DAIRYMEN FAVOR BASIC SURPLUS PLAN

PRESENT PLAN WINS 4 TO 3 IN POLL OF DAIRYMEN

Dairymen in the Priladelphia Milk Shed, which includes Kent County, are in favor of the basic-surplus plan as now in effect, according to a poll of members of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association. The question was put to every member of that organization now shipping milk; 58 per cent of those who expressed themselves prefer the present arrangements according to a statement made this week by the Inter-State Milk Producers Assoc.

The returns were well distributed from all parts of the Philadelphia Milk Shed and inspection of records show that large and small producers expressed themelves substantially as did the majority.

Milk producers are paid a price of about five cents a quart for Class I milk which in October and November includes 85 percent of their established basic quantities. The price of all milk above this amount shipped by each distributor is determined according to butter markets.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS NEXT WEDNESDAY

RABBITS, PARTRIDGES, SQIRRELS, DOVES AND DUCKS, OF MAJOR INTEREST HERE

The hunting season for rabbits, partridges, squirrels and water fowl opens next week and indications point to an abundance of game, particularly partridges and water foul.

The season for upland game, including rabbits and partridges, opens on Wednesday, November 15th and remains open until January 1st. The bag limit for rabbits is 6 a day, and partridges 10 a day.

The season for shooting woodcock and dove is November 15th to December 15th, inclusive. The bag limits are woodcock 4, dove 18.

Wild Water Fowl

Federal regulations, which supersede state laws provide an open season on wild waterfowl, including geese and ducks, 12 o'clock noon, November 16th to January 15th, inclusive.

(Federal regulations prohibit the hunting or killing on the Atlantic Coast of Ross' Goose, Wood Duck, Ruddy Duck, Bufflehead Duck and the Swan.)

Federal regulations also provide it to be unlawful to take more than eight of any one or eight in the aggregate of the following species in any one day, Canvasback, Redheads, Greater Scaup, Lesser Scaup, Ring-neck, Blue Winged Teal, Green-winged Teal, Cinnamon Teal, Shoveller and Cadwall.

The bag limit under the Federal rgulations is twelve per day, not more than twenty-four in the aggregate of all kinds in possession at any one time and not more thn sixteen of any one or sixteen in the aggregate of the above named species at any one time.

The bag limit on wild goose is four in any one day—not more than eight in possession at any one time.

There is a closed season on Bran throughout the entire Atlantic Coast.

Wilson Snipe or Jacksnipe, open season 12 o'clock noon, November 16th to January 15th, inclusive; bag limit per day: 10.

There are more wild geese and wild ducks on the waters of Maryland at present than there have been for a number of years at this early season and we sincerely hope that the sportsmen will have a profitable season throughout the entire wildfowl area.

Upland game is reported plentiful, especially bob-white throughout the State. Cotton-tail rabbits in certain sections are plentiful; other sections they are not. Wild turkey in the range of their habitat are reported more plentiful than they have been for a number of years past.

FIREMEN TO PLAY SANTA CLAUS

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company are planning to again distribute toys on Christmas to children in families where conditions will otherwise deprive them of this Christmas joy an dpreparations are now being made at the fire house for the repair and renovation of toys of all kinds.

For the past three years the firemen have collected discarded and broken toys, painted and fixed them and then distributed them at Christmas time.

The cooperation of the public is asked and everyone is requested to search the attics and other storage places and bring toys to the fire house.

The committee in charge of the work is composed of Messrs. Benjamin Hessy and James LeCates.

Many a lad takes a back seat for want of a little "spunk."

TO MAKE SEWERAGE SURVEY

CONTRACT LET MONDAY NIGHT

The contract for the survey of Chestertown's sewrage system was let to Whitman, Reguardt and Smith Engineering Company, of Baltimore, at the regular monthly meeting of the Chestertown Council Monday night. This survey is preliminary to the construction of a sewerage disposal plant.

A complete engineering survey of Chestertown's sewerage system is necessary in order to make application to the Federal Public Works Commission for a loan of the necessary funds. It is understood that the Council will apply to the Commission for the necessary funds. Under the provisions of the loan, if made, the Federal Government will donate 30 per cent of the cost and the town of Chestertown will be obligated for the remaining 70 percent, the obligation to bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent.

A lot north of Radcliffe creek on the river side of Quaker Neck road has been purchased from Mrs. Spranklin as the location of the disposal plant; although the transaction will depend on the Spranklin Will Case which will come for trial in Centreville next week.

The Council at the Monday night meeting ordered the purchase of 500 ft. of fire hose. They decided that the petition of "Our Garden Club" with reference to the trees of Chestertown should be taken up with the State Forester.

WASHINGTON LOSES TO ST MARY'S

TAKES 19 TO 6 DEFEAT FROM SPERIOR TEAM

Washington College lost to Mt. St. Mary's last Saturday 19 to 6, at Kibler Field against a heavier and stronger team. Their 6 point score came when Dobson broke into Mt. St. Mary's play which included a lateral pass, caught the ball in the air and ran for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Washington had the edge during the 2nd quarter and during the rest of the game put up a strong defense but were unable to stop their much heavier opponents. The punting of Reinhold was the outstanding performance of the Washington eleven.

To Play St. Joseph's Today

Washington College will play St. Joseph's today at Philadelphia and the past performances of both teams points to an even break.

CHESTERVILLE MAN SUICIDE

SUMMONED BEFORE GRAND JURY IN FREEMAN DEATH INVESTIGATION

Henry Andrews, aged 36 years, of near Cheserville, Kent County, was found dead in a woods on the farm of Mr. Harry Jester, with whom he made his home, on Tuesday morning of this week with a .22 caliber bullet in his head. Coroner H. L. Dodd viewed the body and decided it to be suicide, deeming an inquest unnecessary.

Andrews was in Centerville on Monday in response to a summons issued the Grand Jury of Queen Anne's county engaged in probing the death of Jennings Freman, also of near Chesterville, who was found dead on the side of the road near Crumpton on July 21st. In investigating Freeman's death, witnesses stated to the authorities that Andrews and Freeman had a quarrel which ended in a fight several weeks before Freeman's death. Witnesses also stated that Andrews and a colored man, Emmanuel Spencer, accompanied Freeman to the home of a bootlegger the evening of July 21st, the same evening that Freeman was found dead.

Andrews is survived by a wife and several children who live in Caroline county.

Field Ball Championship In Doubt.

The Chestertown High School girls senior field ball team has won the championship of the county in the senior bracket and will play the winner of the junior field ball championship. At the present time the Millington junior team has a slight edge in that class.

INJURED IN MOTORCYCLE CRASH

Vernard Seward, of Worton, and a graduate of Chestertown High School, was injured on Wednesday afternoon when his motorcycle crashed into the side of an automobile driven by Francis Baker.

Seward was coming down High street and the Baker car was coming out of Mill street. The motorcycle hit the side of the automobile and Seward was thrown on the concrete road. An examination of his injuries showed that he had a broken arm as well as minor cuts and bruises. He was taken into the home of Mr. Walter Lusby and later taken to his home at Worton.

OUR BROADCAST

—In place of the regular assembly at Washington College next Thursday morning, the faculty and students will be guests of the New Lyceum Theatre at a showing of two reals of moving pictures taken during the recent inaugural ceremonies at Washington College.—The County Commissioners this week installed three lights in the Court House yard so that this yard will be lighted at night. Due to the darkness the yard has been the scene of a great deal of nuisances during the past.—Mr. Walter Wirts is representing the Rock Hall Protective Association in their effort to organize the oystermen of the Chesapeake Bay. For the past two weeks he has been in the lower part of the Eastern Shore. One of the major objects of the organization is to prevent corporations getting control of the oyster bars as they now have in other Atlantic Coast states.

—The Square Deal Farm Agency this week sold the Howard Stanton property in Piney Neck to Captain Alfred P. Crouch. Sargeant Stanton came to Piney Neck from New York and is one of the few surviving Indian War veterans. He served under General Miles and assisted in the capture of the Indian Chief Gironimo in the wilds of Mexico. He was also one of the best pistol shots of his time.—Jack Stonor, colored, alleged bad man from El Passo, Texas, was this week sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction for hitting Walter Scott, of South Carolina, over the head with an iron bar near Goose Hill Monday night.—The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company band will attend the Armistice Day Celebration at Cambridge, Md. today, Saturday as there is to be no celebration here that day. —Mrs. Emma Hess Ingersol, of near Chestertown, has brought honor to Kent County, herself and her pocketbook. Mrs. Ingersol won the D. J. McCarthy prize of $100 for the best minature at the Pennsylvania Society of Minature Painters. This exhibit is being held at the Fine Arts Academy in Philadelphia which ends December 10th. The Chestertown Armory has taken on a new coat of gray paint. It now looks a great deal more warlike and the paint will help prevent the moisture from seeping through the walls.—Maurice Fox, proprietor of Fox's 5c to $1.00 Store says that his store was packed so full of customers last Saturday night that many coat buttons were torn off in the jam. The sweeper found 32 in sweeping up the floor. —The Freshmen at Washington College defeated the Sophomores in a class contest this week. A tying-up contest replaced the usual tug-of-war. Strands of rope were furnished and the object was to see which class could tie the other up most completely. Kent will,it is most likely, not get its new Court House as it is reported that Delegate Arthur Brice intends to put a referendum to the bill if it is introduced at the special session of the Maryland Legislature. This also puts a damper on the School Board's petition for a new High School at Chestertown.—Kent county leads the State in the production of esperagus and ranks the 24th county in the Uuited States in production. But Kent also rated 2nd in the number of hog cholera outbreaks last month which is not so good.—Prof. Robert Pippin is the big leader in the football pool at Severn School. —Dr. J. S. W. Jones saw part of the Inaugural Ceremonies in a news reel in Baltimore and it mentioned Chestertown but not Washington College. Prof. David McMenamin saw a news reel of it in Wilmington where it mentioned Washington College but not Chestertown.—Mr. John Bennett, Jr., has again accepted the position as Deputy Sheriff at the Kent County jail. Mr. James Kernan has resigned. Mr. Harry Fallowfield defeated Mr. Joseph Wheatley, champ of Kent County, at checkers last week. —Some stale news. Mr. Hubert Massey, of Chestertown, motored to Wilmington sometime ago and locked his car when he parked it. When he went to look for it the parking space was empty. The police department was notified and soon the car was found about five blocks away. Upon examination it was found locked as Mr. Massey had left it and a witness stated that he saw a man of his description leave the car there and locked it. It is understood that the police immediately stopped looking for the thief. —More old stuff. Mr. Horace Needles sometime ago bought a safe at sheriffs sale. He got it cheap as the safe was locked and no one knew the combination. A safe company heard of it and offered him a trade-in on a new safe as they claimed that the only way to open it would be to break the combination. Mr. Needles decided he would try to open it himself and succeeded after a half hour's work that night. After opening it he was able to figure out the combination and he now has a good safe which he received at a bargain price.

COURT HOUSE PLAN RECEIVES SETBACK

DELEGATE BRICE WOULD ATTACH REFERENDUM TO BILL

The plan to remodel the Kent County Court House at a cost of $70,000 from money to be borrowed from the Federal Public Works Commission received a serious set back this week when Delegate Arthur Brice stated that he would not introduce the bill for that amount of money in the House at the special session without a referendum.

A referendum to the bill would present it to the voters at the general election next November which is beyond the present time limit for borrowing from the P. W. C. This also practically eliminates the petition of the School Board to borrow $125,000 for a new Chestertown High School.

The most immediate need at the Court House is an enlargement of vault space in the clerk's office as the records of the county have filled the vault to overflowing and cannot be properly taken care of.

A DAY OF PRAYER

TO BE OBSERVED NEXT SUNDAY

In the program aranged by the Chestertown Ministerial Union for the month of November, next Sunday, November 12th, has been designated as a Day of Prayer for a revival of true religious devotion in the local churches of our town and to the larger interests of the kingdom as represented by the several churches in their missionary and benevolent enterprises.

Prayer is common to all religions. In the christian church it finds its basis in a sense of human need, and a faith in the power and willingness of God to supply those needs, and also in the teachings and example of Jesus.

Certainly the conditions in which we find ourselves are such as should bring us to a consciousness of our need, and the setting of a day in which we are requested unitedly to call upon God in prayer, provides the opportunity for the confession of our sense of need and dependence upon Him and the expression of a faith in His willingness and power to bless.

This is a call on the part of the leaders of the chirstian forces of the community to all who profess to be the followers of Christ to present themselves before God in their respective churches to engage in divine worship and prayer for His blessing upon the community and the extension of Christ's Kingdom as expressed through the program of the church. Will you join us?

E. A. SEXSMITH,
Secretary Ministerial Union

"ACE OF ACES"

Excellent combination of star, story, author and director is responsible for the entertaining qualities and success of "Ace of Aces," RKO-Radio Pictures' thrilling air drama starring Richard Dix under J. Walter Ruben's directions in an original story by John Monk Saunders. Powerful fare is provided in the theme, which is an emotional analysis of a war hero's reaction to his own prowess as a slaughterer of foemen whom he personally does not hate.

For ten consecutive years, Dix has been a ranking male star on the silent and talking screen. He has appeared in numerous auspicious films, which include "The Vanishing American," "The Christian," "Cimarron," "The Conquerors," and "Hell's Highway." He is further equipped for the dramatic role of Lt. Rex Thorne in "Ace of Aces" by reason of his notable appearance in "The Lost Squadron," drama of flying stunters, two seasons ago.

J. Walter Ruben has achieved directorial fame in Hollywood as a director teaming with Richard Dix on several occasions. He was at the helm of Dix's "The Great Jasper," "The Public Defender," "Secret Service" and "No Marriage Ties."

John Monk Saunders applied his war experience as an ace in the American Air Service to his writing, and became the celebrated author of "Wings" and "The Dawn Patrol." It is contended that for "Ace of Aces" he drew upon many of his personal experiences for plot sequences.

"Aces of Aces" will show at the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, November 13 and 14.
