Tragic Hero

"You said that man was a tragic hero, but he does not look like an actor."

"He isn't an actor—it is real with him—he has 10 unmarried daughters and his fourth wife."—Lustige Koelner Zeitung.

Out of the Frying-Pan

"Really, Johnny, your handwriting is terrible. You must learn to write better."

Johnny—Well, if I did, you'd be finding fault with my spelling.—Watchman-Examiner.

Question of When

"A wise man may change his mind."

"My boy," replied Senator Sorghum, "the greatest of all wisdom consists in knowing when to change your mind."

Lots of Recreation

Junior High Miss—Aren't ants busy little things? They work all the time and never play.

Junior High Mister—Yes, but every time you go on a picnic they're there.

Class in the Kitchen

Lady—Have you been accustomed to having a kitchen maid under you?

Cook—In these days we never speak of having people "under us," but I have had colleagues.

ACCOMPLISHED

"Hasn't Miss Oldgirl got searching eyes?"

"Well, I don't wonder at it, she has been looking for a husband for twenty years."

Different Situation

Strolling through a field with his sweetheart, Elmer Hamstring spied a vicious bull rushing madly toward them. Quick as a flash Elmer beat a hasty retreat.

Sweetheart (when they reached safety)—Why, Elmer, you were afraid and you said you would face death for me.

Elmer—I know I said that, sweetheart, but that bull wasn't dead.—Chelsea Record.

JUDGE JOSEPH HOPPER NIHOLSON

We have written of the Nicholsons' in our descriptions of the early inhabitants of Chestertown, of James and Samuel Nicholson, the former, James, who was made Commander in chief when our Navy was organized in 1777. He had hac a distinguished career in command of fighting ships at sea. His brother, Samuel, was a lieutenant under John Paul Jones and participated in the battle between the BON HOME RICHARD and Serapis and later superintended the construction of the Constitution and the Constellation. There is another Nicholson who won distinction in the war of 1812. Joseph Hopper Nicholson. We are copying the following from "The Patriotic Marylander" among the Books of the Eastern Shore and thinking it a very propitious time to do so, as we have just been celebrating the Fourth, and singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

SEPTEMBER 13, 14, 1814

Next to Francis Scott Key, no name is so closely associated with the "Star Spangled Banner as Judge Joseph Hopper Nicholson. Judge Nicholson, on account of his Judicial duties, was exempt from military duty, but he equipped a volunteer company of artillerist, and this company with that of Captain Evans who also commanded a company of artillery, manned the bastions at the Fort. It was the Star Fort on his flag pale that inspired Francis Scott Key to write the immortal song and according to information furnished by Capt. John S. Skinner, on whose ship, Key wrote the Star Spangled Banner," the author prepared the manuscript for publication at the home of his brother-in-law, Captain Judge Nicholson on Market Street, near Eutaw St. and from his granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Skipper, we have the information that Judge Nicholson, himself a poet and musician of no mean order, quickly adapted the inspiring words brought to him by Francis Scott Key to the tune "Anacreon in Heaven," a tune which Mrs. Charles Howard, the daughter of Francis Scott Key, told her, was in common use in that day.

Captain Nicholson wrote above the verses, the heading which now appears on the copies of the first hand bill, forms explaining how Key happened to be with the British fleet and his wife, Rebecca Lloyd, of Wye House, Talbot county, sister of Mrs. Frances Scott Key, carried the manuscript to the printers, had the song struck off in handbill form and by the night of September 15th, it was being sung all over the city, with the intense patriotic fervor with the successful defense of Baltimore naturally stimulated. Key's inspired words gave expressions to the whole people. The original manuscript, written on the back of an old letter folded on Wye paper, kept in Captain (Judge) Joseph Hopper Nicholson'es old desk by his wife and by her son, to whom she left her private papers—James Macou Nicholson—and thus by his granddaughter, Rebecca Lloyd Nicholson, (Mrs. Edward Shippen), where it had been sacredly preserved by her grandfather and grandmother and her father—was recognized by Mrs. Shippen as an historic relic of national interest, and it is due to her appreciation that it has been preserved, and has now passed into the possession of Mr. Henry Walters, who in the Walters Art Gallery, has a depository which will guard the actual paper, which felt the actual heart throbs of our immortal bard, and are inscribed in letters far more precious than gold with the words written by Key's own hand,

AMUSEMENT FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

One of the first gifts for a little girl, after she has ben given a doll is a work basket and materials for making the doll dresses and f you take the timeto show her how to do it she will bless you later when she finds that she can make her own dresses out of bits of material. Make the work basket an important part of the home furniture. And be sure to give the boy a tool chest, showing him how to use it, and you will find the indoor hours very much less noisy.

FASHIONS

Charming Negligee

While dotted Swiss, with the dots in bright red, to match the narrow red velvet sash, and pleated frills edged with narrow white Valenciennes makes one charming negligee. Another of striped dimity is printed with little nosegays in Dresden colorings, and has a sash of twisted satin ribbons in pink, blue and mauve.

Gayly colorful cotton voiles, in splashy flower patterns on dark or bright grounds, appeal for their coolness and noncrushability. And their price makes a hit with the girl who has always put negligees in the class with unattainable luxuries. One which is copied from an expensive French import is cut like a coat, in ankle length, with square neckline, big puff sleeves set in with pleats, and a tie sash of the fabric.

Chiffon For Formal Types

Among the more formal negligees, chiffon is a headliner for obvious reasons. Some of these chiffon garments are of the lingerie type, while others look like dance frocks. A stunning model chosen by a recent bride was a tailored coat of white chiffon, cut on the simplest of lines and fastened with a rhinestone bar. This was for wear over a white satin nightdress trimmed with hand-run Alencon lace of creamy tint.

Double chiffon negligees, cut on coat lines, are delightful for summer lounging. They come in pale or bright colors, flame, tea rose, a deliciously cool, light green or daffodil yellow, and they have long tuxedo revers, and big sleeves set in with ruffs over the shoulder.

Hints for the Household

FOR JULY
BY BETTY WEBSTER

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

1. One tablespoonful of gelatin added to one quart of milk increases the food value 23 per cent.?

2. A damp chamois skin is the best thing to use to polish windows?

It seems that a fresh collar and cuffs on a dress, no matter how old or wilted it has appeared, brighten it up remarkably and give a feeling of personal neatness to the wearer.

(———'s) have some adorable sets which perk one up at first sight. When I saw them my dress was fairly begging for some and now it almost beams in its crispy new adornment.

KENT BOYS 4-H CLUB

LOOKING FORWARD TO CLUB WEEK

The dates of the Boy's and Girls' 4-H Club Week, which will be held at the University of Maryland as in past years, are from Thursday, August 10th to Tuesday, August 15th inclusive. All 4-H club members thirteen years of age and over and local leaders are eligible to attend. Last year twenty-seven boys attended from Kent. Plans will be made again this year for all to travel from Baltimore to College Park by special bus, which will eliminate any chance for the group to become separated, miss a train or get "lost."

Club Week affords a real vacation for 4-H club folks, which is not only enjoyable but educational and beneficial in many ways.

A few of the advantages of club week are: a chance to meet club members from other counties. Many former club members consider "club week friendships and acquaintances" the most valuable contribution of club week. A chance to attend classes in all phases of agriculture, mechanics and home making; the Camp fires and Vesper Services; the inter-county sports each afternoon; educational tours to Beltsville and other experimental farms; trip to Washington. All who can possibly go should send their cards to Stanley B. Sutton, Assistant County Agent, at once so that reservation can be made. A good representation from Kent is expected to attend. Several clubs are planning to send a delegate. Wilson Sutton has been elected to attend, representing the Handy Andy Calf Club.

4-H Clover Calf Club

The Kent 4-H Clovers met at the home of their local leader, Wilbur H. Morris, Tuesday night, July 11th, with a good attendance. President, Victor Hendrickson, conducted the meeting bringing up discussions on showing at county and State shows, club week, club picnic, and other topics of interest to the club. Several members are expecting to attend Club Week.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

Ittakes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Refuse substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1933, C. M. Co.
