TO FORM CREDIT ASSOCIATION

REGIONAL PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED AT ONCE

TO SUPPLEMENT; NOT TO COMPETE WITH LOCAL BANKS

The formation of Production Credit Associations is one phase of the Government's effort to provide adequate credit facilities on short-time loans for crop or livestock production purposes. The Production Credit Association functions for short-time loans in much the same manner as does the Federal Farm Loan Association for long-time loans on farm real estate. The latter has been the most popular and most successful form of credit ever offered farmers. The new type of banking institution should be equally popular and successful. Eligible farmer-borrowers through cooperative organization secure a charter from the Farm Credit Administration. 75% of the capital stock is to furnished by Federal funds and by private investors. The common and voting stock will be owned by borrowers and persons eligible to become borrowers. Each borrower owns $5.00 worth of common stock for every $100.00, or fraction thereof, borrowed from the Association. Proceeds from the sale of capital stock are invested in Government obligations which are deposited with the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank to serve as additional security for the farmer-borrowers notes which the Association discounts with the Intermediate Credit Bank, and thus obtains its money to loan.

It is expected that the Association can loan five times as much as its capitalization. Interest charged borrowers will not exceed 6%, and may be less varying with the discount rate of the Intermediate Credit Bank.

In order that the earnings of the Association may be adequate to cover operating expenses, a Regional Production Credit Organization is to be organized at once to handle the production credit needs for the five northern counties of the Eastern Shore. The organization meeting is to be held at Easton on Friday, December 22, at 11 a. m. Meanwhile, preliminary meetings are to be held in each of the five counties to explain the set-up and functions of the new type of Banking Institution.

Meeting Here December 18

Kent's meeting will be held at the Court House Monday afternoon, December 18, at 2 p. m. A delegation to go to Easton will be selected to act as incorporators of the new Institution. From the incorporators, directors will later be chosen and a charter applied for. Prompt action will enable the Association to extend loans to qualified borrowers early in January, 1934, and as needed.

The new Credit Banks will replace others types of Federal credit extended in the form of crop loans or loans through the Regional Agricultu[illegible] Credit Corporation.

A large crowd is anticipated at the local meeting as well as at the Easton meeting.

INTER-STATE MEETING AGAIN POSTPONED

WILL PROBABLY BE HELD AFTER HOLIDAYS

The annual meeting of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association tentatively postponed to December 19, 1933, has been further postponed to a date to be fixed in accordance with the decision of the court that granted the injunction, according to word just received here.

It will be recalled that the original postponement was by reason of a bill in equity brought by two stockholders.

Since counsel representing these two stockholders would not agree upon any arrangement under which the meeting scheduled for the 19th could be held and as there has not been sufficient time to go over the records, it was necssary to postpone the meeting to some time after the holiday season, the exact date to be fixed later.

This meeting is of great importance to the milk producers of Kent County.

A VEST POCKET ESSAY ON STRANGE INTERLUDE

Most of us think a centipede with fallen arches has less trouble getting along than we do, and we yearn for the good old days. That was probably the period when Dad paid the bills, Mother did the cooking, and we had the fun. Yet, today the old scenic but dangerous curves are replacing the right angle turns and straight lines of the "boyish bob' era. "Every day in every way, 'I'm getting better and better," is becoming a national chant again. No longer is money flippantly called "chicken feed," "Mazuma," "bucks" or "jack". In fact, some folks get peevish when coin of the realm is called funny names or spoken of with disrespect. A skirt is now a noun instead of an abbreviation, and the wearer is no longer a chicken, flapper, or moll, but a girl or a lady. "Yes, we have no bananas" is a weird dream of the past, a "Technocrat" is only a name, and the blattant "Oh Yeah!" is fast fading. Men are again scratching regular matches on the seat of their pants and smoking "barnyard meerschaums" instead of tailor-made coffin nails. In many towns, the old street cleaner is back on the job, making the rounds of the hitching posts that were parking spacs before. Buying things we didn't need with money we didn't have is a past indiscretion. Since our boom era backfired on us, our burned fingers have slowly healed; our seared eyes are less cockd and soon our cracked lips will permit a happy grin without pain. It was a strange interlude of dippy, delightful, delirium—but what a headache it left.

We are relearning that opportunity knocks: it doesn't drive up, honk and invite the whole family for a joy ride, expenses paid.

Dear Editor:

Quite a few of the property owners here who rent houses, have lowered the rents on their properties; Miss Annie Newton and Captain Harry Pheiffer are two of them, and were the first to lower rents here.

In the face of unemployment and small wages, we hope other landlords will follow this fine example, as it will be a big help to the working class of people. And it will lend a hand towards bringing back prosperity and good times. Signed,

A RENTER.
