THE PRIMARY IS OVER, and the above named men are the selection of the Democratic party of the county as candidates for the various offices and will represent that party in the general election on November 6th. From observation in all parts of the county, the primary was marked by good, clean competition and the lack of bitterness which points to a harmonious effort to elect the entire ticket.

THROUGH THE EFFORTS of various organizations of the county, Chestertown has been the center of social and sporting activities. The flower show today is attracting flower lovers from many neighboring counties, and the open golf tournament Sunday will draw players from all parts of Maryland and Delaware. The fact that Chestertown won the Peninsula golf championship last Sunday, and the amateure championship which was held over Labor Day, all bear out the fact that Kent County is a very desirable place in which to live.

NEWYORKER BUYS WATER FRONT HOME

Mr. Harry A. Grine, of White Plains, N. Y., purchased from Mrs. L. M. C. Smyth, the Porter property, located on the Chesapeake Bay and Huntingfield Creek, on concrete road to Eastern Neck Island, delightfully located as to sea foods, wildfowl gunning; tract contains 148 acres, with 100 acres arable land, fine type of fertile soil.

Mr. Grine, has arranged to bring his family to Chestertown, has already rented one of our residences, which the family will occupy while he rebuilds and make many improvements on his desirable Bay Side Home.

Mr. Grine comes to us well recommended, he is consulting engineer, to the nationally known house of Chase and Warren at 17 East 42nd street, N. Y. City. Kent welcomes Mr. Grine and his family to our shores, and hopes he will induce others of his type to buy homes here and abide with us. The sale was consummated through the real estate brokers, Treherne Associates.

WILL RIDE TOURNAMENT HERE

TO BE HELD ON JULIAN JONES FARM SEPTEMBER 29

The old fashioned Tournament will be revived, after an elapse of 25 years, in Kent County, Maryland, on Saturday September 29, at 1 p. m. when the Sacred Heart Parish of Chestertown will hold one on the farm of Julian Jones.

Riders from Kent, Queen Annes and Talbot counties have thus far notified the Committee that they will ride. The Knights will be divided into two classes, the Amateur and the Professional. Cash prizes will be awarded the Knights. As a special feature there will be a class for the ladies.

The ladies of the Sacred Heart Church of Chestertown will serve supper on the grounds.

The Committee is arranging to have the course laid out so that knights may practice and train their horses.

Post entries will be accepted but it is requested that the knights notify the Committee so that all names will be on the Program.

The Messick brothers of Cordova will lead the Talbot County delegation which means that some excellent horsemanship and skill will be seen. These men have been riding in tournaments all summer and are usually among the winners.
