FORD V-8 BREAKS SPEED RECORD

AVERAGES 80.22 MILES AN HOUR FOR 203 MILES

Detroit, Michigan.—All previous records for the Famous Elgin National Road Race were shattered when a Ford V-8 won the Joseph Weidenhoff Trophy Race for stock cars of American manufacture in the 203-mile grind at Elgin, Ill., last Saturday. The race was conducted under the rules of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association and was sanctioned by that organization.

The winning Ford V-8, piloted by Fred Frame, Indianapolis Speedway champion last year, lowered the mark set in 1930, in the last previous running of the race, by Ralph DePalma, famous race driver, in a high-powered racing car. Frame's average speed was 80.22 miles per hour. DePalma's record was 79.5 miles per hour. The Ford V-8 negotiated the 203-mile course in 2 hours, 32 minutes, 6.1 seconds.

Fifteen cars were entered, including Fords, Chevrolets, a Plymouth and a Dodge. Fords took the first seven places in the event. The Plymouth finished in eighth place. The other cars either were forced out of the race by mechanical failures or were flagged when the race was declared finished.

Hints for the Household

FOR SEPTEMBER
BY BETTY WEBSTER

It is always a problem, at the beginning of the school year, to arrange to keep the brand new books as fresh as possible throughout the term. In some places, the newspapers or other commercial organizations provide the children with heavy paper book covers. The majority of youngsters, however, have to supply their own and many times I've seen covers of vari-colored

STYLES

It looks like we5re in for a deluge of petticoats and—for those who need it—considerable stuffing around the lungs! Stamp your feet and tear your hair and see where it gets you. You may have your fit and then find yourself conforming as you've always done—you wait and see.

All women like to change themselves and really feel like another person, to get off on a mental excursion and play the role of some garnd lady of the past. You know you do, so why deny it? What is probably going to happen is that all those who have never worn petticoats and had padded chests will try them, and those who have—many of our mothers and all of our grandmothers—will continue their present-day apparel. We younger generation will try any thing once, and it is no fun for us to learn by precept. Trial and error is our theory, and we have a quick, decisive method of separating the sheep from the goats and finally getting down to exactly what we want, what we need—and saying, "Here, ash-can, you take the rest."

Sailor

The sailor collar of white chiffon is attracting considerable notice in Paris, especially when worn with a dinner gown. For example, a dinner gown of navy blue taffeta with godets in the skirt and a deep "V" neck in front outlined with this wide sailor collar of white chiffon.

Washing Doeskin Gloves

When washing doeskin or chamois gloves first soak in lukewarm water to which soap flakes or shaved soap has been addd. Rinse the gloves several times and shake and then lay on a towel to dry.

Jackets

Looks as though the short, fitted jacket would be as prominent around Paris this autumn as it was in early summer. Particularly the little jacket with the wide revers and the jeweled buttons. Sometimes these jackets are surmounted by a tiny detachable cape collar in velvet.

HOPES FOR UPLIFT

Welfare Workers: "And have you any plans or the future when your sentence expires?"

Edgar the Incorrigible: "Yus. I've got the plans of two joolers and a post-office to start with."

WHY VOTE ?

The Dry Who Fails to Vote is as Responsible for wet victory as the Wet Voter who Gets His Ballot Into the Box

Do our opponents say that it is an infringement of personal rights, etc.? Grant it. Do we not pass automobile laws? Laws against crime of all kinds? Do we deprive lunatics of their personal liberty. Do we not quarantine our fellow citizens arriving from infected ports? Do we not pass laws against profanity and indecency? Who is more insane than the drunkard? Or who more dangerous to society than one under the power of alcohol? Under what influence are the numerous murders and other outrages committed?

"It may be said, however, that prohibition has proved a failure. What then—so has moral suasion; shall we therefore abandon the latter with the former, and offer no barriers to the flood of intemperance now sweeping over the land."

The argument for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment on the ground that the government needs the revenue, considered from a moral standpoint, is an appeal to the baser instincts of human nature.

Has this government become so bankrupt, that for a price, it is willing to jeopardize the welfare of the people by legalizing an admitted evil?

Even the wettest of the wets confess the dangerous character of beverage alcohol in their recognition of the necessity of attempting to regulate its manufacture and sale, an attempt that has always completely failed. From a moral standpoint, it would be no worse to legalize the lottery, gambling and prostitution for revenue.

We know that alcoholic beverages have wrecked homes in untold numbers, clothed children in rags, taken the bread from their mouths, broken the hearts of untold thousands of mothers and wives, and sent countless thousands of its victims to prison.

From the ranks of the wets will be found none who will sincerely dispute this charge against beverage alcohol. Their answer is to regulate it. An imposibility!

TO LEGALIZE AN EVIL FOR MONEY IS POOR ECONOMY AND BAD MORALS.

A vote against Repeal does not break your pledge to any party. It will square you with the first part of the Constitution of the United States and especially that part which says, Life, Liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

If you want Kent County to remain legally dry, make your mark in the square to the right of each of the 9 nine in the second or middle column on the ballot. Here are the names as they appear on the ballot—

MARYLAND CIRCUS COMING

TO SHOW HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

ANN MPTS
Dainty Equestrene, with World Bros. Circus

Fletcher Smith, general agent of the World Bros., circus was in Chestertown Thursday making arrangements for the appearance of the circus here on Moffett's field, next Wednesday, September 13. The circus which exhibited in Wilmington last Friday, and which has been in the east since last spring is a Havre de Grace outfit and was owned and managed many years by the late Andrew Downie, who made annual visits here in years past. James Heron, the present manager is also from Havre de Grace and the circus has its winter quarters in that city.

The circus was headed for the Carolinas but the present action on the part of the Governor who ordered all of the warehouses closed and the sale of tobacco stopped, combined with the low price of cotton, made it necessary to make a sudden change of plans. In consequence, the Eastern Shore will be benefitted and the big show will appear in most of the big towns and cities The big special feature is Capt. Walker, battling twenty lions and there are trained animals both wild and domestic and performing elephants and camels Two performances will be given at four o'clock for the benefit of the school children who will be admitted for a dime and another at 8 o'clock. The circus promises twenty circus features and a complete wild west and rodeo as a special added feature. The prices have been reduced for the present tour to 25 cents for adults and children under 12 years will be admitted to the matinee for ten cents. The advertisement in the current issue can be used as a child's ticket if presented at the ticket wagon with a dime and will be honored at either the afternoon or night show.
