Church Unity—Rev. Frank White

That which we know as the "Lord's Prayer" is the clearest and most beautiful expression of man's highest thought and noblest desire. It is also the most potent force working for the attainment of man's most glorious ideal. The acceptance of "Our Father" carries the conclusion, "All ye are brethren."

Let us place this prayer, that Jesus taught his disciples to say, with the prayer that He made for those disciples, and for all "who should believe on Him through their word. It is found in the 17th chapter of John's gospel, "That they, all may be one; as thou Father, are in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us."

The "Minister's Association" of Chestertown is engaged in a series of activities to help the community to know and appreciate the fact, that while seperate organizations, under different denominational names, housed in separate buildings, with somewhat differing forms of worship, seem to indicate obstructions to a complete answer of our Saviour's prayer, we are "endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace."

We will lower now the walls of division, so that we may shake friendly hands over them, while we continue to work together, with one heart and soul, for the coming of the glad day when men everywhere should say with the Psalmist, "How good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.

In furtherance of this purpose, we have named next Sunday, November 26th, as a day in which, by thought and conversation in prayer and worship, we will place emphasis upon our desire for Church Unity. As a practical expression of our sincereity, let us crowd the Methodist Protestant Church on "Thanksgiving" day at eleven o'clock, to give united testimony of our gratitude to God, our Father, in the name of Jesus, whose we are, and whom we serve.

Rev. C. L. Atwater of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will bring the message.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband and father, Thomas H. Jones who departed this life Nov. 27, 1926.

We seem to see in the soft dim light,
A face we love the best;
And think of you when the sun's last ray,
Goes down in the far off west.

Round our hearts best affection forever to shine more precious than rubies deep dug from the mines, dear husband, and father.
Words cannot express what you truly mean to us when we are sad and in distress, we long to be alone with thee.
Oh it will all come right at last.
It may be when all is done we will be where to wish and to have are one at home in the glorified presence of God in the beautiful Zion of rest, sometimes when our task is done with joy, we shall meet our dear husband and father again.

By his loving wife and children,
Mrs. Henry Jones, Rock Hall, Md.

From a novel: "Finally he took his wife apart and tried to reason with her."

"Suppose he had been unable to reassemble her," suppose H. B.

LOVE'S GREETING

This world would be a dreary place
For mortal man to live;
With all the kicks, and cuffs, and knocks
That life seems sure to give,
If it were not for that glad hour
When work and toil is o'er,
And she, whose love, turns Night To Day,
Stands smiling, at the door.

Men strive together, in the mart,
With all their might, and main;
The battle wages fierce, all day,
O'er Valley, Hill and Plain;
But the struggle is forgotten,
And life seems well worth-while.
When she, whose love lights all, your life
Still greets you with a smile.

Oh, I'm sure, she has her struggles,
She was never known to shirk,
And the burdens must get heavy,
As on she does her work;
Cleaning house and washing dishes,
She must go many a mile.
But she's there, a Queen, to love you,
And greet you with a smile;

You may travel where the breezes
Blow soft o'er Ceylons Isle;
You may gaze on scenes of beauty,
See all this world worth-while,
But there's nothing quite so thrilling,
Tho you've traveled many a mile,
Like the joy of welcome greeting,
As She greets you with a smile.

SEAL SALE STARTS THANKSGIVING

20,000 MAIL APPEALS TO BE MADE IN MARYLAND

Uncle Sam, beginning on Thanksgiving, will deliver more than 200,000 direct mail appeals throughout the State of Maryland, in the interest of the twenty-sevenh annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated branches.

"The annual Christmas Seal Sale has played a prominent part in the reduction of the tuberculosis death rate in the past twenty-five years," said William B. Matthews, Managing Director of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. When the first Christmas Seal was sold in the country in 1907 the death rate was nearly three times higher than it is today. However, the job has not been completed by any means. Tuberculosis today is still the major health problem in the ages of greatest economic value. It is the greatest cause of death between the ages of 15 and 45. It kills almost twice as many girls as boys between the ages of 15 and 20. It is the greatest cause of deaths among school children between the ages of 5 and 20 (except accidents.) More than one fourth of all deaths among young women, and almost one fifth of the deaths of young men between the ages of 15 and 30 are due to tuberculosis. Among negroes the mortality is between three or four times higher than among whites.

The funds obtained from the Christmas Seal Sale in Maryland are used to finance the folowing activities of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

The Miracle House; known far and wide as the preventorium for Maryland children predisposed to tuberculosis.

State wide free chest clinics; these clinics have been conducted for nine years. More than 18,000 examinations have been made.

The Association also maintains a year-round health education campaign in the interest of prevention and control of tuberculosis, and also assists in medical research.

The Seal Sale campaign which opens on Thanksgiving Day, continues until Christmas.
