were separate, with an "upstairs" and "downstairs" in their "homes."

R. Ellis Clark was the undertaker in charge of the funeral arrangements.

FRED GRESSART

Fred Gressart died Monday, March 13th at his home in Sassafras after a lingering illness of several months. He has lived in Sassafras for 50 years coming there from Bavaria in 1883. He is survived by a widow Mrs. Lena Akermon Gressart and a nephew Philip Belm, of Philadelphia.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning, March 16th at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Middletown, Del., with interment in Francis Xavier cemetery. The bearers were: Messrs. Bradford Sullivan, Thomas Dorsey, Bradford Johnson, Clayton Johnson, Samuel Dunn and Harry Dorsey.

W. J. HUDSON

William J. Hudson, son of A. L. Hudson, formerly of Kent county, died Sunday, March 26th, at the home of his parents in Baltimore. The deceased was 43 years, 8 months of age, and had been an invalid for 28 years. He is survived by his parents, five brothers and three sisters. Funeral services were held from his late home Monday and the body brought to Kent via Tolchester Tuesday, for interment in St. Paul's cemetery. Rev. John White officiated at the burial services, with the following pallbearers: Messrs. Walbert Stokes, Sudler Loller, Harvey Brice, Lesie Simms, Ralph McGinnis and Quinton Shipley. Charles L. Dodd, undertaker in charge.
