The total enrollment is 172 club members.

"A man is never older than he feels. declared the aged boss. "Now, this morning I feel as fresh as a two-year-old!"

"Horse or egg?" asked his steno, sweetly.

FIR EAT WEBB FARM

The Chestertown Fire Company was called to the farm near Kennedyville occupied by Mr. Wilbur Webb Thursday afternoon when a straw stack in the barn yard caught fire from a threshing rig. Firemen assisted in preventing the fire from syreading to nearby buildings, assisted by a wind that blew the sarks away from the buildings.

The threshing rig was then moved into a field and threshing continued. Shortly after starting the irck in the field it caught fire and burned.

FURROWS

BY JOSIAH ALLEN WEATHERBY

Things ain't goin right in this country. I ain't no prophet but from the looks of business conditions we ain't goin the right way. This here sudden jump in business and prices ain't healthy. It's too much like a mushroom, it don't last long enough. But the American people has got into the habit of goin to extremes, and it looks like pure dumbness not to learn from past experience that such business don't pay (except fer the big boys that controls the money).

The President and the big Government officials, and the big business men of the country ain't asked me nothin about this business recovery, and I reckon they don't mean to, so the responsibility fer its success or failure don't rest on my shoulders. But I just can't help speakin my mind some times, and this is one time I feel like doin that.

Prices has been arbitrarily and artificially boosted, because the speculators has decided the public has got sufficiently lean and hungry to fall fer their stuff agin. And so, accordin to the papers, prices on the stock market has increased about 30 billion dollars in the last five months. Well, the drop in 1929 wuz nigh onto 50 billions, so at the rate we are goin we'll soon be caught up again. But that ain't doin the workin people much good.

Wages ain't no higher now than they wuz last winter. More people is workin and that helps business some. But unless wages can sort of keep step with prices we are shore headed fer another slump. And unless Mr. Roosevelt can head off this next slump it is goin to come just in time to give the republicans enough campaign material to win the next election. The democrats is playin too much politics of the same old variety, and walkin right in the footsteps of the late republicans. It's my opinion that durin the next six months or so there will be enough disgruntled and disappointed democratic office seekers to turn the election in 1936.

And speakin of people out of work, and so on, a feller come by Jed's place not long ago and told a long story about losin his job and havin a family to feed, and so on, and wanted Jed to give him a little money so as he could buy some groceries fer his family. "Well," says Jed, "I ain't got no money to give away, but I've got a bit of work here that I'll give you and pay you well fer it. I need a man fer a few days and maybe I can use him fer quite awhile. How about comin in and startin right off?" "Mister," says the feller, "I ain't able to do farm work. It's too hard. I ain't used to it. And besides," says he, "I never did like farm work nohow."

"Well," says Jed, "I reckon you be like a lot of other fellers that has come along here beggin. You want something fer nothin. And I ain't simple enough to fall fer that stuff. I have to work fer all I git and I ain't minded to give my stuff to such fellers as you be. I got work fer you and don't mind payin fer it but I ain't feedin you and your kind to loaf up and down the roads and impose on the public. So I reckon you better move along."

And that's the way with a lot of them fellers that is out of work. They want to git all they can fer nothin. There is lots of jobs among the farmers out our way and we'd be glad to have help, but we can't git it. Folks don't want to work. And these here county welfare workers is goin to be imposed on a lot by that crowd that wants help but don't want to work fer it.

That's another reason why I say things ain't goin right in this country. Them that wants to work and is workin is bein gouged by the profiteers and them that don't want to work is tryin to eat off of the rest of us. The people of this country ought to do a lot of thinkin these days instead of whoopin it up over the rise in the stock market.

Mrs. Geo. Rouse and her daughter, Miss Mary, of Baltimore, are spending some time with Misses Lou and Florence Jewell.

Mrs. Bessie Peregoy, of Philadelphia, is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gooding and daughters, of Baltimore, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willis her parents.

Miss Anna Hamilton and her nephew Duvall Brumley, of Philadelphia, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Crew.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gooding and sons, of Baltimore, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Littleton Crew, Jr., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby girl at Easton Hospital on July 5th.

Dr. and Mrs. O'Brien and family, of Philadelphia, have opened their home here for the summer months.

Mrs. O'Hara and family, of Philadelphia, are occupying one of the cottage's of Mr. James T. Crew for the summer.

Mrs. Frank Ford is chaperoning a party of young people from Chestertown for the week on Bayside.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nickey and daughter from Baltimore and Mrs. Thomas Whaley, of Chestertown were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Brice.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willis and Mr. Horace Wheeler are attending Columbia University for the summer course.

RECIPE FOR WRINKLES

"Hello, old man! How you've changed! What's making you look so old?"

"Trying to keep young," was the reply.

"Trying to keep young?"

"Yes—nine of them," was the gloomy respose.

CHURCH NOTES
