COUNTY HEALTH REPORT

14 BIRTHS AND 11 DEATHS DURING JULY

The following is a partial report of the activities of the County Health Department during July:

Communicable Diseases

Two cases of typhoid fever were reported during July. One in a colored family living at Worton Point. This case was definitely traced to a badly polluted water supply. The second case was reported in Chestertown and the source of the disease in this individual was probably due to contact with a carrier. In both instances a special study was made of the cases and the usual disinfectant supplied. Several visits were made to the homes by the health officer and nurse and the physicians attending the cases were supplied with typhoid vaccine to immunize the other members of the family against the disease.

Social Disease

Five cases of social disease were reported during the month. All of these cases were diagnosed in the state clinic and were advised to return for treatment.

One case of mumps, one case of tuberculosis were reported during the month. July of this year showed as few communicable diseases as ever has been reported in the county.

Clinical Work

Four Social Disease Clinics were held by Dr. H. G. Simpers assisted by the nurse. A total of twenty-seven blood tests were taken, eleven were positive, five of which were new cases, the remaining sixteen were negative. A total of 150 treatments were given.

Two Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Clinics were held in the Health Center by Dr. F. A. Holden. A total of twenty-four cases were examined and treated.

Healthmobile

The nurses spent considerable time in making arrangements for the arrival of the healthmobile which returns to Kent County on August 14th through the 22nd. The healthmobile is fixed up as an examining room and is accompanied by a physician, nurse, dentist, and a moving picture operator. It wi llvisit all parts of the county and give the parents an opportunity to have their children examined before the opening of school.

Social Service Work

A considerable amount of social service work is being done by the nurses in cooperation with Mrs. Margaret Massey, Director of Social Service Work in the county. A recent survey shows there are approximately seven blind people in the county eligible for pensions.

An unusually large number of requests were made upon the Health Department by the physicians in the county to assist in hospitalizing cases. A total of sixteen cases were sent to the various institutions in Maryland.

Mr. A. E. Goodrich, Assistant Chief Engineer of the State Department of Health, visited the county and consulted with the authorities in Chestertown and Betterton in an effort to promote the sewerage disposal plants for these two towns.

National Negro Health Week Certificates

The first award certificate for National Negro Health Week activities was received by the local health department on July 28th. This is the fourth consecutive year that Chestertown has won the first award for the health program during National Negro Health Week.

The Road To Better Health

STINGS AND BITES
BY DR. WILLIAM J. SCHOLES

Many insects and reptiles excrete a poison by means of which they defend themselves and destroy their prey. What guns are to man such excretions are to these lower forms of life.

The stings of nearly all insects owe their effect to the formic acid which is the active ingredient of the excretion; the hites of reptile stow a venom which they excrete.

Treatment Of Insect Stings

A number of remedies are available for relieving insect stings. Ordinary ammonia is probably the most handy and as useful as any. Sometimes vinegar, pure or diluted, is equally effective.

A useful application to prevent mosquitoes from biting is equal parts of oil of citronella and alcohol, which is to be applied freely to the exosed skin.

A 1 per cent. or 2 per cent. solution of carbolic acid relieves the itching, is antiseptic, and repels the insects. The exposed parts should be freely sponged with a piece of absorbent cotton saturated with the solution.

Collodion (commercially known as New Skin or Liquid Court Plaster) is another very useful remedy. It can be made even more effective by the addition of bichloride of mercury in the proportion of 1 to 1000 or by adding 5 grains of salicylic acid to the ounce.

Treatment of Snake Bite

Four things are to be done when a person is bitten by a poisonous reptile. Needless to say they should be done at once, as they are ineffective once the poison has entered the blood stream. Although I have them listed consecutively, they are to be performed practically simultaneously.

The first step is to suck the wound. Then slash the wound made by the fangs of the snake. Cut across the fang holes deeply enough to get a free flow of blood.

The second step is to fill the wound with permanganate of potash. Use the pure crystals and do not be afraid of using too much. The permanganate destroys all the poison it touches, but that is as far as its value reaches. Consequently it must be applied 15 minutes after the patient has been bitten.

Tourniquet Essential

The third step is to apply a tourniquet (bandage) around the limb, well above the bite. This band must be tight enough to stop the circulation. It should be removed for a second or two after it has been on for an hour, then reapplied for another hour.

The fifth step is the injection of snake antitoxin. This is known as antivenin. It is a protein in the serum of an animal that has had repeated injections of small amounts of snake venom. This, like the other procedures, must be performed at once. Delay of an hour or two makes it useless. Unfortunately, antivenin is seldom available, but that doesn't make the case hopeless as the other three procedures, promptly employed, will save 99 per cent. of all patients.

Hints for the Household

FOR AUGUST
BY BETTY WEBSTER

When I was a little girl I always felt rather "out of it" 'because my birthday came in August and most of the other children could celebrate theirs during the school term. When I learned, however, that August is the only month of the year in which no holiday is observed, I became quite elated and set my birthday up as an event to be considered carefully in the otherwise barren month.

There is a lovely flower given to August, the poppy, and a pretty stone, the sardonyx, and parties can be made charming for the August child.

Poppy Party Popular

A poppy party is unusual and unforgettable. A pretty, soft, shade of red can be used in decorations and a bowl of real poppies, if they are procurable, or paper ones, makes a lovely centerpiece. The aer tablescloths and napkins with poppy designs are nice to use also and, since this as a "pop-py" party, the favors may be paper snappers containing trinkets.

The refreshments of sandwiches, "pink lemonade," ice cream and birthday cake are simple and always delicious.

A spell-down, musical chairs or "going to Jerusalem," a nd a guessing contest will furnish su cient amusement.

This party can have any other flower substituted as its motif and be just as successful.

How To Make The Pink Lemonade

Juice of 3 lemons
Juice of 1 orange
Cherry, Strawberry or Grape juice to color
Sugar to taste
Water
This will make six to eight glassfuls.

Pink Sandwickes

2 cakes of cream cheese mixed with cream
Cherries, halved
Spread buttered bread with cheese mixture. Cut with biscuit cutter. Decorate each round with cherries.

—Or—

Crab meat or salmon mixed with boiled salad dressing; spread on buttered bread; cut with biscuit cutter; garnish each round with a slice of stuffed olive.

—Or—

Spread buttered bread with any red jam or jelly; cut with biscuit cutter; garnish each round with half a shelled nut.

RECIPE

Chocolate Puffs

Beat white of egg until very light; add equal parts of cocoa and confectioner's sugar until a firm paste is formed. Add pinch of aslt and vanila to taste. Mold into little balls, roll in granulated sugar and place in moderate oven for three minutes.

Buddy and Grandma Can Play Croquet

"Won't you come over and tramp down the clover and play croquet?" Thus duns the first line of an old song which is being revived with gusto today. Somehow, croquet has a certain fascination for all of us which is not touched by our enthusiasm for golf or tennis. The nicest thing about this sport is that it has no age limit and anyone who can walk can play.

STILL POND

Miss Selina Coffin and Mrs. Emily Bowley are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Bidwell.

Rev. and Mrs. Orrin G. Robinson have returned from their trip to the Century of Progress, Chicago and are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Medders.

Miss Kate Howard and Miss Louise Pennington left Thursday morning to follow the Susquehanna trail to Camp Red Cloud.

Our new Postmaster, Mr. Walter H. Davis, entered office on Wednesday, August 16th. He has the best wishes of the community and assurance of cooperation from all.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner Geary, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Geary and Mrs. Maxwell Meeks attended the Odd Fellows Rally at Pen Mar on Thursday.

A good number from Still Pond enjoyed the Farmer's Picnic Day at Tolchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wheeler and family have returned to Baltimore and Carl Wilson Norris is visiting with them.

Massacre of the Innocents

A little girl, on seeing sawdust plentifully sprinkled on the floor of a meat store, remarked to her mother:

"Mummy, the man must have broken a lot of dolls!"—Los Angeles Times.

Ouch!

And it's our opinion that banking in this country will never be safe until somebody invents a burglar alarm that will ring every time the directors are in session.—Judge.

Good Evidence

"Did your little boy enjoy the party?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"I think so," sighed the little boy's mother. "He wasn't hungry till halfpast five the next afternoon."
