FARMERS TOUR TO CHICAGO

EXCURSION PLANNED FOR AUGUST 12 TO 15

Following the example of the successful tour to Chicago's World Fair last year, in which nearly twenty Kent Countains joined, a similar tour is arranged for Maryland farmers by the Maryland Farm Bureau and the Extension Service.

Low rates will prevail as last year. Choice of two tours is available—one sponsored by the Maryland Farm Bureau goes August 17-21; the other sponsored by Delaware Granges and Extension Service is a few days earlier August 12-15. Both tours are mentioned so that people may choose the one most convenient for them. The Maryland Tour plan allows of three days at the Fair, while the Delaware Tour covers two days at the fair. It is probable that extra time at the Fair will be granted by the railroads conducting the Tours provided, of course, the tourist pays for the extra lodging and meals.

The Century of Progress Exposition is a wonderful display—highly educational, interesting and stimulating. No one can hope to see one fifth of the sights in two or three days, but you can see an "eyeful" of the exhibits that interest you most. Those who went last year want to go again this year. Anyone who can make this tour owes it to him or herself to do so. Doubtless there will be no other Exposition available to this generation to compare wth the Chicago Show.

Your County Agent will have full information and will help with your applications.

WANTED—Small cheap farms and homes, preferably located on the water. Make your price right and we will find you a buyer quickly. Call or address.

CHANGES AT THE POSTOFFICE

MONEY ORDER WINDOW CLOSES AT 2 P. M.

As a result of a two weeks inspection by two Federal Postoffice Inspectors a number of changes have been recommended for the purpose of economical operation of the local post office.

The changes include the rearranging of the working hours of the regular employees so as to eliminate most of the employment of the two substitute clerks, Messrs. Ralph Shinn and Clark Davis.

Mr. Shinn has been delivering the parcel post in Chestertown for a number of years, but under the new schedule, the town mail delivery service has been rearranged so that Mr. R. Lee Robinson, mail delivery clerk, delivers the parcel post in the afternoon.

So as to eliminate much of the employment of Mr. Clark Davis, substitute clerk, the money order and registry window will close at 2 p. m. every afternoon after August 4th.

No definite orders have been received as to the consolidation of the Rural Routes scheduled for August 1st, although it is thought that due to many protests, this consolidation will be postponed.

Outlines Prospects For Fall Waterfowl Hunting

PROPOSES 30 DAY SEASON---STATES TO DETERMINE DAYS

The following is an extract from a report made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

What a sportsmen of the United States can expect in the way of duck hunting in the future is a fixed season from October 1 to January 15 with the number of days of shooting varying from year to year in accordance with the abundance of waterfowl.

These are the prospects for the future outlined by J. N. Darling, chief of the Bureau of Biological Survey, following the recent annual meeting of the Advsory Board, Migratory Bird Treaty Act, in Washington.

Favoring a reduction this year in the number of hunting days because of the dminshed supply of ducks, the Board has recommended that a 30 day shooting season be permitted between October 1 and January 15, but that the time and spread of the season in each State be recommended to the Biological Survey by the State Game Department.

'This provision,' says Darling, 'cuts down the number of days that the birds may be shot, but it gives each State the privilege of suggesting its own season. A State may take 30 days consecutively. It can choose 5 consecutive days each week for 6 consecutive weeks. It can take 3 consecutive days each week for 10 consecutive weeks, or it can choose 2 consecutive days a week for 15 weeks.

The ducks are having a hard time and we had to reduce the kill of birds, but we also want to increase the sportsman's privileges if we possibly can. This was the plan we suggested. The Board discussed other plans but finally decided that the Bureau's recommendation was the best way of dealing fairly with both the birds and the sportsmen. It fixes the outside limits of the time when the birds may be taken but allows flexibility in the actual number of shootng days so that these may be increased or decreased each season in acordance with the abundance of the ducks.'

The Advisory Board also recommended that the baiting of waterfowl in the vicinity of a shooting stand or blind be prohibited except under permits to be issued without charge by the Secretary of Agriculture. Permits would be limited, according to the Board's recommendation, to use at stands or blinds where baiting is not abused and is not unduly destructive to the birds or where insufficient natural food makes baiting or feeding dsirable. The Board also recommended strengthening of the regulation which prohibits the baiting of mourning doves.

Hours of shooting, according to the Board's recommendations would extend from sunrise to sunset on each day of the season, thus cutting out the shooting formerly permitted for a half hour before sunrise. It would also permit shooting to begin at sunrise on the opening day instead of at noon as previous regulation. The daily bag limit, it was recommended, should remain at 12 for ducks in the aggregate and limited to 5 for birds of certain species which need this additional protection. The list of fully protected waterfowl, in the Board's judgement, should remain the same.

With regard to zones within the States, it was learned upon inquiry at the Biological Survey, the Board adopted a resolution recommending that when in the discretion of the Biological Survey the equitable distribution of shooting could best be obtained by zoning, the Bureau be authorized to do so in cooperation with the State Game Department.' Under the new provision permitting State Game Departments to select the shooting days, Mr. Darling pointed out, however, that a need for a Federal zoning for individual States is much less likely to occur.

The Advisory Board, appointed by the Secretary to represent sportsmen and conservationists from all regions of the United States, met on July 11 and 12. Its recommendations were adopted in an executive session following an open session during which experts of the Biological Survey graphically preseted a report on the status of migratory waterfowl in North America.

Based upon the most intensive and widespread waterfowl investigations ever undertaken, it demonstrated conclusively that the waterfowl population has decreased seriously. As a remedy, Chief Darling presented a program of restoration, including the conservation of an adequate breeding stock, a stricter enforcement of protective laws and regulations, and the provision of sanctuaries as nesting, wintering, and feeding grounds.

'It was clear,' says Mr. Darling 'that the members of this Board were convinced that we are facing a critical duck situation. We have a hard job on our hands, but the enthusiasm shown by these sportsmen and conservationists is a big inspiration. We expect to have about 8 1-2 million dollars to devote to the restoration of wild fowl areas. There are a lot of strings on some of these funds, but if the sportsmen and conservationists of the country respond the way the members of their Board did, we are going to succeed in our restoration program.'

Wallace Studies Game Bird Hunting Recommendations

The recommendations on hunting migratory game birds which were announced yesterday by the Advisory Board, Migratory Bird Treaty Act, and concurred in by the Bureau of Biological Survey, were received this morning by Secretary Wallace. The Secretary stated that he would study the Board's report at the earliest opportunity and would then make his recommendations to the President.

WHEAT BONUS PLAN TO CONTINUE

"The A. A. A. announces that the Wheat Production Control plan will be contiued practically unchanged next year," states County Agent McVean.

The benefit payments per bushel will remain at twenty-nine cents (29c) to the farmer while the processing tax remains at thirty cents (30c) per bushel.

The percentage cut in acreage will be no more than 15 per cent and may be less depending on the outcome of the Inter-National Wheat Conference. Definite annoucement will be made in August.

Each day it becomes more and more apparent that the holders of a wheat contract is fortunate.(It is true that some people contend that Nature's control measure is more efficient than the A. A. A. plan. That may be true, but Nature's plan is far harsher and more severe than the A. A. A. plan. Certainly it is better to distribute the production control over the whole county than to have the entire crop in large sections destroyed by nature. It is hard for use to realize and appreciate the effects of Nature's ruthless reduction on women and children to say nothing of the loss of farms, etc. Possibly, also we do not appreciate how much the "crop income" insurance feature of the A. A. A. control plan will mean to the drought suffers. Certainly the sufferers will look upon the benefit payments a God send. Twenty-nine cents ($.29) per bushel on fifty-four percent of the average crop (1930-'31 & '32 crops in some cases and 1928 '32 crops in others) means millions of dollars of income to neutralize Nature's ruthless production control plan. Copérative team work in reduction as in other effort is powerfuul, gentle, efficient and constructive.

JAPANESE BEETLES INCREASES

OVER 200 CAUGHT IN CHESTERTOWN

Although it has not nearly reached a point where it may be considered alarming, never the less Japanese Beetle are gradually increasing in Chestertown.

The report as of Wednesday showed a total of 200 beetles caught, most of which were caught on Washington Avenue. In a trap on the lawn of Mr. Frank Turner a total of 45 beetles have been caught.

The traps, which have been placed in all parts of the town, contain a compound which attracts the insects over a radus of 100 yards.

In this area, Sudlersville leads with a total of 400 beetles caught to date.

LOCAL BOAT RESCUED IN BAY

The Aurorer, local freight boat became disabled Monday night enroute from Chestertown to Baltimore when the rudder cable snapped.

Being heavily loaded with wheat Captain Charles Capel was unable to keep her bow into the seas and water started coming aboard. At 1 a. m. he signaled the Love Point ferry and Captan Wash Woodal went to his rescue and towed him into Baltimore. Captain Capel was taken to a hospital suffering from strained mussels which he suffered in his successful effort to keep his ship afloat.

TAKING A LOAD OFF DAD'S MIND

The head of the house was reading a newspaper article very carefully. Presently he remarked to his wife: "Do you know, dear, I think there is something in what this article says—that the cleverness of the father often proves a stumbling-block to the son.'

His wife heaved a sigh of relief. 'Well, thank goodness,' she said, 'our Bobby won't have anything to fall over.'

—Margaret Jefferson is advertising a 25 per cent. discount on dresses on page 4 of this issue. You had better take a look at the offer.

—Watch out for bad money. On Monday of this week Cashier Melvin of the Millington Bank caught a bad ten dollar bill as it was going in for deposit. The depositor received the money for the sale of some live-stock in Delaware and efforts are being made to trace the oringinal passer. Watch this plate on $10 bills. E 09606100 A Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Plate No. A-25. The bill is an almost perfect and Mr. Melvin noticed it by the fact that it felt waxy. On close examination it was found to be counterfeit. Doc. Sterling was already to make change for it so you know it must be a good imitation.

—Dr. William H. Moyer will close his office on August 22nd to Sept. 5th inclusive. Dr. Moyer will spend that time at Davenport, Iowa, where he will take a review course in Chiropractic work, so as to return with lots of new ideas and latest methods of adjusting the spinal column.

—No sire there are no typographical errors. There is a free crab feast at Millington on July 25th. See the particulars in advertisement on page 8.

—Mr. Howard Strong has entered the 'Mayflower' his famous sailing log canoe in races to be held at St. Michaels on August 3rd and 4th and at the Baltimore races in Baltimore on Aug. 9th, 10th and 11th. Mr. Simon Westcott this Saturday will take his boat the 'Half Pint' from the Yacht Club pier at Chestertown to his summer home on the Sassafras river. Mr. Pyle from across the bridge has purchased from Mr. Coleman, of Crumpton his thirty foot cruiser and has put it in first class shape. The Havre de Grace Regatta is on this Friday and Saturday. A large number of boats are in attendance. For other interesting boating information turn to page two.

—The Corinthian Yacht Club are holding their Star Boat races this week end at Betterton, Md. The club has its headquarters at the Hotel Betterton.

—When Mr. H. T. Hartman came home from Florida this year, he brought Katherine Strong a baby alligator. The alligator escaped from his pen in the Strong yard on Thursday. On Sunday some crabbers, crabbing in the middle of Chester River caught him. The alligator is now in Pennsylvania but efforts will be made to get him back. Baby Alligator did pretty good travelling from the Strong yard to the middle of the river unassisted.

—Mrs. Jennie B. Waland on Thursday of this week received a cablegram from Gov. Ritchie who is vacationing in Europe. The message wished Mrs. Whaland the best of health and stated that Gov. Ritchie was feeling fine.

Mr. Dave Kendall, retired mail carrier went back into service this week. A friend of his who had no license to drive the parcel post truck was asigned the job and Mr. Dave helped him out. Patrons of the post office have already shown a distaste for the new regulations. See changes in post office on page 1.

—The Rock Hall Cannery opened this week canning tomatoes. They have contracts for tomatoes at 20 cents

—When you call up the Park Cleaners Dyers, don't ever ask, 'Are you coming down this way any time soon or today?' Just say 'I have something to be cleaned and I would like you to come and get it.' They make a specialty of call and delivery service and are glad to come any time during the day. See adv. on page 4.

—Although there are seven announced candidates for office in Kent County, to date none have filed with the Board of Election Supervisors. This must be done 20 days before the primary election date.

—Aunt Charlotte Yorker, aged colored character of Chestertown celebrated her 102 birthday last Sunday.

—Believe it or not but rain stopped a ball game at Hopewell on Thursday afternoon and residents of Chestertown had no idea it was raining. The ball game was between Dave McCauley's Chesapeake Beverage boys and the employees of the American Stores. Rain halted the game in the 5th inning with the American Stores one run ahead.

—Talk about advertising Chestertown and Washington College. Truslow Brothers sent out this week 22,000 copies of their poultry paper through the local post office and they reach every State in the Union. The total circulation of this issue will probably be over 35,000. It contains an article on fake poultry remedies and is the only paper to publish this article with the exception of a poultry science magazine which has less than a thousand circulation. It also contains a picture of President Roosevelt receiving a degree at Washington College.

—The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company was called to the farm of Mr. Frank Harris in Quaker Neck on Thursday afternoon of this week. While threshing wheat the straw stack caught afire. It is not known how the fire started as it started on the opposite side of the stack from the thresher. One surmise is that someone smoking might have let a cigarette fall in the thresher and it as blown out and set fire to the straw. The men pulled the thresher away from the fire.

—This week the Mayor and Town Council are publishing the ordinance prohibiting trucks using Water Street. The adv. is on page 7.

—The Park Row Beauty Shoppe will be closed from July 30th to August 11. See adv. page 6.

—Mr. John C. Smith, of Queen Annes county, for many years a resident of Kent county celebrated his 70 birthday last Sunday with a turkey dinner at his home near Chestertown. Among those who attended besides his immediate family were: Mr. and Mrs. McTurk and and family, of New Jersey; Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, of Ridgely Park, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Lester Spry and son of Ingleside. Mr. Hopper Smith and Irving Smith and son. Mr. and Mrs. Hackett Emerson and children, of Chestertown; and two sisters from New Jersey, Mrs. Nettie Sill and Mrs. Cora Burns.

—Another large crowd attended the floor show held this Thursday night at the Betterton Casino. The show was very good featuring Dian and Eddie. Local talent also contributed to make the show a success. This is one of the best entertainment features in the county. The Betterton Casino has a full week of entertainment for next week. See adv. elsewhere in this issue.

—Wheat reached a new high price Friday when local buyers were offering 89 cents a bushel. The price has been climbing stadily during the past two weeks.

Residents in various parts of town are complaining that they can not have the bell when the town water is shut off to make repaire.

PROTEST BEER LICENSE

As a result of objections to the issuance of a beer license to Mr. Edward Blackway to dispense beer at the bowling Alley on Cannon Street a hearing was held at the Court House on Monday afternoon before the State Liquor Control Board.

The objection was signed by eighteen residents living in that section of the town, who testfied at the hearing. The Board had made no ruling at the time of going to press.

DEMOCRATIC POLITICS

The only real development in local politics this week is the announcement that the Kent County Farm Bureau will not have a ticket this fall. A rumor had been circulated around the county that that organization would have a full ticket and some people took it seriously. In an interview with Mr. James Davis, secretary for the Farm Bureau he said: 'The Kent County Farm Bureau is a non partison organization and is not interested in political jobs or political control. We are, however, nterested in good government, but we will not, as an organization, take any part in State or County politics.'

As to a Democratic ticket in the county there is nothing definite to publish. The two factions are still jockeying as to a division of the ticket and although some of the major problems have been ironed out there is a deadlock on some of the minor problems. Most of those interested in local Democratic politics on both factions are heartily in favor of avoiding a major primary in the county in the interest of the Democratic party and believe that a fair division of the political offices can be arranged.

As to State politicos, Governor Ritchie is in Europe but his friends and backers are conducting an active campaign throughout the State. Although there are numerous rumors that Jackson or Conley will drop out of the race, there is no evidence that either will quit as they are both still conducting an active campaign. As to who will line up with the various candidates for the State ticket is still n daubt. Even the U. S. Senatorship is still open on at least two of the tickets, the only definitely announced candidate being Mr. George Radcliffe who dropped out of the Governorship race to aspire for that office.

PROPOSE DEEPENING C. & D. CANAL

WOULD MAKE INLAND WATERWAY FOR OCEAN GOING VESSELS

Washington, July 14.—The allocation of 312,500,000 out of the $400,000,000 Public Works funds provided at the last session of Congress for improvement of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal was urgently requested by Representative Goldsborough (Dem., Md.) at a conference yesterday with Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior and PWA Administrator, it was revealed today.

Mr. Goldsborough said that, as a matter of fact if funds are made available to increase the depth of the canal to twenty seven feet and its width to 250 feet it would give employment to approximately 3,000 people for about two years and thereby relieve much unemployment.'

Deep Waterway Stressed

Mr. Goldsborough, stressing the importance of making the canal a deep sea waterway, said that 'from a larger view it is a matter of nation wide interest because of its necessity for national defense. Also because it would complete a very important link in the East Coats inland waterway system.'

The proposal for making the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal available for ocean going vessels has been urged by Maryland members of Congress and the Baltimore Association of Commerce, and has been backed by shipping and commercial interest of thirteen States.

Agencies Approve Proposal

The proposal has been approved by all agencies of the Federal Government having to do with the matter, including the divisional engineer, district engineer, the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, the chief of engineers, the Secretary of War and the Rivers and Harbor Committee of the House.

The modernization of the canal would not only greatly benefit the port of Baltimore, but Philadelphia, Wilmington and New York, and also Norfolk, Va. All of these interests are backing the proposal.

WORK RELIEF FOR W. C. STUDENTS

WILL AFFORD EDUCATION FOR 30 STUDENTS

Washington College students will profit to the extent of nearly $4,000 next session by the College's participation in the work plan of the Federal Emergency Relief Emergency Administration, according to an announcement made by President Gilbert W. Mead. Official notice has just been received by President Mead from State Administrator Harry Greenstein, and Harry Hopkins, Federal Administrator, that the part time job plan which was tried during the latter part of last year will be continued and extended for the school year 1934-35.

Work provided by the College will be paid for by the Relief Administration at a minimum rate of thirty cents an hour, making it possible for the students to each earn between $125 and $150 during the year. The number of students to be helped has been raised above the allotment of last Spring, and at least half the appointments must be made to new students. The allotment is divided between young men and young woman according to the proportion of each in the student body.

Between February and June of the year just closed, 24 Washington College students were aided to the extent of nearly $1500, and the enlarged program will provide a considerable extension of the plan this session.
