Arthur H. Brice, of Betterton., candidate for Senator is a farmer. He is a graduate of Washington College, and a life-long Democrat. He has served as President of the Board of County Commissioners which particularly acquaints him with the needs and problems of the county. He has served two terms in the Maryland Legislature through which he has gained an unusual knowledge of the Legislative routine and particularly fits him to ably represent Kent County in the Maryland Senate. His reputation and life in this community is beyond reproach.

Roy Strong, of Gratitude, candidate for the Maryland House of Delegates. Mr. Strong is a farmer with an unusual knowledge of the problems of the watermen. He is a man held in the highest esteem by the people of his community and is fully qualified to represent Kent County in the Legislature.

Wilbur Ross Hubbard, of Chestertown, candidate for the Maryland house of Delegates. He is a lawyer, a graduate of Yale and Georgetown Universities. Aside from his legal practice he has managed a number of farms in this locality during which time he has taken an active interest in various farm organizations and has been an active worker for those things which have greatly benefitted agriculture in Kent County.

Leonard C. Wilson, of Millington, candidate for Clerk of the court. Mr. Wilson is a merchant and farmer. He has served for the past four years as President of the Board of County Commissioners in which position he has made an enviable record and displayed an unusual business knowledge which particularly fits him for the position which he seeks.

Samuel C. Loller, of Worton, candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. Loller is one of Kent County's most successful farmers. He is a member of the Board of County Commissioners and with Mr. Wilson and Mr. Charles Wood has successfully managed the affairs of the county for the past four years and through economical administration has brought about a substantial reduction in the county tax rate.

Ellsworth C. Leary, of Rock Hall, candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. Leary is a man of unusual business ability and has interested himself in all civic enterprises that have benefitted his community in which he lives. He is serving his second term as Mayor of Rock Hall, he is President of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce and President of the Maryland Waterman's Protective Association. He was selected as head of these various organization due to his ability to successfully lead in carrying out their objections.

Andrew W. Wilson, of Georgetown, candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. Wilson is a farmer and successfully manages a number of farms in his locality. He is a waterman and has taken the lead in working toward their interests. His business ability fits him for the office which he seeks.

Walter E. Morris, Jr., of near Chestertown, candidate for treasurer. He is a farmer, a graduate of Washington College, a leader in local farm organizations and one of the pioneers in 4-H Club work in the county. He has offered his services in the Maryland National Guard and risen to the rank of Supply Sargeant. He is a young man who enjoys an enjovable reputation in the county and is fully capable of the trust of the office which he seeks.

Dr. E. A. Scott, of Galena, candidate for Judge of the Orphans' Court. Dr. Scotts record as Chief Judge of that court is sufficient to assure him of re-election without opposition.

George R. Rasin, of Kennedyville, candidate for Judge of the Orphans' Court. Mr. Rasin is a retired farmer and has served one year as a Judge in that court having been appointed to succeed Judge Groves, which experience fits and entitles him to election to that office.

Harry Stavely, of Fairlee, candidate for Judge of the Orphans' Court. Mr. Stavely has spent his entire life as a farmer and is regarded as one of our best agriculturalists. He i a man of good judgment, honest and well equipped for a judge of the Orphans' Court, and deserves the support of the Democratic voters of the county.

WILLIAM MASON SHEHAN, CANDIDATE FOR CHIEF JUDGE OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF MARYLAND.

Mr. Shehan is an eminent lawyer and has had conferred upon him most of the distinctions that can be accorded to a member of his profession. He has been President of the Maryland State Bar Association, a Member of the American Institute of Law, a Member of the Judicial Council of Maryland, President of the Talbot County Bar Association, Member of the American Bar Association, and has served upon many commissions appointed for the purpose of giving consideration to matters of great legal importance in which the people of the State are interested, including the Reorganization of the Departmental Government of the State, the Committee to reform the Criminal procedure of Maryland, looking toward speedy trials in the administration of justice in Criminal causes. Such honors have been without compensation but have been in recognition of his superior ability as a lawyer and as a public servant. Although his services have extended over a period of more than thirty years, this is the first time that Mr. Shehan has ever been a candidate for an elective office.
