UNIFORM DRIVE BY COMMUNITY BAND

The drive for subscriptions to uniform the new members of the Community Band is now in full swing. It is not our desire to solicit for this purpose, but we are simply asking for volunteer subscriptions.

It has been necessary to order some new uniforms but in order to cut down expense as much as possible, some of the old uniforms are being altered. As the Band is a civic organization, this is a splendid opportunity to show your appreciation not only of the interest taken by the Fire Cmpany in advancing the musical education of Band Members, but for the services it renders the community in fighting fires and operating the Kent County Ambulance.

Our present leader, Prof. Louis B. Van Petten, is ready at all times to assist the new talent and to encourage the community at large to take more interest in music.

These subscrptions we ask be sent in at once in ample time for the Band to make another record appearance at the State Firemen's Convention to be held in Cambridge, Maryland, June 20th to 23rd.

All subscriptions, large or small, will be cheerfully received and can be sent or handed in person to Mr. A. L. Sparks, Chestertown, Maryland.

FIRESIDE POEMS

BY REV. J. THOMAS PRICE
Chesapeake City, Md.

The Irony of Fate

I faced the world with spirit free,
Fame smiled, and beckoned unto me;
But when the heights I failed to take,
I charged it to an unkind fate.

Fate seemed to me so strong and high,
It seemed that I could ne'er pass by;
I looked with envy on the throng,
As happily they passed along.

The bars of fate before me rose,
And seemed my progress to oppose;
But when I rose with dauntless air
To break those bars—no bars were there.

And thus I learned when not too late,
In my own hands I held my fate;
With courage to the task I flew,
So as to make my dream come true.

The Social Wanderer

Dear Roamer:

These lazy days come and go and we seem to fill them some how, but although they may be hot, it doesn't seem to stop social activities from their trend. Up around the college campus life is in a whirl, examinations over, and for those departing seniors and faculty the glorious wind-up is apace. Mrs. Gilbert Mead gave a beautiful reception Thursday afternoon for the seniors, faculty, and board of Visitors and Governors. The house was atractively decorated with spring flowers. Five of the Juniors, wearing large picture hats and organdy frocks, who assisted in receiving were the Misses. Ella Barkley, Mary Jane Neild, Catherine Kirwin, Clare Wyle and Virginia Bell.

Following the tea on Friday, this same delightful hostess entertained at dinners on Friday evening before the last dance the Commencement Ball. Monday, following commencement, last farewells will be made, and the old college campus will be a Rip Van Winkle for a few months, offering by this time next week a striking contrast to the gaiety and life of this week.

But the rest of the town must and does go on. Out side of college society, a few others have overcome the heat enough to entertain. On Wednesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Westcott celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary, with a delightful bridge party.

Mrs. Westcott received in her white satin wedding dress of 20 years ago, wearing a corsage of white roses. She looked a very charming bride, while the groom stood by, his face one big smile. We all hoped to be invited to the one when twenty more years will have rolled around.

Mrs. George Dana entertained at luncheon on Thursday at her residence on Washington Ave. and Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strong will entertain informally at bridge in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hnes. Mrs. Hines will also be the guest of honor next Tuesday at an afternoon bridge given by Mrs. Mary S. Roberts.

Another luncheon this week was given by Mrs. Clarke Grieb at their lovely home down at Deep Point, so once again, we might call this party week for the number of entertainments has surpassed the usual amount on an off holiday calendar.

Sunday, another tea will take form out at the Country Club with Mrs. James G. Metcalfe presiding. Golfers and spectators find these Sunday afternoon affairs very delightful after the heat of the June sun.

Miss Elizabeth Brown, who has been teaching in Philadelphia all winter has returned to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. H. C. Brown.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Hines have returned from a week end visit to New York where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hines.

Mrs. Albert Lieber and her children are making a short visit at Piney Grove farm as the guests of their uncle and aunts Capt. Ned Emory and the Misses Emory.

On Monday immediately after commencement, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Mead and their son, John, will leave for Meadville, the home of Alleghany College, where Dr. Mead will be presented with an honorary degree.

Among those who will come from a distance to attend the commencement exercises will be Mr. Lester Baldwin and his family, Miss Anne Welch, and Mr. Jerry Giritis, one time basket ball star at Washington College.

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard left for a month's trip to California.

Mrs. Charles Drayton and her daughter, of Washington, D. C., are guests of Miss Addie Glascock at her home on Washington Ave.

Now good friend, I must hasten away to some other duties, or else I won't have any time to ramble or roam and that would be too bad wouldn't it, for I would have no news for you next week!

Yours strolling,

The Wanderer.

Lieutenant Harry Derringer and his wife are visiting the Lieutenant's mother, Mrs. Alice Derringer. Lieutenant Derringer has been stationed on the Pacific Coast for the last three years but is now to be sent to Yorktown, Va.

Mrs. John D. Urie, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. William R. Gould in Cambridge, Md., has returned to her home in town. Mrs. Urie recently attended a meeting of the Alumnae of the Patapso School in Catonville. Although the school is no more, the alumnae have a reunion from time to time.

Mrs. Everett announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Nellie Everett to Mr. John L. Holloway, Jr., of Chestertown. Miss Everett will be married to Mr. John Holloway in the fall at the Little Church around the Corner, New York.

Mr. Arnold Mauritson, who is in the employ of the Lowell Gas Company, has been transferred from Dracut, Mass., to Stoneham, Mass. Mr. Mauritson was formerly connected with the Chestertown Gas Company. Mrs. Mauritson was formerly Mss Carrie Walters, of Chestertown.

Judge Gilpin Sutton, of Seattle, Wash., who has been visiting relatives and friends in the county, returned home on Friday morning.

Miss Marion Sterling is attending the Commencement and dance at St. Andrews Academy, Middletown, Del.

Mr. Richard Richardson, of Chestertown, graduates this week at St. Andrews Academy, DeDl.
