NOW AND THEN

THE CHARM OF SOUND

BY ALICE MATHEWS

There is a magic most profound
Tis called the mystic charm of sound.
Streams sometime carry it full well
And always doth the Ocean tell
A tale peculiar to its self
That well betrays its depth of wealth.
O everywhere that power is found
There stays the majesty of sound.

The air is filled with quivering sound
The gentle breeze is also found
A carrying in a good degree
A thousand notes of melody.
A tender song will banish fear
By its sweet tune of kindly cheer.
The charm of sound is everywhere
On Earth, in water, and in air!
Sound doth descend from Paradise:
And always to high Heaven may rise!

Old Father Time has been very busy with his sickle lately, for Christmas has come upon us almost unawares. In fact it was a great surprise to see the vari-colored lights all up and down both High and Cross Streets, our chief shopping marts. They seem to be urging the slogan: "Do your shopping Home." Here you do not have the expense of travelling and all the added costs that a visit to the city entails. Perhaps you may find a greater variety there, but here you are boosting your home town. Everyone who lives in a place should have a local pride, and do what he can to further its interests, its banks, its Insurance Co., its Building Association and its merchants. Then they will all be able to give one good service and have what one wishes at home.

Those who listened in Thursday evening to the President's address to the Federation of Churchs at Constitution Hall in Washington, missed something of the joyous ring which always characterized his voice on the air.

Are the discontents making it too hard for him?

Some one has said that to be president of the United States is a killing job. It is certainly a hard one and Roosevelt found an almost bankrupt country when he came to office, and he has done his best to aid unemployment and to recoup our resources. It may be that all of his efforts are not pleasing to those who find their taxes increased and the dollar declining in value, but after all are not the big bankers, who flooded the country with worthless bonds, the real cause for the present want and depression.

It is better to do all one can to further his aims and help in every way one can.

"How dear to my heart are the scenes of my Childhood?" we say but we may also say: "How dear to my heart are the dreams of my childhood," dreams that we still remember out of the years. Our dream ships have never landed and many of them would have brought disaster if they had, but yet we still remember them. The following is a little clipping cut from the New York Times whose author that paper did not know:

OUT OF THE YEARS.

Out of the years they call to us,
Those faded, lonely little dreams
That one time meant the all to us—
How hopeless now and drab they seem.

Yet once in a childish faith we built
Each airy dream and saw it grow
Just as we planed, nor guessed t'would wilt—
But that was many years ago.

Today those same dreams gleam and glow
And burn again, while memory gropes
To bring them back—they can but show
How far we've strayed from childish hopes,

Those dreams that told us Life was kind,
Still whisper things we used to know
And breathe of plans we had in mind—
But that was many years ago.

FOOTBALL SQUAD TO BANQUET

"CURLIE" BIRD TO BE SPEAKER

A banquet for the Washington College foot ball squad will be held in the gymnasium next Wednesday evening. The speaker of the evening will be "Curlie" Bird, physical director of the University of Maryland.

Mr. Bird is one of the best known foot ball men in this section of the country and coached the Maryland team for many years until this year when he retired to an advisory capacity.

The Washington College foot ball squad has just finished a very satisfactory season and while they only were credited with two victories the remainder of the games were hard fought in spite of stronger opposition.

'Smiling courage' is so rare as to command a big premium.

EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT WAS REPEALED TUESDAY

LIQUOR SALE IN SEALED PACKAGES PERMITTED IN KENT COUNTY

Local Clerk of Court to Issue Licenses

The Eighteenth Amendment (Prohibition Law) was officially repealed at 5.50 p. m. Tuesday when William Phillips, Acting Secretary of State signed the 21st amendment to the constitution. In the meantime the 36 States, representing three fourth of the States in the Union, had met and officially passed regulatory measures for the dispensing of liquor in their respective states.

The Maryland Laws, passed by the Legislature at the present session affects Kent County as follows:

Liquors and Fortified Wines

Liquors and fortified wines may be sold by drug stores and grocery stores in sealed packages, not to be consumed on the premises, the license for same to be secured from the Clerk of the Court for Kent County at a cost of $250. $1 of this fee is retained by the Clerk's office and the remainder to be turned over to the County Commissioners to be used for general expenses. The hours during which liquors may be sold are from 6 a. m. to 11 p. m. with no sales on Sunday. Applications for licenses must be signed by ten resident voters and must be published five days before license is issued. No sale to minors either for themselves or others.

The Sale Of Beer

Beer may be sold by hotels, clubs and restaurants on sale and off sale at places the same as it has been for the past few months. No beer or wines may be sold to minors. Licenses are $25 off sale; $50 on sale; beer and light wines off sale $35.

History of Local Option

This is the first time since 1880 that the sale of liquor has been permitted in Kent County. The first local option law was voted by the people of this county in 1878 by a majority of 650. Up to that time there were twelve saloons in Chestertown and three stores which dispensed liquor in packages. Practically every town and cross road in the county had its saloon. The law gave the dealers in liquor a year to dispose of the liquor on hand and the local option law did not take effect until 1879. In 1884, through the efforts of the forces opposed to local option, the question was again presented for popular vote and the majority favoring local option had a majority of 1300. Mr. George W. Spencer was Senator from Kent County both times the question was submitted.

The sale of liquor by clubs to its members was permitted and numerous clubs were formed throughout the county, until in 1896 a law was passed prohibiting the sale of liquor in any way in Kent County except by drug stores upon presentation of a prescription. There was however no limit to the amount of liquor that a person could buy in other parts of the State and bring into Kent County until 1914 when the gallon-a-month law was passed. This law limited each adult person the privilege of bringing into the county one gallon of liquor and six dozen pint bottles of beer each month. The present law repeals the gallon-a-month law.

No Licenses Applied For

At the time of going to press no applications had been made to sell liquors under the $250 license. Under this license the seller must keep an accurate record of the names of the purchasers and the amount of liquor purchased.

Federal and State Tax $2.20

The present Federal tax on distilled liquor is $1.10 a gallon which when added to the State tax of $1.10 makes a total of $2.20 a gallon. Before the Eighteenth amendment was passed the Federal tax was $1.10 a proof gallon which increased during the war. There was also a State tax. According to pre-war regulations bonded liquor had to be aged five years.

HOSPITAL TO BE FINISHED CHRISTMAS

EXPECTED TO BE READY FOR OCCUPANCY JANUARY 1

According to a statement made this week, the new Kent and Upper Queen Anne's Hospital is 85 per cent finished and will be completed by Christmas.

This hospital is located just out side the town limits of Chestertown near Washington College and is one of the highest points in the county. The building which is a two story structure, is of frame construction with brick vencer on both ends and when completed, including heating plant, electric wiring and sanitary plumbing, will cost approxmately $12,500.

It will include one private room, a men's ward of six beds; women's ward, of 4 beds; children's ward of 4 beds; operating room, 2 utility rooms, residents, nurses room, kitchen, pantry and serving room. An office has been provided which can be converted into a private room if necessary.

In the large basement there is ample room for a laboratary, Xray room and colored ward.

The present Hospital Board, with Rev. John White, chairman, whose duties will cease when the building is turned over to the permanent board, has been working for the past year on plans and specifications for the building and will have sufficient funds to pay the construction costs in full.

The permanent Hospital Board, which was selected at a meeting held in the Chestertown High School building in June, 1929, and represents the various sections of Kent and Upper Queen Anne's Counties is as follows:

Galena and Georgetown, Wm. A. Hyland.

LIEUTENANT BLACKWAY RESIGNS

MEMBER LOCAL GUARD UNIT 12 YEARS

Lieutenant Herman Blackway has resigned his commission as second lieutenant of the local Medical Detachment, First Infantry, Maryland National Guard. His resignation took effect on Wednesday, Dec. 6.

Lieutenant Blackway became a member of the local guard unit shortly after it was organized and soon became top-sargeant. He received his commission as second lieutenant in June 1931 and has served in that capacity since that time. Aside from Major Frank B. Hines, who was instrumental in organizing the unit, Lieutenant Blackway is the oldest member in point of service in the unit. He has applied for membership in the Reserve Officers Corps. His resignation was due to the duties of that office conflicting with his business. It is understood that his position will not be filled in the near future.

Walter Morris is top sargeant, Harvey Blyman, infirmary sargeant and Walter Starkey sargeant.

PETIT LARCENY BILL PASSED

GIVES MAGISTRATES JURISDICTION OVER SMALL LARCENY CASES

A bill, introduced by Delegate Arthur Brice making larceny of money and articles of a value of $25 and under a misdemeanor instead of a felony, was passed this week.

Being a misdemeanor, these cases can be disposed of in a Magistrates Court.

Before this bill was passed all larceny was a felony and had to be tried by the Circuit Court. A trial was held before a Magistrate and if sufficient evidence was presented the accused was held for the action of the Grand Jury. If the Grand Jury indicts it is tried in Court.

This new bill will mean a great saving in Court costs as it is estimated that at least 60 per cent of the criminal work of the Circuit Court is for larceny under $25. It will also effect a saving in jail costs of boarding accused prisoners awaiting for the Circuit Court to convene.

OUR BROADCAST

—Mr. Don T. Falls, Jr., has been appointed superintendant at the Country Club. Clarence Goldsborough who has been employed at the club since its organization has accepted a position at the home of Mr. H. S. Brown.

—One constantly hears of ducking stories, fishing stories, and even swan songs, but a swan story is something new. Mr. Duncan Derringer, who has a ducking blind at little marsh point on the Sassafras River, keeps two wooden whiffler decoys in the water opposite his blind all season but on Monday they were missing, and the story goes as follows. A swan was caught up the creek with string wrapped around its neck. On one end of the string was a whiffler decoy and on the other was a plow shear anchor. The swan was thought to have been feeding in front of the blind and in diving had wrapped the string around its neck and dragged it a half mile. The other decoy could not be accounted for and there may be another swan somewhere accompanied by a decoy and plow shear.

It was announced this week that Mr. Massey Hines, of East Orange, N. J., has been made distributor of Texaco Oil products in this territory to succeed Mr. Frank Ford who has served in this capacity for a number of years.

SHOT AT LOCUST GROVE

ARGUMENT ENDS IN ASSAULT WITH SHOT GUN

Jesse Wilson, colored, of Kent County, is in jail at Chestertown charged with the shooting of Edward Dunsen, colored, also of Kent County, at Locust Grove the early part of the week.

A number were in the house when the argument started between Wilson and Dunsen. Wilson told Dunsen he was going to shoot him. Wilson left the house walked a mile and a half to get the gun. On coming back he walked in the house and told other occupant to get out of the way. He then blazed away at Dunsen.

Dunsen is in the Elkton Hospital and it is thought that it will be necessary to amputate an arm. Wilson is being held at the Kent County jail.

MILK MEETING INTERESTING

125 WAIRYMEN HERE ALLIED DAIRY SPEAKER

(IMPRESSIONS OF ONE IN ATTENDANCE)

The Court room of Chestertown was the scene of an exciting meeting on Monday night. About 125 farmers from Delaware, Cecil, Queen Anne, Talbot, Caroline, as well as from Kent County, enjoyed the show put on by the very plausible President of the Anti-Organization group. The speaker painted the record of the Organization group in lurid colors criticizing and complaining all the way. He attacked the Philadelphia Mild Code and the officials connected therwith. The Anti-Organization group has prapared a Code which, if it was possible to get it accepted by the authorities at Washington and by the distributors of milk, might give some farmers more money for their milk. Many of the speaker's points were challenged by the Organization men, but the speaker was "smooth" and always had a belittling but entertaining come-back which would lead the audience to believe that the old Organization is "black as night" while the Anti-Organization group is "lily-white" in plan and motive.

The meetng was very interesting and entertaining; however, on many points more "heat" than "light" was imparted. In spite of the vicious attack on the Basic and Surplus Plan, the speaker was unable to convince many in the audience that this is not the best means of controlling production and, therefore, price. The speaker's repartee was enjoyed, but there still remains in the minds of his hearers the thought that it is much easier to theorize than it is to execute. It would take a long time to convince many in the audience that their Milk Organization has not been and will not continue to be of inestimable value to the milk producers of the Eastern Shore. It would also be a difficult matter to convince many dairymen that the Anti-Organization Plan is practical or workable in many details. Likewise, many feel that a tried and proved Organization such as the Inter-State cannot be "swallowed whole" by a recently formed Organization fostered by malcontents.
