MAY 1 CHILD HEALTH DAY

TO BE OBSERVED NATIONWIDE

Maryland will join with other states in the nation-wide celebration of May Day—the first day of the month—as Child Health Day. In announcing the plans for the observance of the day, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health, said:

"There is special significance in this year's celebration of Child Health Day, because children are always among the greatest sufferers during any period of hard times. So, more than ever, the day comes as a challange to all grown-ups to Stop! Look! and Listen! to the health needs of the babies and young children as well as to those of the boys and girls of school age, in their own communities. And having stopped and observed, to join with all who are interested in community well-being in the furtherance of all available measures to conserve the health and promote the happiness of these youngsters. The National Committee for Child Health Day has asked that special consideration be given this year to the health needs of mothers and young children. The slogan adopted for the year is "Mothers and Babies First."

"For some years, Child Health Day has served as a mile-stone in the year round activities in the interest of child health in Maryland. It has marked the beginning of the spring and summer recreational activities for the older boys and girls, of the special health conferences for babies and young children and for the examination of the five and six- year olds in preparation for their admission to school in the fall. It will do so again this year. Arrangements for the conferences in the counties will be made in each county under the direction of the county health officer. Emphasis will be laid at all of them, on the importance of protecting young children against diphtheria and of vaccinating them against smallpox. In accordance with the health laws of the State, no child can be enrolled in any school in Maryland, who has not been vaccinated against that disease.

"May Day was designated as National Child Health Day' by an Act of Congress in 1928. Because of the opportunity it afords to direct public attention to the health needs of growing children and to the inherent right of every child to intelligent care and health protection, the nation-wide observance of the day is sponsored by the Conference of State and Provincial Authorities of North America—the official organization of State Health Officers.

"The Maryland Child Health Day Committee is composed of representatives of state, city and county representatives of health and education; of parent-teacher associations; state and county medical societies; service clubs; organizations concerned with the care of handicaped children; recreational groups, and others interested in the health and welfare of the children of the State. Dr. J. H. M. Knox, Jr., Chief of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Health, is Chairman of the State Committee."

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY OF CHARLES PAGE COMEGYS

BY ALICE

Away on a journey have you gone,
And we miss you dear from dawn to dawn.
Your heart was so human with love's touch,
'Twas the kind of a heart all men miss much,
For you passed along life's old highway
A helping your brother man alway.
There was never a time you turned afar,
To gaze on some distant, shining star
When a cry for help was weakly heard.
You were ever the first all deeply stirred
To aid and comfort and lend a hand,
No matter on Sea, no matter on land.
The need of a brother you always met
And this loving service who can forget?
You have journeyed on but the love that gives
To his fellow man, that love long lives.
On the Scales of Life would I may weigh
As much O'Father, in my day.

Alicia.

CLIFTON EVERETT.—In loving memory of our son, who passed away three years ago, April 4, 1933.

His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each, and died beloved by all.
Someday we hope to meet him
Someda ywe know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again.

Now my home is sad and lonely,
How I miss his smiling face.
But he left me to remember,
No one else can take his place.
Sadly missed by his mother.
