WASHINGTON CHERRY BLOSSOMS

The annual Cherry Blossom Show in Washington this year will be one of the biggest and best in history. The snowy white of the three thousand Japanese cherry trees on Tidal Basin probably will nver be seen to better advantage than they will this year.

Assurance has come from the U. S. Department of Public Buildings and Public Parks that the cherry blossoms will be in full blast by Friday, April 7 and the show will continue with great colorfulness for probably ten days.

Another decided advantage for the spectators who will see the great pageantry of nature is the fact that there will be a full moon practically throughout the period of the Cherry Blossom Show. Provided the weather is not inclement, and as a rule April weather in Washington is perfect, the full illumination will be at its best beginning Friday, April 7 and continuing through the middle of the next week. The Cherry Blossom Show anually attracts thousands of visitors to the National Capital and the number this year is expected to be greater than ever.

These cherry trees, the finest array of their kind in the world, were presented to the United States by the Municipality of Tokyo, Japan, in February, 1912. The first tree was planted by Mrs. Taft, who was then the first lady of the land. At the invitation of Mrs. Taft the Viscountess Chinda planted the second tree.

As a time saving sugestion, the committee suggests that would be borrowers bring with them a statement of all their existing indebtedness and obligations; also if they had previous Government loans, bring the papers which show the loan number, the amount received, and the amount of unpaid balances. Time would also be saved if they would be borrowers would bring with them a statement of the amount they would like to borrow for seeds and fertilizer, for the various crops; fuel for tractors or feed for ork stock, repairs for farm machiney, spay materials, etc.

The County Committee or Crop Production Loans is composed of L. A. Sutton, Chairman, and E. Thomas Massey, of Massey, as the farmer members; Honorable S. Scott Beck and Fred G. Usilton, Banker Members, with J. D. McVean, as Secretary. The Secretary will assist all who desire help in making applications for loans.

Dear Tom,

When a man with a family makes an investment he must necessarily be very careful.

He does not want to speculate, but e wants to get the most for his money.

The certainty and security of life Insurance as an investment are unquestioned, and it will complete the job that some men are forced to leave unfinished.

Harper at Still Pond, the Massachusetts Mutual man will be glad to show you what it will do for you.

Faithfully,

Doc.
