HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 25¢ at drug stores.

Refuse "something just as good", for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. ©1933, C.M.Co.

"LORD KEEP MY MEMORY GREEN"

We often sy and going back in the mazes of memory we pick out persons and things that the great author Dickens would have revelled in, could he have been brought within touch with them.

Someone was recalling one such character in the person of Mr. John Lynch, of Chestertown. Mr. Lynch had little of this world's goods, unless one counted a large family who suffered many privations on account of his lack of work and means. But nothing daunted, Mr. Lynch would strut along with his hat, shabby though it might be, struck jauntily on the side of his head. He used always to speak of himself as "a gentleman by birth, but a pump maker by profession." As there were few pumps to be fixed his work was not onerous, and even when pumps were awaiting to be fixed there would elapse sometime before they were repaired. At one time there was a fight between two young men in the town and Mr. Lynch happened to witness it. Of course he was summoned in court, to testify. Judge Joseph Wickes was presiding on the bench at that time. He was always considered a very just Judge, his decisions were impartial and he was also a stern disciplinarian in court.

When Mr. Lynch was called and asked his name and etc., he gave his usual answer, that he was a gentleman by birth and a pump maker by profession. When he was questioned as to what he knew about the case he replied, "It was a moonlight night, and as I was walking along meditating on noture and natures law. I saw these two men in mortal combat." The Judge ordered him to take his seat and the witness retired feeling that eloquence was not appreciated in Court. It was at this time that Mr. Samuel Rawleigh began building houses on the upper part of town near the old railroad station.

So rapidly did he build them, that one man dreamed that he had begun and finished his house in one day. The first tenant in this new settlement was Mr. Lynch, and the place has been called Lynchburg ever since. Not a great number of our citizens have the distinction of having a town called for them. Most probably Mr. Lynch was, as he said, a gentleman by birth, but he had fallen into bad habits and had moved from the place of his birth and had gone lower and lower in the social scale. He finally left town, but his name is still remembered here, and many a story is told about him to this day.

Another character was well known in town at that time Old Chester Wilmer. He was a tall lean negro, nearly always under the influence of liquor, but his trenchant sayings were often quoted. He would come down the street calling out very often, "I'se a bad looking man but I'se got good feelings." He was a chimney sweep by "profession," and nothing pleased him better then to climb on top of the chimney and begin his work. He was genrally loaded when he began, and with his singing and loud talking he generally gathered a crowd of younsters around, and the householder was glad when his work was done. His contempt for his own race was very keen and he would speak of them as "old niggers." But Chestertown lost one of outstanding oddities when old Ches passed away.

THE TREND OF FASHION

If one has last seasons clothes packed away it must give her some uneakiness to see how styles have gone back to the nineties with their high necks, small waist and many skirts. Just as one congratulated her self on the present sensible fashions to be a la mode now one must turn backward, thirty or forty years to be in style.
