WEDDINGS

POWER—ZEITLINGER

Dr. and Mrs. Julian T. Power announces the marriage of their daughter, Blanche Woodland to Mr. Henry P. Zeitlinger, of New York.

The wedding took place on Monday September 3, 1934, at Nyach, N. Y.

STATTS—NICKERSON

Miss Marian E. States and Mr. Samuel R. Nickerson, of near Chestertown, were married at Fairlee Wednesday, September 5, 1934, by Rev. S. T. Hamblin and Rev. G. H. Cooke. The only witnesses were the groom's sister, Miss Grace V. Nickerson and Mr. and Mrs. James G. Middleton.

The Social Wanderer

DEAR ROAMER

Now that the election is over with for awhile, Regattas, having run their courses, Golf teams beaten, with passers-by gazing at the retained mahogany plaque in Stam's drug store won by our boys, the Flower Show at the Armory fills much place. At this writing, the event has not come off, and I will have to save my impressions for next week. However, it promises to be a very nice affair with a Fashion Show as a feature on Friday evening. Our eyes will see what SHOULD be worn, while our pocket books pressed flat in our hands and pockets, will remind us what CAN be worn. Old Lady Temptation will simply strut in our midst and yet, I certainly expect to be right on hand and try to vie Old Man Will-Power with her. I haven"t heard who all the models will be, but I do know a few. Mrs. Wm .T. Dixon, Mrs. C. Beck Jones, Mrs. James Chapman, Mrs. Harry Williams, Miss Betty Thibodeau and Mrs. Allan B. Harris are some who will show us just what is what. Mrs. Jesse Maxwell, who is the General Chairman, will have as her guests for the week end, Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, and Mrs. Harlan Johnson, of Baltimore. While all this is going on Friday evening, members of the younger crowd will be attending a movie party, given by Miss Minnie Massey and Mrs. P. A. M. Broks for Phil Brooks, Jr., and Thomas Massey, Jr., their two nephews. Miss Nellie Lockwood, of Middletown, Del., came Wednesday to be the guest of Miss Massey for awhile. On Thursday evening Mrs. James G. Beck gave a small bridge party in honor of Miss Lockwood.

We are happy to welcome several other guests in town this week, also. Miss Ellen Adair (isn't that a pretty name?) is the guest of Miss Elizabeth Brown. On Thursday evening, Mrs. Phil Wilmer entertained informally at bridge in honor of Miss Adair.

Lewin Wickes, Jr., is host to two of his friends this week. Miles Kirkpatrick, son of Judge Kirkpatrick, of Easton, came Thursday, and Mr. Larry York Erskine arrived Friday. I am sure you know of Mr. Erskine for he is so dear to all boys' hearts as the author of the delightful Canadian Northwest stories and creator of the famous character, 'Renfew.' On Friday evening, Mrs. Wickes will entertain at dinner in honor of Mr. Erskine.

Mr. Horace Beck, was wished a very happy birthday on Tuesday of this week by some of his friends, when his daughter, Mrs. C. Beck Jones, gave a surprise party in honor of the occasion. 'Uncle Horace' as he is so generaliy known, has many friends, and I am sure the unseen audience wish him hearty, tho' belated, greetings at this time.

Mrs. Harry Simpers has been visiting in Washington this week, but has returned. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Barroll, who have been staying up at Kinderhook, Hudson, N. Y., have returned also. Mr. and Mrs. James Chapman, having been guests of Mrs. Frank Simin Belfast, Maine. While I am on a parapers, returns Saturday, to their home graph of returns, Bessie Dixon, motored to Canada with her grandmother, Mrs. Isaac T. Dixon from their camp in Adirondacks, but will shortly join her mother, Mrs. Wm. T. Dixon, at Green Point Farm. Mrs. Frank Connelly, who has been spending a month with her sister, Mrs. Jeffries Horsefield, of East Orange, N. J., has returned.

The former Miss Blanche Power was married on Labor Day to Mr. Henry P. Zeitlinger. This comes as an interesting surprise to her many friends here.

But all returns are not made for home, at this time of the year. The call of schools and colleges is sounding the trumpet far and wide. I honestly haven't a list of those who are leaving us, so will simply mention three or four who happen to come in my mind. Phil Broks, Jr., will go back to McDonough, Bill Dixon to Gilman's, Elizabeth Fontaine to Hood, which college, has Peggy Wilson as a new comer, and Frederica Metcalfe has gone to St. Mary's Seminary to begin her higher learning in that old and renowned School.

On Monday, Mrs. Lewin Wickes will leave for Hosham near Bethlehem, Pa., to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Meckling, of Riverton, N. J., who will entertain a house party in their log cabin situated at the foot hills of the Poconos.

Mrs. Henry Beck, her son and daughter, have been guests this week of Mrs. C. Beck Jones, but as far as I know, my store of news ends right here, so more anon. Yours rambling,

THE WANDERER.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Hartman, of Pennsylvania, were visitors in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gibbs, of near Allentown, Pa., visited in town part of this week.

Mrs. T. G. Wroth, Mrs. Gurley, Dr. Blackiston and Miss Anna Wroth motored to Boston last week and spent several days in Cambridge. They returned to Chestertown on Tuesday. Dr. Wroth leaves today for Georgia Tech in Atlanta, where he has been Prof. of Chemistry for a number of years.

The Kellogg Smith School, Comegy's Bight, Quaker Neck, will have Paul W. T. Pippin, who recently graduated at Washington College, as an instructor for the coming year. Mr. Pippin has served there as a counsellor at the summer camp.

We are sorry to relate that Dr. E. Clarke Fontaine, supervisor of high schools on the Eastern Shore, was operated on last Monday at the Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore.

WILLIAM S. COLLINS

At last it has happened. The sale of whiskies, cordials, wines and gins went on sale in Chestertown legally last Saturday night. Mr. Alex Herzberg who conducts a grocery store at the corner of College Ave. and High Street applied for and obtained a liquor license through the proper channels. There were no objections to his application.

This makes the 5th liquor store in the county. Two being located at Rock Hall, one at Still Pond, one near Kennedyville and now one in Chestertown. The cost of a license is $250.00.

If you never touch the vile stuff all good and well. But, if you do use the 'O Be Joyful' once in a while it is your duty as a law abiding citizen to buy it legally.

Circus day in Chestertown drew a tremendous crowd. The tent was packed. Usually at the circuses the colored people turn out in full force. This time however 1800 went on the annual excursion to Annapolis. If they had been home the crowd could not have been accomodated.

There has been some talk of the Eastern Shore having a representative on the State Roads Commission. After looking at the election results, just what do you think the chances are now.

Gov. Ritchie received a slap in the face from Kent County when he lost in the primary here by over 400 votes. Chestertown redeemed itself by giving a majority. Chestertown was picked as headquarters of the State Roads Commission and he has been a good friend to Washington College besides helping the county in many other ways. Chestertown at least appreciated the fact.

Last Saturday I thought a fairy good mother had paid me a visit after reading the circular about the three newspapers. But when I reached in my pocket and found only fifty cents I came to the sad relization that the author of the letter must have been suffering with a brain storm.

Something that should not be overlooked is the fine service Miss Hicks' Chestertwn's night telephone operator gave on Wednesday night and the wee hours of Thursday morning.

S. Scott Beck's office resembled an arithmetic class election night. The class lasted until about nine or ten o'clock Thursday morning. Addition and subtraction was the subject. It must have been about 250 sums we had to do.
