At The Movies

NEXT WEEK

James Dunn

Shirley Temple certainly is entitled to take a bow for her performance in "Baby, Take a Bow," which shows on Monday and Tuesday, July 9 and 10 at the New Lyceum. The work of this five year old girl is really astonishing. She possesses the grace and intelligence of a grown person and a personality that will carry her far.

In "Stand Up and Cheer!" she was delightful in a little sketch with James Dunn. In "Baby, Take a Bow," she has an important part running the full length of the picture and she turns in a truly remarkable performance. She hasn't a trace of self-consciousness. Every gesture, every line is delivered with unstudied grace. She will steal your heart as soon as she comes on the screen.

And giving all this space to little Shirley is not to belittle the performances turned in by the grownup actors in the cast. James Dunn and Claire Trevor are excellent as little Shirley's parents. Alan Dinehart has his amusing moments as the blundering detective who is dogging Dunn's heels.

The picture is a comedy-drama centering around Shirley Temple and her young parents. Its theme is James Dunn's struggle for happiness in spite of the handicap of a prison record. Claire Trevor is the young wife who believes in him. Little Shirley is their adorable baby daughter who lends merriment to the action and turns a trick in the nick of time that makes her the heroine of the drama.

Director Harry Lachman has introduced a number of refreshingly new ideas into his directorial treatment of this picture. The screen play is by Philip Klein and E. E. Paramore, Jr. John Stone produced it on the Fox lot.

By all means see Shirley Temple in "Baby, Take a Bow." It's a treat you owe yourself.

Fast fun, variety and hilarious action characterize the spontaneous film comedy "Here Comes the Groom," which plays at the New Lyceum on Wednesday and Thursday, July 11 and 12.

Jack Haley, Mary Boland, Neil Hamilton, Patricia Ellis, Isabel Jewell, Sidney Toler and Larry Gray are the principal players. Edward Sedgwick directed the film for Charles R. Rogers ndependent producer at the Paramount studios.

Trying to prove to his girl that he can be a big success in his profession, burglary, Jack Haley gets himself into quite a mixup while holding up a poker game. The cops spot him, give chase and Haley finds escape in the pullman compartment of a railroad train waiting at the station. But his troubles aren't ended here.

The compartment in which he hides belongs to a young bride, whose husband, a famous radio masked tenor, has deserted her because her father's money has suddenly disappeared. She's on her way home, and forces Haley to pose as the husband.

The bride's family, especially her nit-wit aunt, played by Mary Boland, are radio fans. Aunt Mary is "nuts" about the tenor and proceeds to have Haley sing for her. As if all this weren't enough for one man to bear, Haley finds his own sweetheart in the house, trying to steal the family jewels With this good start, the hilarious situations pile up, end over end, and the film ends with an uproarious finale.

As a special added attraction on Wednesday and Thursday, July 11 and 12 the New Lyceum will feature the official Baer-Carnera heavyweight fight films.

On Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14 the usual big double feature bill will consist of rex (the wonder horse) in "King of Wild Horses" and the action drama 'Police Car No. 17' starring Tim McCoy.

DID YOU KNOW

DID YOU KNOW, THAT:

As early as 1661 the Court of Baltimore county was held at the home of Capt. Howells, near Howell's Point, below the mouth of the Sassafras River (in Kent Co.) Says the Maryland Geological Survey, 'The jurisdiction of Baltimore county apparently covered the South shore of the Sassafras and the Eastern part of the Chester River from a point near the Eastern limits of Talbot county at that time. It thus included the present site of Chestertown and the major portion of Kent County.'

DID YOU KNOW, THAT:

Maryland was established with a dual government, each shore having a Treasurer of its own, as well as a land office a Clerk of the Court of Appeals, a Surveyor General; and was entitled to six of the fifteen members of the State Senate, onethird of the members of the House of Delegates and two of the five members of the Governors Council.

DID YOU KNOW, THAT:

In the year 1692, the 'Church of England,' was made the 'established church of the Province of Maryland.'

DID YOU KNOW, THAT:

In the year 1694 the seat of government for the Province of Maryland was removed from St. Mary's City to Annapolis, under Francis Nicholson, Governor.

CHESTERTOWN SWAMPS PRESTON

LOSES ONLY ONE POINT IN GOLF MATCH

The golf team of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club continued it string of victories last Sunday by defeating the golf team of the Preston Club 23 to 1.

This ... six straight victories for the Chestertown club having defeated Dover twice, Preston twice, Easton once, Cambridge once. There are two more matches yet to be played, Easton at Easton tomorrow, Sunday, and Cambridge at Cambridge July 14th.

The match tomorow at Easton will be the hardest game of the season although the Chestertown team has practically won the championship of the northern league. This optimistic view is based on the belief that should the local team lose one of the two matches which they have to play they will tie their nearest opponent in games won and lost, and according to the ruling in the league in case of a tie the points won and lost during the season will determine the championship; Chestertown is far ahead in points won and lost.

The winner of the Northern League will play a championship match with the wnner of the Southern League. At the present time Salisbury is leading in points won and lost in the Southern League. Should Chestertown and Salisbury play for the Shore championship the match will probably be played at Dover.

The results of last Saturday's match is as follows:

H. S. Russell and Beck, Chestertown, 3; Noble, Preston, 0.

Stenger and Stam, Chestertown, 3; Hollis, Preston, 0.

Kreeger and Corey, Chestertown, 3; Williams, Preston, 0.

Kibler and Wilmer, Chestertown, 2; Merriken, Preston 1.

Truslow and Falls, Chestertown, 3; Wright, Preston, 0.

Deringer and E. Russell, Chestertown, 3; Elzey, Preston, 0.

Collins and Fontaine, Chestertown, 3; Fleetwood and Jenkins, Preston, 0.

Metcalfe and Howell, Chestertown, 3; Blades, Preston, 0.

SQUADRON LOG

BY THE STOWAWAY

Every outboard that runs, or sometimes runs, or used to run has been entered in the Outboard Derby staged for today on the Chester River.

The Transcript went to press before the race came off, so results of the races will not appear until next week.

In the meantime, the outboard contingent are tuning up.

Tuning up is an all encompassing phrase meaning to make the old motor turn over as often and as long as possible.

As early as Tuesday, the Ford garage, and the marine-motor expert, Web Haddaway, were busy with repair jobs on outboards. Some needed only a few minutes work, some needed a few new parts, and some needed all new parts.

Eventually all of them were made to run and their owners started off to try them out.

Up and down the river they scooted. The fastest speed was not enough to satisfy the ambitions of the would be contestants. Throttles opened a bit farthur. Then, one by one, the outboard reappeared in the machine shop, victims of overly ambitious owners.

"We'll have them all ready for Saturday,' Phil Wilmer, manager of the Ford Garage promised. 'We hope to get them running, again, before Saturday, so that they will stay running.

Entries for the Derby have come from as far away as Philadelphia and Dover. On Thursday the Baltimore Sun reported the forth coming races.

It is a big little beginning of outboard motor activity on the Chester River, and much credit is due the youthful promotors. They have put in a great deal of hard work and enthusiasm.

The start off of the race will show how well the committee has planned and advertised the races. The finish won't show anything. No one can predict what an outboard motor will be. They are as temperamental as a primadonna, as tricky as a shyster lawyer, and as surprising as a chocolate covered branded cherry.

The oldest, most tuned up motor may win, and the finest new motor go blooey at the start. In the gamble of what an outboard will not do lies its fascination.

The Fourth of July as an ideal boating day, yet the Chester River was almost deserted.

Two of the cruisers left the Chester River Yacht and Country Club Wharf and two of the outboards went out for a trial run. Both of the latter broke down, and the cruisers had the river to themselves. In the evening, a speed boat dashed about.

Whether or not the very low tide was a restraining factor on boating activities, or whether baseball and firecrackers were more intriguing is hard to say. But along the river road everything on wheels paraded. All day and all evening the cars sped along. Swimmers, too, were conspicuously absent from the yacht club pier. As dark fell, along the Chester groups gathered to set off fireworks. Until nearly midnight the show continued, and the illumination and sometimes a bit of color, from the fireworks at Raskob's was visible from the Chester River Yacht Club.

SPEAKING ABOUT THE WEATHER

With the mercury reaching a new high mark for the year on Friday and Saturday of last week and continuing through the early part of this week, every one you meet says, "Its Hit," as if one has to be constantly reminded of the fact.

Mr. William T. Hicks, who is an authority on records of all kinds, says that on July 3rd last year he had a fire in his home in order to keep warm. If you prefer it a little warm to building a fire in the furnace, the hot weather is not so bad after all.

REDUCED PRICES

Make Ford V-8 an even greater value

Prices have been reduced on the Ford V-8, but there has been no change in Ford size or Ford quality. You get more value for your dollar—not a cheaper product.

Same 112-inch wheelbase
Same economical V-8 engine
Same sensational performance
Same roomy body types
Same Ford dependability

Until June 15, prices of the 1934 Ford V-8 remained unchanged. They were not raised this spring. Therefore this is a genuine price reduction.

The Ford dealers want you to know that in every detail the chassis of the regular Ford V-8 is identical to that on which the de luxe bodies are mounted; the difference is in body appointments only. Prices now as low as $505 for the car and $485 for the 131½-inch chassis truck—f. o. b. Detroit. Small down payment. Convenient, economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.
