SWINE RAISERS MAY BENEFIT

KENT SWINE RAISERS MAY SHARE IN PROGRAM FOR ADJUSTING HOG PRODUCTION

COUNTY AGENT HAS DETAILS

Kent Countians have the opportunity of sharing in the emergency program for effective control of pork production. The plan provides premium prices on graduated scale for pigs under 100 lbs. at regular markets. Sows of 275 lbs. and above about to farrow will be bought at daily market price plus $4.00 per head with no dockage. Plan calls for four million pigs and one million sows, which in the winters of '33, '34 and '34—'35 should cut down the supply of potential pork around two billion pounds. Hog farmers are in a precarious situation, due to record storage of pork products, prospective heavy receipts and short feed supply.

Plan is for emergency, not a permanent plan. It is aimed not to raise prices but to prevent much lower prices. Buying plan effective at once and continues until October 1st.

Packers handle and process the pigs and sows at cost. Suitable parts will be cured and sold to Federal Relief Administration at cost, all rest tanked and not put on market.

Cost of this program will be paid from a processing tax to be levied on all hogs processed later. Details not yet announced.

Pigs to be normal in health, growth and free of deformities Inferior pigs will be bought at heavy discount. Bureau of Animal Industry will make the inspection at processing plants and public stock yards.

Farmers should not sell light weight pigs at current low prices if they want to "cash in" on the above plan. Ask County Agent for details.

NOW AND THEN

THE FRIEND WHO JUST STANDS BY

By Mrs. Bertye Y. Williams

When trouble comes your soul to try,
You love the friend who just "stands by."
Perhaps there's nothing he can do—
The thing is strictly up to you;
For there are troubles all your own,
And paths the soul must tread alone;
Times when love cannot smooth the road
Nor friendship lift the heavy load,
But just to know you have a friend
Who will "stand by' until the end,
Whose sympathy through all endures,
Whose warm handclasp is always
Yours—
It helps, some way, to pull you through
Although there's nothing he can do.
And so with fervent heart you cry,
"God bless the friend who just 'stands by'!"

The City Engineer and the City Council are to be congratulated at the looks of the Town Square since the Curb has been put around it. There is nothing that adds more to a town's prosperity than well kept and clean streets and squares. Let us have more of the same progress

So many of the citizens of our county have gone to seashore, or have taken tours to the World's Fair, and other places of interest in spite of the depression. It is a good sign that things are not as bad as they have been painted. The hope is that they did not leave the radio loud speaker on, as a family man did some time ago. The neighbors stood it as long as they could. Then they all held a meeting and one close neighbor offered to bell the cat, so in the sight of them all, he broke into the house and turned the radio off. The owner was most grateful to the house breaker, both for stopping the use of electricity and the annoyance of neighbors.

Once in visiting the Bronx I went into the bird house never did I hear so much chirping and chattering as the canaries were breeding, building their nests and feeding thir young. A man, who was very familiar with them said that the original ones on the Canary Islands are green, but by crossing, some are yellow, some white, black and blue. One Canary mother generally raises all her brood which is usually six so it makes the raising of Canaries a very profitable one.

"That music has power to soothe the savage breast" is proved by John W. Kasper who has been playing in the Penitentiary for twenty two years, missing only two times in that period. He says "the boys" prefer to hear him play to a game of baseball, and that many hand him pieces of music which they themselves have composed. One of the hearers even painted the picture of the organist in appreciation for the pleasure he gives them.

In reading an article by Helen Kellar, the deaf and blind woman who has accomplished so much in spite of her handicaps we were impressed by the rudiness of George Bernard Shaw the Irish playwright and writer. Miss Kellar was visiting England and was most anxious to meet him so Lady Aster a common friend invited them both to her house. When Shaw was introduced to Miss Kellar he coldly shook her hand and and went his way, "But," aid Lady Astor as she followed Shaw.' She is deaf and blind." "So are all Americans," replied Shaw as he passed on.

Beggars All

He may offer needles, pencils, pins,
Or gear for a pantry shelf,
And I pass him by with the righteous plea
Of how poor I am myself.

But for him who draws from his fiddle string
An idle lilting reel
I'll empty out my flattened purse
And do without a meal.

ANNE ABBOT DOVER.

History-Making Storm Visits Kent--Water Fronts Inundated

Electric Power, Water and Telephone Communications Shut Off

Corn and Tomato Crops Suffer---Trees Blown Down in All Parts of the County.

A storm, which will go down in history as the worst that has visited Kent County in the memory of the oldest inhabitants struck here on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The northeast wind which reached gale proportions backed the water in the bay and when it shifted to south east drove it up the bay to make the highest tide on record. The entire water fronts of Chestertown, Rock Hall, Georgetown, Tolchester and Betterton were under water to a depth of several feet.

The corn and tomato crops in all parts of the county were damaged by the wind and rain and in some sections farmers were busy cutting off their corn on Thursday to use for silage. In the vicinity of Kennedyville, where sugar corn is grown extensively for canning, work was underway Thursday stripping the ears while the stalks were on the ground.

Trees in all sections were uprooted or badly torn up and in many of the old country lawns, trees were badly damaged. County roads in many sections were blocked by fallen trees.

Rock Hall

The water front of Rock Hall was badly damaged and many boats washed ashore. Some of the watermen succeeded in getting their boats up the creek in shallow water but twelve broke loose from their moorings and were lashed high and dry although only a few were badly damaged. e

The porch on the oyster packing house of Mr. Herman Jacobs was carried away and the house itself slightly damaged.

One end of the crab packing house of Mr. Walter Scoone was carried away and his house damaged. The decking on Rogers Wharf was torn loose and washed away and the recently constructed county wharf was completely wrecked. The wharf house on the county wharf was washed up into a field and the planking is entirely gone.

The porch of the club house at Cedar Point was torn away and the house flooded.

Tolchester

The ferry pier at Tolchester was wrecked, the planking and stringers were torn loose from the piling and raised four feet which will necessitate reconstruction of the upper structure of the wharf.

The small waiting room and post office and the home of Mr. Frank Wheatley were badly damaged by water and the pounding of floating debris. Many of the old trees in the park were blown over and many branches broken off. The first boat to arrive after the storm docked at 12 o'clock noon on Thursday and passengers were able to make their way ashore. Some of the small stands to the left of the public road were washed up the road.

Quaker Neck

The decking on the wharf of Mrs. Toby's at Quaker Neck Wharf was carried away and the first floor of her home was submerged to the depth of two feet. The county wharf as only slightly damaged.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Grieb on Deep Point was completely surrounded by water until noon on Thursday and transportation between the house and road was only by boat.

Betterton

The damage at Betterton was only by flood waters with the exception of minor damage to the Tolchester Wharf and Turner's pier. The damage was repaired Thursday morning. The fishing boat of Mr. Covey was damaged but the other boats were brought ashore as the tide rose.

Georgetown

No damage was reported at Georgetown with the exception of that done by flood waters. Traffic over the new concrete bridge as halted at 10 p. m. Wednesday when the water rose to the height of the railing on the bridge. Some of the homes along the water front were flooded but no damage done to any of the yachts in the harbor.

Aside from the damage to the crops and the loss of valuable shade trees, little damage was reported from the inland section of the county except at the farm of Mr. John H. Clendaniel, near Kennedyville, where a large silver popular tree blow over on the house and did considerable damage to the roof and third story.

A number of Kent Countians visiting at Ocean City, Md., and Rehoboth, Delaare suffered great inconveniences from the storm. Mrs. Katherine Beck Jones, who has been visiting at the cottage of Mrs. Wilson, and Mr. Clinton C. Jones and family were brought to the mainland in boats, but had to leave their automobiles at Ocean City until the storm subsided.

FARMERS PLANNING A TRIP TO CHICAGO

FARM BUREAU AND EXTENSION SERVICE ORGANIATION LOW COST TOUR LEAVING SEPTEMBER 15TH

Cooperating in arranging a tour to the Century of Progress for the farmers of Maryland, the University of Maryland Extension Service and the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation have arranged with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to run a special train which will be known as the Maryland Farmers' Special leaving Baltimore Friday, September 15th, and returning Tuesday, September 19th.

Three full days will be provided at the Fair as the train arrives in Chicago Saturday 9 A. M. and does not leave until Monday at 8.30 P. M. A price of $28.00, according to Miles H. Fairbank, secretary-treasurer of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation, covers the entire expenses of the trip with the exception of meals purchased on the Fair ground, but it does include four meals on the train both ways, breakfast each day at the hotel and rooms have been provided at the Morrison Hotel. The price also includes transportation from the depot to the hotel and return.

CAN YOU BEAT IT

On the farm in Broad Neck, known as Frog Pond, is a pond containing a number of Carp fish. After the storm on Wednesday two of these fish were seen in a field on the Brice farm which was flooded and which is about one-quarter of a mile from the pond on the Frog Pond farm. It is supposed these two fish followed the flooded area to the Brice Farm where they were seen along a hedge row.

A farmer living near Queenstown, in Queen Anne's county called at the Queenstown News Office a few days ago and asked the Editor the definition of the N. R. A. sign on his front door. The Editor told him the only solution he could give was "No Republicans Allowed."

The editor of a country paper received the following query: "Can you tell me what the weather will be next month?" In reply he wrote: "It is my opinion that the weather next month will be very much like your subscription." The inquirer wondered for an hour what the editor was driving at, when he happened to think of the word "unsettled." He went in town the next day and squared his account.

Mr. J. W. Rollison, of Oklahoma City, returned to Chestertown, this week for the first time since he left here in 1880, 53 years ago. He has spent the past two days trying to find his way about as he stated that the entire business section is changed, particularly the up-town section that has been rebuilt since the fire.

After leaving Chestertown he went to Norfolk and was engineer on the steamer Grace, near Hampton Rhodes when she was in collison and sank. MILK PRICES INCREASED

33 CENT INCREASE TO KENT PRODUCERS

WALLACE SIGNS MILK CODE FOR PHILADELPHIA TERRITORY

Agriculture's NRA blue eagle spread its wings over the Philadelphia Milk Shed this week when Secretary Wallace signed the Code for the milk industry known as the Philadelphia Milk Marketing Agreement, of the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

One of the provisions in this Agreement makes effective Friday morning, August 25th, a minimum price to the consumer throughout the territory specified in the agreemnt of 11c per quart and 7c per pint. At the same time, the price to all farmers is increased 33c per hundred lbs. of milk. This thirty three cent additional will ncrease the price of basic milk in Kent County from $1.92 cents to $2.25. In addition to this an adjustment of freight rates is expected which would add 2 or 3 cents more to the above price.

Moved by the same patriotic enthusiasm which has made storekeepers and manufacturers enlist under the NRA, milk distributors have already, within the past 24 hours, signed by scores the milk marketing agreement, indicating their voluntary intention of cooperating with the National Government's recovery program.

Licenses will be issued all milk distributors in order that dealers complying in full with the price schedule and fair practices set forth in the agreement will not be penalized by offenders.

One of the immediate benefits of the marketing agreement is the elimination of the price cutting which has been so demoralizing a factor for both producers and distributors. One price to consumers will prevail throughout the Philadelphia Milk Shed, with the exception of certain seashore points.

Furthermcre, under this agreement, unbiased Government specialists are to have access to farmers' production records and distributors' account in determining basics, spread, etc., as marketing conditions warrant.

The territory for the Philadelhia Milk Marketing Agreement extends from Johnstown to Easton, Pa., and includes entire southeastern state of Pennsylvania; southern half of New Jersey, entire state of Delaware, the eastern shore of Maryland; and Washington County with portions of Frederick County, Maryland.

"THE BIG CAGE"

Actual thrills of danger, rather than those of dramatic situations created by the writers of motion picture stories, feature "The Big Cage," the Universal circus drama which is coming to the New Lyceum Theatre on Friday and Saturday, September 1 and 2.

This remarkable picture presents in its leading role the daredevil Clyde Beatty, youngest and greatest of the world's animal trainers, who is seen in hair-raising performances with 43 jungle-bred lions and tigers. Beatty is the only man who ever combined lions and tigers in a circus "act". In this story, written by himself and Edward Anthony, based on his own life, is seen developing the performance which has made him the greatest attraction of the tented-show world. It was just such an act as this that he made such a sensational success at Madison Square Garden last year that he actually crowded the huge garden to its capacity in the worst show year in history.

The major part of "The Big Cage" is told against the little known background of a circus' winter quarters, and its action finds Beatty as the center of a serious of spine-tingling incidents in which he actually takes his life in his hands. The climax of the picture takese place in a mammoth circus tent during a performance, with several lions and tigers escaping from the arena and creating pandemonium in the milling crowds.

Beatty's supporting cast in "The Big Cage" includes Andy Oivine, Vince Barnett, Wallace Ford, Micky Rooney, Raymond Hatton, Robert McWade, James Durkin, Filfred Lucas and other screen favorites. The picture was directed by Kurt Neumann. There is a behind the scenes a love story, that is so vitally a part of the picture, that it suggests the dual quality that made of "Variety" such a great picture of show life.

SLEUTH DISGUISE

Pedestrian (to boy leading a skinny mongrel pup): "What kind of a dog is that, my boy "

Boy: "This is a police dog."

Pedestrian: "That doesn't look like a police dog."

Boy: "Nope, it's in the secret service."

Mrs. John Vickers underwent an operation for appendicitis at Easton hospital this week and is getting along nicely.
