MARYLAND LEGISLATURE NOW IN SESSION

have of late been eeports that the Federal Government contemplates a much higher Federal tax than $1.10, but it does not seem fair for the Government to preempt this field of public revenue. At least a fair share of it properly belongs to the States.

It would certainly seem that a sum equal to the existing Federal tax, that is, $1.10 per gallon or thereabouts, should be recerved for se State, and this is the rate which the bill will propose.

The bill will allot the revenues from this tax to the State treasury, first, because the retail license fees go entirely to Baltimore City and the Counties, and secondly, because the tremendous decrease in the State's assessable basis and the contributions from the State treasury made by the last Legislature for relief in Baltimore City and the Counties, make new revenue essential for the State to meet its obligations, in spite of the very drastic cuts in the State Budget.

To Expedate Criminal Justile

The Governor in his message pointed out the principal points as recommended by tse special Crime Commission, appointed to study and recommend corrections in the present laws.

Some of the points in the recommendation as pointed out by the Governor follows:

I will not undertake to summarize the commission's proposal in detail. Briefly they provide for:

1. The promptest possible consideration of cases by the grand jury and the petit jury. These bodies are to convene monthly in regular course, and immediately, where the importance of the case jostifies it.

2. The final disposition of motions for new trials within ten days.

3. Reduction of the time within which appeals in criminal cases must be taken and of the time for transmitting records to the Court of Appeals. In the Court of Appeals the case will have precedence over other cases. When the lower court is affirmed, the Court of Appeals will render its decision immediately, without waiting to write the opinion. The Court of Appeals will send its mandate immediately to the lower court, without waiting for the customary thirty days, so that its judgment may be carried out at once. Judgments in criminal cases will not be reversed by the Court of Appeals for technical errors, where it is apparent that no substantial right of the accused has been affected.

With the diligent administration of these provisions, it is believed that in any case in which all legal motions and an appeal are resorted to, not more than three months will elapse from the time of the trial until the lower court receives the mandate of the Court of Appeals for final execution.

4. Requirement that the Sheriff:

(a) Shall exercise the very highest degree of care of prisoners committed to his custody.

(b) That he shall, on his own initiative, remove a prisoner to safety if there is danger of mob violence.

(c) That he must do this upon the order of the Governor or the State's Attorney.

(d) That in the event of such removal, the prisoner shall not be returned to the locality of the crime except upon the order of the judge of the circuit.

(e) That if violence is done a prisoner while in the custody of the Sheriff, there shall be a civil action in monetary damages on the Sheriff's bond, and in such proceeding the mere happeniong of the act of violence shall be prima facie evidence of dereliction on the Sheriff's part.

(f) That the Governor shall have power to remove from office any Sheriff who has been derelict in his duty with regard to the custody of prisoners in his keeping.

5. Recommendation for a uniform system of drawing grand and petit juries, so that there may be a fair representation of the entire citizenry, and apparent discriminations of race or color may be avoided.

Other important recommendations will appear in the commission's report and in the bills submitted to carry it out.

Legislation designed to prevent lynchings has been adopted in ten or eleven States. In seven of these States fifty-nine lynchings have occurred notwithstanding these enactments. Nevertheless it is important to explore this field.

The more important types of this legislation provide for (1) making lynching and participation therein a crime; (2) the use of military force to guard the prisoner; (3) removal of the prisoner to the jail of another county for safety; (4) change of venue; (5) prompt trial; (6) monetary damages to the prisoner or his next of kin when a lynching occurs.

In Maryland there is no need to make lynching a crime. The perpetrators are guilty of murder, and the accomplices and participants are guilty of established criminal offenses. The Governor has all the authority needed to call out the National Guard. The Constitution already provides for a change of venue. A constitutional amendment assuring removal of the trial to some distant county, far away from any possibility of local feeling, might be considered, but it is felt the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Euel Lee case safeguards this point.

STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

HOW IT SERVES ALL PARTS OF STATE

Some of the newer methods used in the State Bacteriological Laboratories in testing specimens of blood, sputum, swabs from the throat or nose, urine and feces, and specimens of other kinds, for the organisms that cause typhoid fever, tularemia (rabbit fever) undulant fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever (tick-bite fever), tuberculosis, diphtheria, and other diseases, were shown recently to groups of doctors in Carroll and Howard Counties, on the invitation of the medical societies of these counties, by Dr. C. A. Perry, Chief of the Bureau of Bacteriology of the State Department of Health. Similar demonstrations have been asked for and will be arranged for physicians in other parts of the State.

In describing the work of the laboratories, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health said: "The State Laboratories form a network which covers every part of the State. They are so situated that each is readily accessible to the physicians in that particular district. They are at the service of the doctors in the counties, day and night, every day in the year, as aids in the diagnosis of disease.

"The Central Laboratory is at the headquarters of the Departent in Baltimore City; the Branch Laboratory for the Eastern Shore is at Hurlock. The other Branch Laboratories are at Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick and Rockville.

"Physicians who avail themselves of the services of the laboratories, either take or send the material submitted for examination, to the Central or the nearest Branch Laboratory. A report of the findings is sent to the doctor, by telephone or by mail, as soon as the tests are compleetd. A duplicate copy of the report is sent at the same time to the County Health Officer.

"Containers for the specimens, with instructions for their use, are furnished to the doctors, free of charge. No charge is made for the examinations. The containers may be obtained from the Central Laboratory, the Branch Laboratories, the County Health Officers and from the supply stations scattered throughout the counties. The latter are usually in some centrally located drug store and doctors who are interested can get the address of the nearest station from the County Health Officer.

"An average of about 10,000 examinations is made in the six laboratories each month. About one fourth of these are concerned with water, milk, oysters and other foods; the rest are made on the requst of physicians to aid thm in the diagnosis of disease. There are about 800 physicians practicning in the counties, and the number who make use of the laboratories has increased steadily, year by year."

DID YOU KNOW?

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

In the year 1880, it was stated (Emory's Queen Anne County) that "in the value of farms productions Queen Anne's exceeded Talbot by more than $250,000, and "nearly equalled Kent. In the value of her orchard products she ranked second among the counties of the State, being surpassed only by Kent." In wheat production, she ranked first among Eastern Shore counties, and first, on the shore, in corn.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

In the year 1708, Kent and other counties, had a more devastating. Depression, than that which prevails in this "year of grace" 1933, and that Nov. 1708, (Acts of Assembly, page 337) an Act was passed for the relief of "Poor Debtors and languishing prisoneds," in which Act it was declared that "During this warr (the war with France) the low price for tobacco, the only staple commodity of this province and the same losses they have had at sea, have run many honest, well meaning persons, inhabitants of this province, farther in debt than they are able to pay, thereby obliging many of them to leave their habitations and fly out of this province into other colonys for their liberty, and others to be actually to be imprisoned."

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

"Mr. Thomas Smith, Mr. Wm. Frisby, Mr. Hans Hanson, Mr. Chas. Tilden, Mr. Mich Miller, Mr. Simon Wilmer, under date of January 30th, 1693," were named as the first six members of the first vestry of venerable and greatly loved St. Paul's church, of the present Kent County? And did you know further, that, according to Helen West Ridgely's "the Old Brick Churches of Maryland," Thomas Smith approves on the records, (of St. Paul's Church) as Colonel Thomas Smythe. He was the grandson of Sir Thomas Smythe, Treasurer of the Virginia Company, between 1606 and 1618. He was also one of the signers of the petition to William and Mary in 1689 for the establishment of the Protestant religion in Maryland. In 1694 he was chosen, with William Frisby, Hans Hanson, and John Hynson, to serve as burgesses. "All of these names are associated with the religious, business and social history of the present Kent county.
